4½ To the widow or widower if there be three or more children sixty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of [fifteen] sixteen dollars and fifty cents per week

5 If there be neither widow widower nor children entitled to compensation then to the father or mother if dependent to any extent upon the employe at the time of the accident twenty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of five dollars and fifty cents per week Provided however That in the case of a minor child who has been contributing to his parents the dependency of said parents shall be presumed and Provided further That if the father or mother was totally dependent upon the deceased employe at the time of the accident the compensation payable to such father or mother shall be forty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of [ten] eleven dollars per week

6 If there be neither widow widower children nor dependent parent entitled to compensation then to the brothers and sisters if actually dependent to any extent upon the decedent for support at the time of his death fifteen per centum of wages for one brother or sister and five per centum additional for each additional brother or sister with a maximum of twenty-five per centum such compensation to be paid to their guardian or if there be no guardian to such other person as may be designated by the board as hereinafter provided

7 Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid reasonable expense of burial not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars which shall be paid by the employer or insurer directly to the undertaker (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expense)

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child brother or sister only if and while such child brother and sister is under the age of sixteen No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support Provided however That no compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow not living with her deceased husband at the time of his death who has not received actual contributions from him within three years prior thereto or to a widow who had not been living with her deceased husband at any time during the period of five years prior to his death No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support The terms "child" and "children" shall include stepchildren and adopted children and children to whom he stood in loco parentis if members of decedent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe due or remarry or should the widower become capable of self-support the right of such dependent or widower to compensation under this section shall cease Provided however That upon remarriage of any widow other than a nonresident alien widow the compensation of such widow shall continue as hereinbefore provided for one-third of the period during which compensation then remains payable to her If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed [twenty-four] twenty-six dollars and forty cents per week nor be less than [twelve] thirteen dollars and twenty cents per week

This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of three hundred weeks until such child reaches the age of sixteen at the rate of seventeen and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of [three] four dollars and [seventy-five] fifteen cents per week if there be one child twenty-seven and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of six dollars and [twenty-five] ninety cents per week if there be two children thirty-eight and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of [eight] nine dollars and [seventy-five] sixty-five cents per week if there be three children fifty per centum of wages but not in excess of [eleven] twelve dollars and [twenty-five] forty cents per week if there be four children fifty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of [twelve] thirteen dollars and [fifty] seventy-five cents per week if there be five children and sixty per centum of wages but not in excess [thirteen] fifteen dollars and [seventy-five] fifteen cents per week if there be six children or more The board may if the best interests of a child or children shall so require at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a child or children or to a widow or widower on account of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as hereinafter provided may direct If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe or dependent on whose account compensation is payable the amount payable on account of such minor dependent or insane employe or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other person as the board may order and direct and the board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependent to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure the proper application of the moneys received by such person

Section 308 Except as hereinafter provided all compensation payable under this article shall be payable in periodical installments as the wages of the employe were payable before the accident

Section 309 Wherever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensed under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident and shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall it include amounts deducted by the employer under the contract of hiring labor furnished or paid for by the employer and necessary for the performance of such contract by the employe but shall include board and lodging received from the employer Whenever the employe receives board and lodging as a part of his wages the board shall be rated at fifty cents per day and board together with lodging shall be rated at one dollar per day for the purpose of computing wages In seasonal occupations the employe's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employe in which case the period for calculation shall be extended so far to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings In continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by the day or hour or by the output of the employe his weekly wages shall be taken to be [five and one-half] four times his average earnings at such rate for a working day and using as a basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer Provided however That if the employe regularly and habitually worked more than [five and one-half] four days per week the weekly wage shall be found by multiplying his average earnings for working day by five five and one-half six six and one-half or seven according to the customary number of working days constituting an ordinary week in his occupation or trade Where the employe is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation

In cases where the employe has been in the employ of the employer less than one full week and by reason of the shortness of time during which the employe has been in the employment of the employer or the nature or terms of the employment it is impracticable to ascertain the average weekly wages as hereinbefore provided the average weekly amount which during the six months previous to the injury has been earned by other persons employed by the same employer under similar contracts of hiring or if there are no persons so employed by other persons employed by other employers under similar contracts of hiring under similar conditions shall be taken as the basis for the ascertainment of the weekly wages of such employe

Section 310 Compensation under this article to alien dependent widows and children not residents of the United States shall be two-thirds of the amount provided in each case of residents and the employer may at any time commute all future installments of compensation payable to alien dependents not residents of the United States by paying to such alien dependents the then value thereof calculated in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and sixteen of this article Alien widowers parents brothers and sisters not residents of the United States shall not be entitled to any compensation

Non-resident alien dependents may be officially represented by the Consular officers of the nation of which such alien or aliens may be citizens or subjects and in such cases the Consular officers shall have the right to receive for distribution to such non-resident alien dependents all compensation awarded hereunder and the receipt of such Consular Officers shall be a full discharge of all sums paid to and received by them

Section 311 Unless the employer shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of the injury or unless the employe or some one in his behalf or some of the dependents or some one in their behalf shall give notice thereof to the employer within fourteen days after the accident no compensation shall be due until such notice be given or knowledge obtained but if the employe or other beneficiary shall show that his delay in giving notice was due to his mistake or ignorance of fact or of law or to his physical or mental inability or to fraud misrepresentation or deceit or to any other reasonable cause or excuse then compensation shall be allowed unless the employer shall show that he did not know and by reasonable diligence could not have learned of the accident and that he was prejudiced by the delay in which case he shall be relieved to the extent of such prejudice and unless such knowledge be obtained or notice given within ninety days after the occurrence of the injury no compensation shall be allowed

Section 312 The notice referred to in section three hundred and eleven hereof shall be substantially in the following form

To (name of emplyoer)

You are hereby notified that an injury of the following character (.....) was suffered by (name of employe injured) who was in your employment at (place) while engaged as (kind of employment) on or about the ( ) day of ( ) Anno Domini ( ) and that compensation will be claimed therefor

Date Signed ( )

But no variation from this form shall be material if the notice be sufficient to inform the employer that a certain employe by name received an injury the character of which is described in ordinary language in the course of his employment on or about a time specified and at or near a place specified

Section 313 The notices referred to in section three hundred and two and section three hundred and eleven hereof may be served personally upon the employer or upon the manager or superintendent in charge of the works or business in which the accident occurred or by sending them through the registered mail to the employer at his or its last known residence or place of business or if the employer be a corporation either foreign or domestic then upon the president vice-president secretary or treasurer thereof Knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of any of said agents shall be the knowledge of the employer

Section 314 At any time after an injury the employe if so requested by his employer must submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place to a physician or physicians legally authorized to practice under the laws of such place who shall be selected and paid by the employer If the employe shall refuse upon the request of the employer to sumbit to the examination by the physician or physicians selected by the employer the Board may upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit to an examination at a time and place set by it and by the physician or physicians selected and paid by the employer or by a physician or physicians designated by it and paid by the employer and if the employe shall without reasonable cause or excuse disobey or disregard such order he shall be deprived of his right to compensation under this article The Board may at any time after such first examination upon petition of the employer order the employe to submit himself to such further examinations as it shall deem reasonable and necessary at such times and places and by such physicians as it may designate and in such case the employer shall pay the fees and expenses of the examining physician or physicians and the reasonable traveling expenses and loss of wages incurred by the employe in order to submit himself to such examination The refusal or neglect without reasonable cause or excuse of the employe to submit to such examination ordered by the Board either before or after an agreement or award shall deprive him of the right to compensation under this article during the continuance of such refusal or neglect and the period of such neglect or refusal shall be deducted from the period during which compensation would otherwise be payable

The employe shall be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection to be paid by him participate in any examination requested by his employer or ordered by the Board

Section 315 In cases of personal injury all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within [one year] two years after the accident the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation payable under this article or unless within [one year] two years after the accident one of the parties shall have filed a petition as provided in article four hereof In cases of death all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within one year after the death the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation under this article or unless within one year after the death one of the parties shall have filed a petition as provided in article four hereof [Where however payments of compensation have been made in any case said limitations shall not take effect until the expiration of one year from the time of the making of the last payment]

Section 316 The compensation contemplated by this article may at any time be commuted by the Board at its then value when discounted at five per centum interest with annual rests disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death upon application of either party with due notice to the other if it appear that such commutation will be for the best interest of the employe or the dependents of the deceased employe and that it will avoid undue expense or undue hardship to either party or that such employe or dependent has removed or is about to remove from the United States or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the whole or the greater part of his business or assets Except as provided in section three hundred and ten hereof and in this section no commutation of compensation shall be made

Section 317 At any time after the approval of an agreement or after the entry of the award a sum equal to all future instalments of compensation may (where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain) with the approval of the board be paid by the employer to any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this State and such sum together with all interests thereon shall thereafter be held in trust for the employe or the dependents of the employe who shall have no further recourse against the employer The payment of such sum by the employer evidenced by the receipt of the trustee noted upon the prothonotary's docket shall operate as a satisfaction of said award as to the employer Payments from said fund shall be made by the trustee in the same amounts and at the same periods as are herein required of the employer until said fund and interest shall be exhausted In the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given in the discretion of the board to the choice of the employe or the dependents of the deceased employe Should however there remain any unexpended balance of any fund after the payment of all sums due under this act such balance shall be repaid to the employer who made the original payment or to his legal representatives

Section 318 The right of compensation granted by this article of this act shall have the same preference (without limit of amount) against the assets of an employer liable for such compensation as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law for a claim for unpaid wages for labor Provided however That no claim for compensation shall have priority over any judgment mortgage or conveyance of land recorded prior to the filing of the petition award or agreement as to compensation in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which the land is situated Claims for payments due under this article of this act shall not be assignable and (except as provided in section five hundred and one of article five hereof) shall be exempt from all claims of creditors and from levy execution or attachment which exemption may not be waived

Section 319 Where a third person is liable to the employe or the dependents for the injury or death the employer shall be subrogated to the right of the employe or the dependents against such third person but only to the extent of the compensation payable under this article by the employer Any recovery against such third person in excess of the compensation theretofore paid by the employer shall be paid forthwith to the employe or to the dependents and shall be treated as an advance payment by the employer on account of any future instalments of compensation

Section 320 (a) If the the employe at the time of the accident is a minor under the age of eighteen years employed or permitted to work in violation of any provision of the laws of this Commonwealth relating to minors of such age compensation either in the case of injury or death of such employe shall be double the amount that would be payable to such minor if legally employed The amount by which such compensation shall exceed that provided for in case of legal employment may be referred to as "additional compensation"

(b) The employer and not the insurance carrier shall be liable for the additional compensation Any provision in an insurance policy undertaking to relieve an employer from such liability shall be void

(c) Where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain the total amount of the additional compensation subject to discount as in the case of commutation shall be immediately due and payable It shall be deposited subject to the approval of the board in any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this state

Where the amount of the future payments of compensation is uncertain the board shall upon the approval of the agreement or the entry of an award determine as nearly as may be the total amount of payments to be made and the additional compensation so calculated shall immediately upon such determination become due and payable by the employer The amount may be redetermined by the board and any increase shall then become due and payable and any excess which shall be shown to have been paid shall be returned to the person paying the same Upon determination of the amount due it shall be deposited as above provided payments of compensation out of deposits shall be made to the employe or dependents as payments of other compensation are made Provided however That the board may in its discretion and upon inquiry as in cases of commutation accelerate such payments

(d) The provisions of the foregoing paragraph (c) shall not apply to employers who are exempted by the Bureau from the necessity of carrying insurance

(e) Possession of an employment certificate duly issued and transmitted to the employer in accordance with the provisions of the child labor law and receipt thereof duly acknowledged by him shall be conclusive evidence to such employer of his legal right to employ the minor for whose employment such certificate has been issued

(f) The possession of an age certificate duly issued and transmitted to the employer by the school authorities of the school district in which a minor resides shall be conclusive evidence to the employer of the minor's age as certified therein

(g) If neither party has elected not to be bound by the provisions of article three of [the] this act [to which this act is an amendment] in the manner prescribed by section three hundred and two [of said act] they shall be held to have agreed to be bound by the provisions of this [act] section and to have waived any other right or remedy at law or in equity for the recovery of damages for injuries occurring under the circumstances herein described

Section 321 At any time after a death alleged to be due to an injury the employer or any claimant for compensation shall have the right upon giving the employer or the claimant or claimants as the case may be at least three hours notice of his intention so to do to have an autopsy performed by a physician or physicians legally authorized to practice under the laws of the place where the autopsy is performed who shall be selected and paid by the party demanding the autopsy If any claimant shall refuse to permit any such autopsy to be performed he shall be deprived of his right to compensation under this article Either party shall be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection to be paid by him participate in any autopsy demanded by the other party

The bureau the secretary and every referee shall keep a careful record of the date of mailing every notice and copy required by this act to be served on the parties in interest

Section 407 On or after the tenth day after any accident shall have occurred the employer and employe or his dependents may agree upon the compensation payable to the employe or his dependents under this act but any agreement made prior to the tenth day after the accident shall have occurred or permitting a commutation of payments contrary to the provisions of this act or varying the amount to be paid or the period during which compensation shall be payable as provided in this act shall be wholly null and void It shall be unlawful for any employer to accept a receipt showing the payment of compensation when in fact no such payment has been made

All agreements made in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be in writing and signed by all parties in interest

All agreements for compensation and all supplemental agreements for the modification suspension reinstatement or termination thereof and all receipts executed by any injured employe of whatever age or by any dependent to whom compnsation is payable under section three hundred and seven and who has attained the age of sixteen years shall be valid and binding unless modified or set aside as hereinafter provided

Section 408 All agreements for compensation may be modified suspended reinstated or terminated at any time by a supplemental agreement approved by the board if the incapacity of an injured employe has increased decreased recurred or temporarily or finally terminated or if the status of any dependent has changed

Section 409 Whenever an agreement or supplemental agreement shall be executed between an employer and employe or his dependents as provided by this act such agreement shall be executed in triplicate Two copies thereof signed by all parties in interest shall be mailed or delivered to the board It shall be the duty of the board to examine the agreement to determine whether it conforms to the provisions of section four hundred and seven to notify the parties thereto of its validity or invalidity under the aforesaid section within thirty days after the copies of the agreement have been mailed or delivered to it and if the agreement be approved to send to the employe together with such notification of its approval a copy of the agreement Provided however That any payment made in accordance with any agreement prior to the receipt of notice of invalidity shall discharge pro tanto the liability under article three of this act of the employer making such payments

Section 410 If after any accident the employer and the employe or his dependent concerned in any accident shall fail to agree upon the facts thereof and the compensation due under this act the employe or his dependents may present a claim for compensation to the board

Whenever any claim for compensation is presented to the board other than claims of non-resident alien dependents and is finally adjudicated in favor of the claimant the amounts of compensation actually due at the time the first payment is made after such adjudication shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum and such interest shall be payable to the same persons as the compensation is payable

In case any claimant shall die before the final adjudication of his claim the amount of compensation due such claimant to the date of death shall be paid to the dependents entitled to compensation or if there be no dependents then to the estate of the decedent

Section 411 Whenever the employer and the employe or his dependent shall on or after the tenth day after any accident agree on the facts on which a claim for compensation depends but shall fail to agree on the compensation payable thereunder they may petition the board to determine the compensation payable Such petition shall contain the agreed facts and shall be signed by all parties in interest The board shall fix a time and place for hearing the petition and shall notify all parties in interest As soon as may be after such hearing the board shall award or disallow compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 412 If any party shall desire the commutation of future instalments of compensation he shall present a petition therefor to the board

Section 413 The board or a referee designated by the board may at any time within one year after an agreement has been entered into review and modify or set aside an original or supplemental agreement upon petition filed with the board or in the course of the proceedings under any petition pending before such board or referee if it be proved that such agreement was procured by the fraud coercion or other improper conduct of a party or was founded upon a mistake of law or of fact

The board or referee designated by the board may at any time modify reinstate suspend or terminate an original or supplemental agreement or an award upon petition filed by either party with such board upon proof that the disability of an injured employe has increased decreased recurred or has temporarily or finally ceased or that the status of any dependent has changed Such modification reinstatement suspension or termination shall be made as of the date upon which [it is shown that] the disability of the injured employe [has] actually increased decreased recurred or has temporarily or finally ceased or upon which [it is shown that] the status of any dependent [has] changed Provided That no agreement or award shall be reviewed modified or reinstated except upon a petition filed with the board within two years from the date of the last payment of compensation or tender thereof

The board or referee to whom any such petition has been assigned may subpoena witnesses hear evidence make findings of fact and award or disallow compensation in the same manner and with the same effect and subject to the same right of appeal as if such petition were an original claim-petition

The filing of a petition to terminate or modify a compensation agreement or award as provided in this section shall operate as a supersedeas and shall suspend the payment of compensation fixed in the agreement or by the award [in whole or to such extent as the facts alleged in the petition would if proved require] as of the date upon which the petition alleges that the disability of the injured employe actually increased decreased recurred or temporarily or finally ceased or upon which the status of any dependent has changed

Section 414 Whenever a claim-petition or other petition is presented to the board the board shall by general rules or special order either direct it to be heard by the board or assign it to a referee for hearing Provided however That petitions presented under section four hundred and eleven and four hundred and twelve shall be heard by the board

The secretary shall serve upon each adverse party a copy of the petition together with a notice that such petition will be heard by the board or the referee to whom it has been assigned (giving his name and address) as the case may be and if the petition shall have been assigned to a referee shall mail the original petition to such referee together with copies of the notices served upon the adverse parties

Section 415 At any time before an award or disallowance of compensation or order has been made by a referee to whom a petition has been assigned the board may order such petition heard before it or may reassign it to any other referee Unless the board shall otherwise order the testimony taken before the original referee shall be considered as though taken before the board or substituted referee

Section 416 Within ten days after a copy of any petition has been served upon any adverse party he may file with the secretary if the petition has been directed to be heard by the board or with the referee if the petition has been assigned to a referee an answer in the form prescribed by the board

Every fact alleged in a petition not specifically denied by an answer so filed by an adverse party shall be deemed to be admitted by him But the failure of any adverse party or of all of them to deny a fact so alleged shall not preclude the board or a referee before whom the petition is heard from requiring of its or his own motion proof of such fact

Section 417 As soon as may be after the twelfth day after notice that a petition has been directed to be heard by the board has been served upon the adverse parties thereof the board shall fix a time and place for hearing the petition If a petition be assigned to a referee he shall twelve days after notice that such petition has been assigned to him has been served upon the adverse parties fix a time and a place for hearing the petition Such hearing shall not be less than five nor more than fourteen days after the mailing of notice thereof by the referee The secretary if the petition has been directed to be heard by the board or the referee to whom the petition has been assigned shall serve upon all parties in interest a notice of the time and place of hearing and shall serve upon the petitioner a copy of any answer of any adverse party

Section 418 The board if a petition is directed to be heard by it or the referee to whom a petition is assigned for hearing may subpoena witnesses order the production of books and other writings and hear evidence and shall make in writing and as soon as may be after the conclusion of the hearing such findings of fact conclusions of law and awared or disallowance of compensation or other order as the petition and answers and the evidence produced befor eit or him and the provisions of this act shall in its or his judgment require The findings of fact made by the board in any petition heard by it or upon a hearing de novo shall be final except as hereinafter provided and the findings of fact made by a referee to whom a petition has been assigned or any question of fact has been referred under the provisions of section four hundred and nineteen shall be final unless the board shall under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-five of this article grant a hearing de novo or a rehearing

Section 419 The board may refer any question of fact arising under any petition including a petition for commutation heard by it to a referee to hear evidence and report to the board the testimony taken before him or such testimony and findings of fact thereon as the board may order The board may refer any question of fact arising out of any petition assigned to a referee to any other referee to hear evidence and report the testimony so taken thereon to the original referee

Section 420 The board or a referee if it or he deem it necessary may of its or his own motion either before during or after any hearing make an investigation of the fact set forth in the petition or answer The board or referee with the consent of the board may appoint one or more impartial physicians or surgeons to examine the injuries of the plaintiff and report thereon or he may employ the services of such other experts as shall appear necessary to ascertain the facts The report of any physician surgeon or expert appointed by the board or by a referee shall be filed with the board or referee as the case may be and shall be a part of the record and open to inspection as such

The board shall fix the compensation of such [physicians surgeons and experts which when so fixed shall be paid out of the sums appropriated to the Department of Labor and Industry for the maintenance of the Department and shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceedings to be repaid to such department by either party or both as the board may direct If any sum so taxed shall not be paid by the party directed to repay the same may be collected as costs are now collectible] physicians surgeons or other experts which shall be paid by the employer

Section 421 All hearings before the board or before a referee shall be public

Section 422 Neither the board nor any referee shall be bound by the technical rules of evidence in conducting any hearing or investigation but all findings of fact shall be based only upon competent evidence and in accordance with the weight of such evidence

If any party or witness resides outside of the Commonwealth or through illness or other cause is unable to testify before the board or a referee his or her testimony or deposition may be taken within or without this Commonwealth in such manner and in such form as the board may by special order or general rule prescribe The records kept by a hospital of the medical or surgical treatment given to an employe in such hospital shall be admissible as evidence of the medical and surgical matters stated therein but shall not be conclusive proof of such matters

Section 423 Any party in interest may within twenty days after notice of a referee's award or disallowance of compensation shall have been served upon him take an appeal to the board on the ground (1) That the award or disallowance of compensation is not in conformity with the terms of this act or that the referee committeed any other error of law (2) That the findings of fact and award or disallowance of compensation was unwarranted by the evidence or was procured by fraud coercion or other improper conduct of any party in interest [The board may upon cause shown extend the time provided in this article for taking such appeal or for the filing of an answer or other pleading]

In any such appeal the board may disregard the findings of fact of the referee and may examine the testimony taken before such referee and if it deem proper may hear other evidence and may substitute for the findings of the referee such findings of fact as the evidence taken before the referee and the board as hereinbefore provided may in the judgment of the board require and may make such disallowance or award of compensation or other order as the facts so found by it may require

Section 424 Whenever an appeal shall be based upon an alleged error of law it shall be the duty of the board to grant a hearing thereon The board shall fix a time and place for such hearing and shall serve notice thereof on all parties in interest

As soon as may be after any such hearing the board shall either sustain or reverse the referee's award or disallowance of compensation or make such modification thereof as it shall deem proper

Section 425 Whenever an appeal shall be taken on the ground that the referee's award or disallowance of compensation was unwarranted by the evidence or because of fraud coercion or other improper conduct by any party in interest the board may in its discretion grant a hearing de novo before the board or assign the petition for rehearing to any referee designated by it or sustain the referee's award or disallowance of compensation If the board shall grant a hearing de novo it shall fix a time and place for same and shall notify all parties in interest

As soon as may be after any hearing de novo by the board it shall in writing state its findings of fact and award or disallow compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act

[Section 426 The board upon petition of any party and upon cause shown at any time before the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth to whom an appeal has been taken under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-seven of this article shall have taken final action thereon may grant a rehearing of any petition upon which the board has made an award or disallowance of compensation or other order or ruling or has sustained or reversed any action of a referee but such rehearing shall not be granted more than one year after the board has made such award disallowance or other order or ruling or has sustained or reversed any action of the referee If the board shall grant a rehearing of any petition from the board's action on which an appeal has been taken to and is pending in the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-seven of this article the board shall file in such court a certified copy of its order granting such rehearing and it shall thereupon be the duty of such court to cause the record of the case to be remitted to the board Provided however That nothing contained in] [this section shall limit or restrict the right of the board or a referee designated by the board to review modify set aside reinstate suspend or terminate an original [or supplemental agreement or an award in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred thirteen of this article]

Section [427] 426 Any party may appeal from any action of the board on matters of law and the question as to whether the findings of fact are in accordance with the weight of the competent evidence to the court of common pleas of the county in which the accident occurred or of the county in which the adverse party resides or has a permanent place of business or by agreement of the parties to the court of common pleas of any other county of this Commonwealth Such appeal must be brought within twenty days after notice of the action of the board has been served upon such party unless any court of common pleas to which an appeal lies shall upon cause shown extend the time herein provided for taking the appeal The party taking the appeal shall at the time of taking the appeal serve upon the adverse party a written notice thereof setting forth the date of the appeal and the court in which the same is filed and shall file either with his notice of appeal or within thirty days thereafter such exceptions to the action of the board as he may desire to take and shall specify the findings of fact if any of the board or of the referee sustained by the board which he alleges to be unsupported by competent evidence or not in accordance with the weight of such evidence

Upon filing of the notice of an appeal the prothonotary of the court of common pleas to which the appeal has been taken shall issue a writ of certiorari directed to the Workmen's Compensation Board commanding it within ten days after service thereof to certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken The writ so issued shall be mailed by the prothonotary to the bureau at Harrisburg together with a copy of the exceptions The board shall within ten days after such service certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken including the notes of testimony

Any court before whom an appeal is pending from any action of the board may remit the record to the board for more specified findings of fact if the findings of the board or referee are not in its opinion sufficient to enable it to decide the question of law raised by the appeal

If the court of common pleas of any county of this Commonwealth shall affirm an award or order of the board or of a referee sustained by the board fixing the compensation payable under this act the court shall enter judgment for the total amount stated by the award or order to be payable whether then due and accrued or payable in future instalments If such court shall sustain the appellant's exceptions [to a finding or findings of fact] and reverse the action of the board [founded thereon] the court shall enter judgment accordingly or remit the record to the board for further hearing and determination in which the procedure shall be the same as that hereinbefore provided in this article in the case of a petition presented to the board except that the board may order that any part of the testimony taken in the original proceedings may be considered as though taken in such further hearing

The prothonotary of any court of common pleas to which an appeal has been taken from the board shall send to the board a certificate of the judgment of the court as soon as rendered with a copy of any opinion which may be filed in the case and within five days shall give notice of such judgment and the date thereof by registered mail to each attorney-at-law appearing in the case at the address given by the attorney in the pleadings and if no attorney-at-law has appeared by registered mail to the party or parties not represented by counsel At the end of the period hereinafter allowed for an appeal from the judgment of the court the record of the board shall be remitted to it by the prothonotary unless an appeal shall have been taken If such appeal shall be taken the record shall be remitted to the board by the prothonotary on its return from the appellate court

Any party may appeal on matters of law to the Superior Court from the judgment of the court of common pleas within thirty days after entry of said judgment irrespective of the amount involved Such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases of appeal to the Superior Court and the record so certified shall contain all that was before the court of common pleas Any appeal from the action of the board to a court of common pleas and from it to the Superior Court shall take precedence over all other civil actions The judgment of the Superior Court shall be final unless an appeal therefrom is allowed as in the case of other judgments of that tribunal

Section [428] 427 At any time after the approval of a compensation agreement or after an award or order has been made by the board or referee the employe or dependents entitled to compensation thereunder may file a certified copy of the agreement and the order of the board approving the same or of the award or order with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county and the prothonotary shall enter the total amount of compensation stated in the agreement award or order to be payable to the employe or his dependents whether then due and accrued or payable in future instalments as a judgment against the employer or other party liable under such agreement or award Such judgment shall be a lien against property of the employer or other party liable under such agreement or award and execution may issue thereon forthwith

Wherever after an accident any employe or his dependents shall have entered into a compensation agreement with his employer or shall file a claim petition with the board he may file a certified copy thereof with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county The prothonotary shall enter the amount stipulated in any such agreement or claimed in any such petition as judgment against the employer If the agreement b approved by the board or compensation awarded as claimed in the petition the amount of compensation stipulated in the agreement or claimed in the petition shall be a lien as of the date when the agreement or petition was filed with the prothonotary Pending the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation no other lien which may be attached to the employer's property during such time shall gain priority over the lien of such agreement or award but no execution shall issue on any compensation judgment before the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation on the said petition.

If the agreement be disapproved or after hearing compensation shall be disallowed the employer may file with the prothonotary of any county in which the petition or agreement is on record as a judgment a certified copy of the disapproval of the agreement or disallowance of compensation and it shall be the duty of such prothonotary to strike off the judgment

If the amount of compensation claimed be disallowed but another amount awarded the compensation judgment shall be a lien to the extent of the award as of the date of the filing the petition with the prothonotary with the same effect as to other liens and the same disability to issue execution thereon as if the compensation claimed had been allowed In such cases the prothonotary shall make such modification of the record as shall be appropriate.

If the compensation payable under any gareement or award upon which judgment has been entered under the provisions of this section shall be modified suspended reinstated or terminated by a supplemental agreement executed under the provisions of section four hundred and eight or by an award or order made under the provisions of section four hundred and thirteen any party to such judgment at any time after such agreement has been approved by the board or after the expiration of the time allowed for an appeal from the award or order may file with the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county in which the judgment is on record a certified copy of such supplemental agreement award or order and it shall thereupon be the duty of the prothonotary to modify suspend reinstate or satisfy such judgment in accordance with the terms of such supplemental agreement award or order

Execution may issue by first filing with the prothonotary an affidavit that there has been a default in payments of compensation due on any judgment for compensation entered prior to the approval of the compensation agreement or an award on petition as soon as such agreement shall have been approved or such award made as evidenced by the approval of the board of the award or by a certified copy thereof

Execution shall in all cases be for the amount of compensation and interest thereon due and payable up to the date of the issuance of said execution with costs and further execution may issue from time to time as further compensation shall become due and payable until full amount of the judgment with costs shall have actually been paid

Section [429] 428 If any party against whom a compensation agreement award or other order fixing the compensation payable under this act has been filed of record in any county of this Commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred and [twenty-eight] twenty-seven of this article or against whom judgment has been entered by the court of common pleas of any county on any award or order of the board or a referee shall at any time present to the board receipts or copies thereof certified by any referee showing the payment of compensation as required by the agreement or award in full to the date of presentation to the referee the board shall issue a certificate to such party in the form prescribed stating the extent to which the judgment on the agreement or award has been reduced Upon the presentation of such certificate to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county in which such agreement or award has been filed of record as a judgment or in which judgment on an award has been entered by the court of common pleas it shall be the prothonotary's duty to mark such judgment satisfied to the extent of the payments so certified and upon the presentation to such prothonotary of a certificate issued by the board under the provisions of section three hundred and seventeen of this act it shall be the duty of the prothonotary to mark such judgment fully satisfied

Section [430] 429 The lien of any judgment entered upon any award shall not be divested by any appeal If however the party appealing from the award shall file with the board a bond in such amount and in such form as the rules and regulations of the board shall direct the appeal shall pending its decision excuse the payment of so much of the compensation as is contested therein but if the final decision on appeal shall sustain the award it shall be the duty of the employer by whom such award is payable to make payments of compensation as from the date of the original award If on appeal the award is sustained as to a part it shall be the duty of the employer by whom such part is payable to make payments as from the date of the original award In case the award is annulled on appeal it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of any county in which such award has been entered as a judgment to mark it satisfied

Section [431] 430 The cost of the prothonotary for entering the amount of compensation as provided in this act or making a modification of the record or marking the judgment satisfied shall be allowed taxed and collected as upon a confession of judgment on a judgment note

Section [432] 431 It shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each court of common pleas and of the Supreme and Superior Court of the Commonwealth to make a monthly report to the board of the disposition of all appeals taken to such court under the provisions of this article

Section [433] 432 A document on file in the bureau or with the board or any referee or part of the record of any proceedings taken under Articles III and IV of this act shall be proved by a copy thereof certified by the chairman of the board and attested by the secretary under the seal of the board

Section [434] 433 A final receipt given by an employe or dependent entitled to compensation under a compensation agreement or award reciting that the disability or dependency has terminated shall be prima facie evidence of the termination of the employer's liability to pay compensation under such agreement or award Provided however That the board or a referee designated by the board may set aside a final receipt upon petition filed with the board within two years from the date of the signing of such receipt if it be proved that such receipt was procured by fraud coercion or other improper conduct of a party or is founded upon mistake of law or of fact

ARTICLE V

The House met at 11.00 A. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Rev. L. R. Miller, Pastor of the Centerport Lutheran Parish, Bernville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Almighty and Everlasting God, God in Whom we live and move and have our being, we believe that it is a pleasure unto Thee if we pray unto Thee from time to time. So we have come together at this moment in order to pray unto Thee, to thank Thee for all of the past blessings. We thank Thee, Father, for this great land of ours, for this great Commonwealth in which we live. We thank Thee, Father, for these fine institutions, especially this institution in which we are now gathered. Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for these men of our Commonwealth who are assembled here at this moment and who are meditating upon the problems of state. We hope that at this moment, Father, that they may do it with a simplicity of purpose for the purpose of bringing unto us laws and regulations that will make us greater men and greater women for one another and in the eyes of God.

Do Thou, therefore, bless them. Do Thou give unto them the right kind of wisdom and knowledge so that they may do bigger things for the benefit of everyone of us.

These and many other things that we shall ask of Thee in prayer, do Thou give these things unto us. We ask it in the name of the Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. WELLIVER, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

HOUSE BILL No. 2270.

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1530) entitled "An act relating to the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir for the flood control of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers conferring and continuing certain powers and duties on the Department of Forests and Waters in relation to the establishment and maintenance of such reservoir providing for the acquisition of necessary lands therefor and the necessary agreements and releases relating thereto and the disposition of surplus land and materials" conferring additional powers and duties on the Water and Power Resources Board.

STATEMENT BY MR. HABBYSHAW

Mr. HABBYSHAW asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on Tuesday, May 21st, 1935, I offered amendments to House Bill No. 1418, the Gasoline Tax Bill, to exempt farmers from any tax on gasoline used for agricultural and domestic purposes on farms.

My amendments were voted down by the majority party of this House.

After the vote was taken I had some of the rural members of this House from both parties come to me and explain their reason for opposition on these amendments. In doing so I was informed that the Rice-Zeisenheim Bill which had passed the Senate, and is now in Committee on Ways and Means in the House, would take care of my amendments.

I am making this statement to remind the rural members that the time is very short and ask their cooperation in getting this bill out of the Committee on Ways and Means and bring it before this House for action.

STATEMENT BY MR. TROUT

Mr. TROUT asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, again proposals have been made to raid the motor license and liquid fuels tax funds and to defer repayments of loans already made from these funds. These are proposals to take $38,000,000, which the motorists of this state paid in good faith for improved highways, and use it for purposes for which he already has paid taxes; proposals which break the pledge given when these taxes were accepted and which break the pledge given when the loans were made.

I protest against this continued disregard of the motorists' rights; against the injustice to Pennsylvania workingmen, who would be given employment if this money were spent where it rightfully belongs—on the highways. I protest against proposals which are not based upon a full knowledge of conditions.

A few weeks ago I pointed out to you that the largest part of the motorists' taxes go for road upkeep, for snow removal and for other services. There remains only a comparatively small amount for construction and most of that already has been borrowed. I told you that the Federal Government would penalize any state up to one-third of its allotment, if highway funds were diverted; that Pennsylvania could lose up to $20,000,000 of Federal money. I stated that diversion would be throwing away $20,000,000 that could be used to give worthwhile work to the unemployed.

But now it is proposed to hold back a total of $38,966,000 from needed highway construction, by authorizing further diversion of $23,500,000 of highway funds and by deferring until 1937 the pledged repayment of $15,466,000 already borrowed from the motor license and liquid fuels tax funds. The proposals to hold back these amounts of highway funds have contemplated that Federal allotments of road moneys will take care of the needs of Pennsylvania's highway system for the next two years. The facts, as they have emerged during the last few days, show clearly that Federal funds that have been allotted will permit only the most meager sort of work on the highways. Limitations set down by the Federal Government on expenditures of these funds will permit no more than simple grading and drainage of highways. Do you not have practical proof there that state highway funds must be kept intact for the purposes for which they were intended; for elimination of sharp curves, narrow bridges and other death traps; for widening, repaving and reconstruction of narrow, worn-out and obsolete main highways; for widening and resurfacing of city and town streets; for necessary improvement of our dirt roads; and, as well, should we not keep these funds intact for the added purpose of matching the funds the Federal government will give us?

In a conference I had this week with H. H. Temple, Chief Engineer of the Department of Highways, Mr. Temple said:

"We have been advised by the Bureau of Public Roads at Washington, D. C. that Motor Funds diverted to other uses than the construction and maintenance of highways may, under the provisions of the Hayden-Cartwright act, be interpreted to mean a diversion, and such action may result in a loss to the state of Pennsylvania of one-third the Federal-aid already allotted to it amounting to $10,508,000; in addition to which it will mean the loss of one-third of the anticipated additional allocation of $21,000,000 or $7,000,000, making the total possible loss to the State $17,508,000."

It all comes down to the question of whether or not we shall perform the double duty of giving the motorists what they pay for in good roads and of giving the unemployed what they deserve in worthwhile jobs. I know what good roads have meant to Lancaster county. I know what the employment given by road building has meant to Lancaster county. I ask you to consider the same factors in relation to your own districts.

I point out to you that we have been here in session for six months. We have legislated for birds, for fish, for eels, for poultry. Isn't the safety of our traveling public equally as important? Last year more than 2,000 persons were killed on Pennsylvania highways. Isn't it time that we consider using our highway funds for improvement of the highways, which will in large measure remove the hazards causing these fatalities. Instead we are hearing repeated proposals to turn around and kill a program of highway progress that was started in the days of Sproul and Sadler and Fisher; a program that actually looked to the safety, economy and convenience of those who have to travel our roads, either for business or pleasure.

May I ask my colleagues in this House if we shall take a picture of abandoned highways back home with us? Is that the picture we are to show those who place their confidence in us; their confidence that we shall do our utmost to insure their best welfare? Shall we return home and tell our constituents that we have placed upon the motorist the burden of taxation that belongs to the whole people? Shall we tell them that relief, unemployment, and the entire financial problem of Pennsylvania is the motorists' problem alone? If we do, are we not inviting nearly 2,000,000 motorists to send us who vote for diversion into political oblivion? The motorists have been long-suffering, but, gentlemen, I warn you the break will come, if we violate the sacred trust we have with them.

Or shall we return to those who sent us here and tell them that we have done a real, genuine job of work relief; that at the same time we have both assured the motoring public of a square deal and initiated a program of permanent highway improvement in Pennsylvania, without which no business, no industry, no home, no individual can actually prosper?

There have been enough and more than enough of these attempts to wreck our highway system and to utterly disregard the rights of the motorists. Our honor has been pledged for the return of already borrowed highway funds and to protect the rights of the motorists. Unless we meet these obligations our highways will fall into disrepair, more fatal accidents will be recorded and we shall stand discredited before all.

I call upon all those who have sincere interest in highways and who have respect for a promise given, to weigh well this problem. I ask with the greatest sincerity of purpose that this House defeat for once and for all any proposal that will take highway funds from the highways, bread from the mouths of men, women and children and the real apportunity for a return to prosperity from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

An Act relating to the consolidation of poor districts having territories not co-extensive with counties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That poor districts having territories not co-extensive with counties may be consolidated as follows

ARTICLE 1

CONSOLIDATION OF POOR DISTRICTS BY VOTE OF THE PEOPLE

Section 101 Adjacent Poor Districts may be Consolidated Whenever two or more poor districts situate in the same county shall be adjacent and of compact territory they may be consolidated into one poor district

Section 102 Joint agreements for consolidation Such consolidation shall be made under the following conditions

The directors or overseers of the poor districts may of their own initiative or shall within sixty days after each is requested in writing by at least one hundred qualified electors of the respective poor district enter into a joint agreement for the consolidation thereof into one poor district The joint agreement shall set forth the name of the new poor district not in conflict with any Act of Assembly limiting the same and the territorial boundaries thereof It shall also set forth such terms as have been agreed upon for the disposition of the assets of each of the poor districts and for the liquidation of the indebtedness of each of the poor districts either jointly separately or in certain defined proportions and the adjusting and paying of the same by separate rates of taxation on all properties subject to taxation within the boundaries of such poor districts respectively

In cases where the directors or overseers have been requested in writing by at least one hundred electors of their district to enter into an agreement of consolidation as herein provided and after due efforts made such directors or overseers are unable to agree on a plan of consolidation public announcement of that fact shall be made and further efforts therefor may be discontinued

Section 103 Election on Questions of Consolidation The question of the consolidation of such poor districts shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of each of the poor districts at the next general or municipal election occurring at least ninety days after the date of the joint agreement Notice of said election shall be given in at least one newspaper of the county once a week for three successive weeks immediately preceding the dat of such election

The county commissioners shall submit such question of consolidation on the ballot or on voting machines at such election in a manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth

Such question shall be in the following form

	NO

If the majority of the votes cast for and against the proposed consolidation at such election in at least two of the poor districts is in favor of the consolidation that fact shall be certified to the poor directors or overseers of such poor districts by the county commissioners and the poor directors or overseers of the respective poor districts shall cause a certification of the result to be endorsed upon the joint agreement

Where such joint agreement shall have been entered into by the directors or overseers of more than two poor districts and the vote in two or more of such districts is in favor of such consolidation but in one or more of such districts the vote has been against such consolidation the directors or overseers of the districts having voted in favor thereof may if they deem it desirable revise the original agreement to make it fit the situation In such cases no further election on the question is necessary such revised agreement shall be endorsed as above provided and shall in all respects be as valid and have the same force and effect as if it were the original agreement

Section 104 Agreement to be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth Letters Patent The agreement or a certified copy thereof with all its endorsements shall be filed in the Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth

Upon the filing thereof the Governor shall cause letters patent to be issued under the Great Seal of the Commonwealth consolidating the poor districts into one corporation by the name set forth in the joint agreement A copy of such agreement duly certified by the Secretary of the Commonwealth under the seal of his office shall be evidence of the existence of the new poor district

Section 105 Effect of Consolidation Upon the issuance of letters patent the several poor districts so consolidated shall be a poor district under the name provided in the agreement The rules regulations and orders in force in each of such poor districts at the time of such consolidation shall continue in force throughout the territory for which they were originally made until altered or rescinded by the directors of the consolidated poor district All right privileges and franchises of each of the poor districts and all the property real personal and mixed and all debts due on whatever account and other things in action belonging to each of such poor districts shall be vested in the new poor district The title to real estate vested in either of such poor districts shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of such consolidation All rights of creditors and liens shall be preserved and all debts liabilities and duties of either of such poor districts shall attach to such new poor district and be enforced against it

Section 106 Districts Situated in Two Counties One Part May Consolidate with Other Districts Whenever a poor district consists of territory situate in more than one county that portion situate in one county may consolidate with one or more districts in the same county under the provisions of article one of this act if the directors or overseers of such poor district enter into the joint agreement hereinbefore prescribed In such cases the joint agreement shall be as hereinbefore prescribed and in addition thereto shall contain an agreement as to a just and proper adjustment and apportionment of all public property owned by such poor district both real and personal including funds as well as indebtedness Provided however That no director or overseer residing in that portion of the district which is to be included in the consolidation shall have any voice or vote in that part of the agreement which provides for such adjustment and apportionment of property and indebtedness

In cases under this section the question of consolidation shall be submitted to the vote of the electors of that portion of the poor district which is to be included in such consolidation and not to that portion situate in a different county

ARTICLE II

CONSOLIDATION BY COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS

Section 201 Power to Consolidate The court of quarter sessions upon petition may consolidate two or more poor districts into one poor district situate in the same county and of adjacent and compact territory

Section 202 Signing and Contents of Petition The petition shall be signed by electors of each poor district equal to at least two per centum of the highest vote cast for any office within the territory of each poor district at the last preceding general election The petition shall contain the names of the poor district proposed to be consolidated and shall set forth a description and be accompanied with a plot showing the courses and distances of the boundaries of such poor district before and after the proposed consolidation

Section 203 Filing Petition Notice Decree Upon its presentation the court shall order the petition filed and shall fix a time for hearing Notice of the filing of the petition shall be given to the directors or overseers of the poor districts involved and also by publication in at least one newspaper of the county once a week for three consecutive weeks preceding the date of hearing If the court after hearing shall determine in favor of the proposed consolidation it shall make a decree setting forth the name of the new poor district not in conflict with any Act of Assembly limiting the same the disposition of the assets of each of the poor districts and the liquidation of the indebtedness of each of the poor districts The petition and decree shall be recorded in the office for the recording of deeds of the county The costs of the proceedings may be paid by either one or all of the poor districts to be consolidated

Section 204 Upon the recording of the petition and decree in the office of the recorder of deeds the several poor districts so consolidated shall be a poor district under the name provided in the decree The rules regulations and orders in force in each of such poor districts at the time of such consolidation shall continue in force throughout the territory for which they were originally made until altered or rescinded by the directors of the consolidated poor district All rights privileges and franchises of each of the poor districts and all the property real personal mixed and all debts due on whatever account and other things in action belonging to each of such poor district shall be vested in the new poor district The title to real estate vested in either of such poor district shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of such consolidation All rights of creditors and liens shall be preserved and all debts liabilities and duties of either of such poor districts shall attach to such consolidated poor districts and be enforced against it

ARTICLE III

OFFICERS OF CONSOLIDATED DISTRICTS

Section 301 Vacancies as a result of consolidation by vote Whenever two or more poor districts shall be consolidated under article one hereof by vote of the people the office of director or overseer of the poor in each district shall by virtue of the said consolidation be declared vacant

Section 302 The Court of Quarter Sessions to fill vacancies The court of quarter sessions of the county in which the consolidated district is situate shall immediately upon certification in favor of consolidation fix the number and term of directors or overseers for the consolidated district

The number so fixed shall not exceed eight but subject to such limitation shall not be less than one director for each thirty-five thousand of population If the number of directors so fixed shall be an odd number the term of the majority shall be fixed for four years and the balance six years If the number of directors so fixed shall be an even number the term for one half shall be fixed for four years and the balance for six years

In counties where elected directors have charge of poor affairs for the greater proportion of the population in said county said court shall appoint from the directors or overseers of the poor districts consolidated directors for the consolidated district who shall serve until the next municipal election whereupon their offices shall be filled at such election for the terms fixed as aforesaid In counties where appointed directors are in charge of poor affairs for the greater proportion of the population of the county said court shall appoint from the directors or overseers of the poor districts consolidated directors for the consolidated district for the terms fixed as aforesaid

Section 303 Vacancies as a result of consolidation by Court of Quarter Sessions Whenever two or more poor districts shall be consolidated under article two hereof by the court of quarter sessions the said court in its order of consolidation shall fix the number and terms of directors and fill the vacancies in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as set forth in the preceding section hereof

ARTICLE IV

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of a hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman from York what the purpose of recommitting this bill is.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, quite a number of men interested in the insurance business, representing different companies, have asked to be heard on this bill. My intention is to refer it back to the Committee on Insurance and try to arrange for a meeting or a hearing on Monday or Tuesday, which will be ample time for the gentlemen to be heard and bring the bill back in time to pass it at this session.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman whether he will agree to have the bill read the second time?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman withdraws his motion temporarily until his bill has been given second reading.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An act to amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by adding thereto section four hundred and eleven A establishing the effect of medical examinations or the waiver thereof in applications for life insurance and restricting defenses by insurance companies in such cases.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Insurance for the purpose of a hearing.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I have just been informed that there was a representative before the Committee representing the companies, and that Senator Reed also spoke before the Committee. I would like to inquire from the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, whether or not that is correct?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from the gentleman from York whether Senator Reed and also a representative of one of the large insurance companies were present and discussed this bill before the Committee?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, Senator Reed, the sponsor of the bill, was present and spoke briefly in its support. There was one other person other than the Committee, who I understand represented one of the large life insurance companies. He was invited to speak but he said he had no comments to make.

Representatives of other insurance companies have appeared since and said that in fairness to them, they should have also been invited to be present and that the person representing the insurance companies had no authority to speak for the insurance companies generally.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, whether or not he has received any objection to this bill other than from the insurance companies?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, there have been several persons representing insurance companies who have appeared and asked for a hearing. There are other people opposed to this measure whose names probably it would not be wise to divulge.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman whether he would agree to have the bill placed upon the postponed calendar with the understanding that it will not be called up without consuling him?

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the from Dauphin, there was a tacit understanding in the Committee if any serious objection or objections was raised to this bill, it would be referred back on second reading. Consequently I do not feel at liberty to place it upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not a particularly long bill and it is a matter than has been given consideration both by the Senate and the House. It is a bill which will be of advantage to the people who take out insurance.

It is a bill that is fair and I feel that this bill at this late date should not be sent back to a committee because I have been advised that there is a movement on foot,—I am not saying that that is the intention of the gentleman who is making the motion,—but I have been advised that there is a movement on foot to send this bill back to committee for the purpose of pickling it.

I feel that the bill at this late date should not go back to committee but should be placed upon the postponed calendar and the House permitted to vote on it. Therefore, I think that the motion should be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, sixty-six members having voted in the affirmative and fifty in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

Such borrowing shall be only for the minimum amount which may be necessary in any such political subdivision to supplement the cash balance remaining at the end of the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and needed to meet the cost of payrolls and other expenses which unavoidably fall due during the period from the end of the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five to July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six

Any sums of money borrowed for this purpose shall be borrowed on certificates of indebtedness payable on specified dates not exceeding one year from the date of issue Money for the repayment of such certificates of indebtedness may be secured if not otherwise obtainable from existing funds or by means of economies in operation by the levy of an additional tax at the time of levying the regular tax for general purposes for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six This additional tax shall not exceed in the case of any political subdivision one-half the rate levied for general purposes for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five

Any such additional tax shall be levied and collected in all respects and with like power and authority as is herein provided or otherwise established by existing law for the collection of the tax for general purposes in such political subdivisions for the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six

Section 5 As soon as may be after July first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six the auditors of the various political subdivisions shall audit the accounts of the political subdivision for the preceding six months and such auditors and all controllers and directors required by law to make report of the financial affairs of such political subdivision shall make and file their reports in the manner now required by law for the making and filing of their annual financial and audit reports which reports shall be subject to appeal in the manner now provided by law for appeals from auditors' and controllers' reports Thereafter all such audits and financial reports shall be made for the fiscal year from July to July in the manner above provided and as may be provided by existing law

Section 6 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

STATEMENT BY MR. COLEMAN

Mr. COLEMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while this House has been in session we have had the privilege of meeting some very distinguished people, men who have made their mark in various fields of human endeavor, former Senators, former members of the House, and former Mayors, but none I feel more distinguished than the man whom I am about to ask the Speaker to introduce to you. He is a man who has the distinction of being the Republican Lieutenant-Governor of this Commonwealth from eighteen ninety-one until eighteen ninety-five, when the last Democratic administration of Governor Pattison was in power; a man who has been by his teaching and his preaching trying to create a better feeling of understanding among the people of the city of Scranton; a man who has won our love, compelled our respect and challenged our admiration; a man who served eight years in the Senate prior to being Lieutenant Governor, a humanitarian, a newspaper publisher.

I ask the Speaker to present to you former Lieutenant Governor, Colonel L. A. Watres, Scranton's model citizen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, to escort former Lieutenant-Governor, Col. Watres, to the desk.

The SPEAKER. Members of the House, it affords me the greatest pleasure to present to you former Lieutenant-Governor Watres of Scranton, Pennsylvania, who will briefly address you.

REMARKS BY HON. LOUIS ARTHUR WATRES

COLONEL WATRES. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this real distinction and courtesy is to me a surprise. Nevertheless, I am very glad to face you, because you represent a real empire. I don't need to tell you anything about history. You know it as well as I, and you know that this empire of ours, Pennsylvania, is the only state in the great galaxy of states that was paid for. The other states were taken by force from their former residents, the Indians. Pennsylvania from that day to this has stood true to the principle of paying for everything she has.

I want to say to you that coming here is entirely a surprise. I want to say to you that I know some people here. I know your distinguished Chief Clerk; I know the members from Lackawanna County, and within my personal knowledge, I know that they really and truly represent the people who sent them here.

I am not going to take your time because I presume you want to do what I think you want to do, finish your business and go home, but may I say this. that as long as the sun shall rise over your eastern hills and shed the warmth of its rays upon this great people in Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania will continue to be the law-abiding, prosperous and the contented people they are.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the gentleman from Lackawanna for the kindly remarks he has made to us.

RESOLUTION NO. 138

Mr. CLIFF PATTERSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Resolution No. 138, Printer's No. 1439.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 23, 1935.

Whereas The Federal Government in order to alleviate unemployment is developing various useful public works and

Whereas The newspapers throughout the State have brought to the attention of many thousands of its citizens and to the members of this Legislature a project advanced by the State Planning Board involving the construction of a highway upon the abandoned railway grade of the South Penn Railroad through the Allegheny Mountains between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh and

Whereas At the time construction was abandoned by the South Pennsylvania Railroad in 1885 nine tunnels through the mountains were approximately two-thirds completed and many miles of right of way were graded and

Whereas The completion of these tunnels and the construction of the intervening portions of highway would provide the general public with a highway free from excessive grades avoiding the dangerous storms upon the mountain tops and upon which it would appear that at no point the highway grade would be in excess of one hundred feet to the mile and

Whereas The completion of these tunnels and the construction of this highway would require approximately 32,000,000 man hours of labor and would furnish immediate employment to many unemployed men now upon the relief rolls of the State and

Whereas All the materials entering into the construction project will be produced by the industries of Pennsylvania and

It is estimated that the cost of completion and operation of the roadway and these highway tunnels may be defrayed within a reasonable period of time by a system of tolls to be charged for the use of the tunnels and

Whereas This South Penn Tunnel Highway would possess invaluable military value in time of war therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That a committee of three members of the Senate and three Members of the House to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore and Speaker respectively and in connection with the State Highway Department the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and the State Planning Board and such other consultants as they choose to engage make an investigation of this project and

Resolved That said committee shall make a report to the Legislature as promptly as possible that they shall continue their investigations until a thorough study is completed

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE, HOUSE BILL NO. 2514

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2015, as follows:

An Act authorizing cities boroughs and towns to construct acquire own operate and control water-works and appurtenances thereto and to sell water both within and without their corporate limits conferring the power of eminent domain to acquire property for such purposes providing for the election of a board of directors to operate and manage such works and defining its powers and duties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any city borough or town within the State is hereby authorized and given power to construct acquire own operate and control its own water-works and to add to and maintain lands easements rights-of-way pipe lines franchises and distribution system to enable it to use purchase sell and dispose of water inside its corporate limits and also outside its corporate limits but only within a distance of ten miles of such corporate limits and only if the consent of the corporate authorities of the political subdivision in which such service is to be rendered has first been secured and with the consent of the owner thereof to connect its water-works with any other system or works

Section 2 Any city borough or town within the State now or hereafter owning its own water-works shall have the right to sell and dispose of water to any other city borough or town or any governmental agency or municipal corporation mutual association or to any person partnership association or corporation inside or outside its corporate limits but not exceeding a distance of ten miles from such corporate limits

Section 3 Any city borough or town is hereby authorized to exercise the power of eminent domain which is hereby granted under the same provisions and procedure as is or shall be provided by law for the condemnation of private property for any of the corporate uses or purposes of such city borough or town Provided however That no city borough or town shall acquire by condemnation any publicly or privately owned water-works and the appurtenances thereto located within its limits except with the approval of a majority of the qualified voters of the city borough or town acquiring such works and where such works are located in some other city borough town or township also with the approval of the qualified voters of that city borough town or township in which the property to be acquired is located nor shall any city borough or town acquire by condemnation the water-works or any parts thereof belonging to or owned or operated by any municipal corporation mutual nonprofit or cooperative association or organization or a public utility district No private corporation whose water-works are so acquired shall cease to operate the same until such works are turned over to the city borough or town for ownership management or control

Section 4. Whenever any city, borough or town shall construct or acquire water works under the provisions of this act, the same shall be managed and operated by a board of five directors who shall be elected at large in such city, borough or town on a non-party ballot. The first directors shall be elected at the first municipal election after any such water works have been acquired or the construction thereof commenced, when five directors shall be elected for terms of four years each, and quadriennially thereafter at the municipal election five directors shall be elected to take the place of those whose terms are about to expire. The terms of all directors shall begin on the first Monday of January following their election. Vacancies in the office of director shall be filled by the mayor or burgess of the city, borough or town for the unexpired term.

Section 5 Nomination of candidates may be made on petitions, the form of which shall be prescribed by the mayor or burgess of the city, borough or town. In order to secure a valid nomination, a nomination petition shall be signed by electors equal in number to at least five per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in the city, borough or town at the last preceding municipal or general election. Such nomination petitions shall be filed with the mayor or burgess at least sixty days before the municipal election, at which such nominees consent to become candidates. If less than seven petitions, sufficiently signed, are filed with the mayor or burgess within the time herein specified, the mayor or burgess shall make additional nominations until the number of nominees is seven, and shall then certify such nominees, including all of those whose petitions are sufficiently signed, to the county commissioners at least fifty days before the municipal election.

Section 6. The county commissioners shall print the names of such nominees on separate official ballots without any party designation and shall furnish a sufficient number of such separate ballots to each election board in the city, borough or township for which nominated, so that one ballot can be furnished to each voter. Each person voting at the election at which such persons are candidates shall be entitled to vote for five of the candidates whose names appear on such ballot, and the five receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected. The vote of an elector shall be indicated by a cross mark (X) in the square provided opposite the name of the candidate or candidates for whom he desires to vote.

The votes cast for such directors shall be counted by the respective election boards and returns thereof made to the prothonotary who shall lay such returns before the return board who shall compute the vote for the entire city, borough or town and certify the result to the mayor or burgess of the city, borough or town. Thereupon the mayor or burgess shall issue to the persons elected certificates showing their election.

Section 7. Each director of water works shall receive such salary as may be fixed by the council of the city, borough or town.

Section 8. As soon as the directors elected have qualified for office, they shall take charge of the water works and shall employ and dismiss at pleasure a superintendent and such clerks, laborers ,mechanics and workmen as may be deemed necessary for the economical and efficient administration of said works, and shall fix their compensation. The directors shall purchase such materials and supplies as may be required for keeping the works in good repair and have charge of all construction, repairs, enlargements and extensions of the works and shall conduct and manage the affairs and business connected with such works in accordance with law.

Section 9. The directors shall make and submit to the council annually a true financial statement. The directors shall also submit to the council full estimates of the costs, charges and expenses of any new work, enlargement, extension or alteration of the works, and no such work shall be prosecuted without the consent of council.

Section 10. The directors shall fix the rates for water which shall be sufficient, but not in excess of those required to operate such works in an efficient manner, provide for the repair, replacement and extension thereof, pay the interest on any bonds issued, and provide for their retirement, and all other costs and expenses properly chargeable to the operation of such works.

Section 11 If any part of this act shall be adjudged to be invalid or unconstitutional such adjudication of invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of the act as a whole or any part thereof not adjudged invalid or unconstitutional It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional part not been included therein The provisions of this act shall be cumulative and nothing herein contained shall abridge or limit the powers of cities boroughs or towns under other existing laws

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I dislike very much to arise to oppose this bill by reason of the fact that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran,, has made a very serious effort to amend the bill and put it in proper form. Unfortunately I had marked a bill with a number of questions that arose in my mind as I read it yesterday, after it had been amended, but I cannot find my copy.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MORAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, whether there is any provision in this bill that the Public Service Commission shall pass upon the acquisition by condemnation proceedings of any water company or any water lines outside of the municipality that owns the original works.

Mr. MORAN. There is not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill, am I correct that it provides that any municipality that has a water works may acquire by condemnation proceedings other water works or lines within a range of ten miles of those outside of the municipality?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I would say that this cannot be done without a majority vote in that particular district of the qualified voters.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are two or three very serious objections to this bill as it stands. I again want to repeat what I said on an earlier occasion a few weeks ago in the House, that I am not opposed to municipally owned water works. That is in the law now. Municipalities may establish water works.

When this bill was originally before the House, you will recall it provided that municipalities could go outside of their limits and enter into business. One of my objections at that time was in the going without the limits of the municipalities. They were entering into business and into competition with privately owned industry, and it was placing a burden perhaps upon the taxpayers in the municipalities that had the water works, by reason of the fact that they were entering into a technical business. So long as the water works are operated within the municipality, and that burden alone falls upon the taxpayers in that particular municipality, it seems to me that is a matter of home rule. But when you seek to go outside and to enter into competition or enter into the business of delivering water in an area of ten miles outside of the municipality, figuring that on the basis of things as they exist in my own county, I believe that there is a danger that the taxpayers in the municipality that enters into the water business might have a very serious bill to pay.

I think this bill is objectionable in the manner in which it is at present drawn. In the first place, if a municipalty is to have the right to go anywhere in an area of ten miles outside of the municipality, and by condemnation proceedings, acquire water works or supply water, there certainly should be a protection to the rate payers who are already buying water from a privately owned corporation or utility, by having that acquisition passed upon first by the Public Service Commission.

Let my try to illustrate that to you. I live just outside the borough of Media in the county of Delaware. The borough of Media has a municipally owned plant. Water is supplied in most of the municipalities of Delaware County, outside of the city of Chester and the Borough of Media, by the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company. Within a radius of ten miles of Media could be taken in the populous sections of Swarthmore, the populous sections of Nether Providence Township, the township in which my distinguished colleague, Mr. Sproul, lives; the section that is almost contiguous to the city of Chester, and many other places where by reason of the density of population it is profitable to supply water and it can be supplied from the plant in Media. But what of the people who live in the areas where the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company, having been deprived by this proceeding of those densely populated areas would have to supply it to the large suburban and rural areas of Delaware County, to which it now serves.

I might illustrate the point by saying this: In the city of Philadelphia, where you have great rows of houses, built with sixteen, eighteen, and twenty feet frontage, you get a tremendous number of users along your lines, so that the water can be supplied at a lower rate, because naturally you do not have the investment in building your water lines, where you have those fourteen, sixteen, eighteen, and twenty foot frontages. You are getting a greater return.

Why can we buy a Ford car or a Chevrolet car at such a low cost? It is by reason of the large production that cuts down the cost of the overhead on each machine? The same must be applied to anything that a utility sells. So, if the municipally owned plant can by condemnation proceedings go within that ten mile area it could very readily come in and condemn those parts that are profitable and leave out the unprofitable parts, and the rate-payers in the unprofitable part would have to bear the burden under the law. Therefore, a bill of this kind ought not to be passed if it does not provide that the Public Service Commission shall pass upon the question, so that the other rate-payers who have to buy their water from the privately owned plant shall have an opportunity to be heard and that all the cream can not be skimmed away by the municipally owned plant. Therefore, that is a very vital objection to this bill. I am very sorry that the gentleman from Allegheny in his efforts to amend did not take that into consideration.

There are two or three, as I said, other objections to the bill, but the one that comes to my mind,—I haven't my marked bill here,—the one that comes to my mind is the fact that under section four it provides for the election of a board of directors at the municipal election following acquisition of the water plant, but there is no provision in the bill as to who is going to operate the plant from the time it is condemned and the time you have an election. In other words, a municipality might start out on a condemnation proceeding and that proceeding might drag through the courts and might last a year and a half or two years and then all of a sudden come to an end and the municipality would have to conduct the water plant, —but it doesn't say in the bill who is empowered to conduct it. The municipal election might be a year away and you can not get a board of directors elected until the next municipal election.

Therefore, I would ask that if this bill is now to be presented to the House that you vote "no" because of these defects in this bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. Turner gave a very good illustration of how you could buy for less. Some of the big department stores advertise, "We buy more, therefore we sell for less."

This bill does not tell you how to sell automobiles, but I think it is very explicit in the language that is used in the bill. I think it tells just how this water works will be operated. It also explains that a board of directors will be elected to direct this water works, and also that you cannot have a water works unless the majority of the people in the particular city, town or borough want that water works, and no city, borough or town puts up a water works before they have somebody to direct it. In other words, they lay the foundation first.

I think this bill, if the members of the House have read it, explains itself very thoroughly all the way through. I amended this bill to try to meet the objections raised to it, and I have talked to several members of the House and they think that we have made a pretty fair job of it. I ask the members of the House to vote "aye" on this measure.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have found the third objection that I have had to this bill. On page two, under section three, it provides: "Provided, however, that no city, borough or town shall acquire by condemnation any publicly or privately owned water works and the appurtenances thereto located within its limits except with the approval of a majority of the qualified voters of the city, borough or town acquiring such works." In other words, within that municipality they cannot a privately owned plant and acquire it without the consent of the majority of the voters thereto. But it also says: "And where such works are located in some other ctiy, borough, town or township." That is clear. It provides, first of all, if a municipality wants to acquire a water works within its own municipality by condemnation proceedings, it can only do so by a vote of the people. Second, if it wants to acquire a works,—if the people in "A" borough want to acquire a water works in "B" borough, it can only do so by the consent of the voters in "B" borough.

On page 3, line 5, it goes on to say: "Nor shall any city borough or town acquire by condemnation a water works or any part thereof belonging to or owned or operated by any municipal corporation mutual non-profit or cooperative association or organization or a public utility district."

That is clearly contradictory. In one place it says that it can acquire it by condemnation proceedings by a vote of the people, and then further down in the same section it says they cannot acquire it.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I merely want to say this, on behalf of the sponsor of the bill, as one of those who wished to correct some of the things that I felt were bad in the bill, that he extended to me every courtesy that could be imagined to make such corrections, and I made a great many changes in the bill, but I have no doubt that some defects do still exist that may be corrected in the Senate.

While I have not been an advocate of this bill I do wish to say that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, has offered every courtesy and opportunity for amendments which any members wished to make to this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2107, as follows:

An Act to amend section five hundred forty-seven eight hundred two and nine hundred two of and to add section nine hundred and two A to the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" providing for and regulating methods of making appropriations expenditures contracts and purchases by the township and the making of the annual budget on a uniform form prepared by representatives of the township supervisors the Department of Highways and the Department of Internal Affairs requiring the supervisors to file the annual budget with the said department and the auditors to file an annual financial report with said department and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That sections five hundred forty-seven eight hundred two nine hundred two and nine hundred three of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred three) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 547 Completion Publication and Filing of Auditors' Statement Filing of Report with Department of Internal Affairs The auditors shall complete their audit settlement and adjustment within as short a time as possible They shall within ten days thereafter publish by advertisement in at least one newspaper of general circulation printed in the township or county or by posting at least five copies in public places in the township a concise itemized statement of the receipts and expenditures of the several officers for the preceding fiscal year They shall also within ten days thereafter file a copy of such statement with the secretary and another copy of such statement with the clerk of the court of quarter sessions When any two offices are exercised by the same person only one statement shall be required

The auditors shall also annually make a report of the financial condition of the township to the Department of Internal Affairs within sixty days after the close of the fiscal year signed by each auditor and duly verified by the oath of one of the auditors Any auditor refusing or wilfully neglecting to file such report shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding brought at the instance of the Department of Internal Affairs be sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars for each day's delay beyond said sixty days and costs All fines recovered shall be for the use of the Commonwealth

The report to the Department of Internal Affairs shall be presented on a uniform form prepared and furnished as provided in section nine hundred and two A of this act To avoid unnecessary duplication in the preparation of reports this report shall include the information required in section five hundred eighteen of this act to be reported to the State Department of Highways and shall be in lieu of the report required to be furnished under said section

Section 802 Letting Contracts All purchases of materials equipment [and/or] and machinery for the construction reconstruction and improvement of roads and bridges involving an expenditure in excess of two hundred dollars shall be by contract in writing It shall be unlawful for the supervisors to evade the provisions of this section by making two or more contracts for small amounts which should have been in one If the auditors find there has been any such evasion they shall refuse to approve the same

No materials shall be purchased and no contract made by the supervisors in any amount which will cause the sums set aside in the budget for such purposes to be exceeded

All [such] contracts which in this section are required to be in writing and all contracts for the construction reconstruction and improvement of roads and bridges shall be valid only when approved by the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth

A record of all purchases of material equipment [and/or] and machinery for road purposes involving an expenditure of less than two hundred dollars shall be kept by the supervisors and furnished to the Department of Highways in the annual report

Section 902 Annual Budget The board of township supervisors of townships of the second class shall annually before their organization meeting in January or as soon thereafter as practicable and at least thirty days prior to the adoption of the annual budget prepare a proposed budget or annual estimate of revenues and expenditures for the ensuing fiscal year beginning on the first Monday of January which shall be filed with the treasurer The budget shal be prepared on a uniform form prepared and furnished as provided in section nine hundred and two A of this act [Such] The estimates in the budget for the purpose of aiding the board in determining how much road [tax] and other taxes to levy shall specify

(a) The amount of money necessary for the maintenance repair and improvement of highways including sluices

(b) The amount of money necessary for the repair and construction of culverts and bridges

(c) The amount of money necessary for the purchase hire repair and custody of tools implements and machinery

(d) The amount of money necessary for each other governmental activity of the township for which a special tax levy may or may not be authorized

[(d)] (e) The amount of money necessary for the payment of debts or other miscellaneous purposes

Final action shall not be taken on any proposed budget in which the estimated expenditures exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000) until after at least ten days public notice Provided however That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any township whose total estimated expenditures do not exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000) from holding a public hearing The proposed budget shall be published or otherwise made available for public inspection at the office of the township treasurer by all who interest themselves at least twenty days prior to the date set for the adoption of the budget The board of supervisors after making such revisions and changes in the budget as appear advisable shall adopt the budget and fix the tax rate for the ensuing fiscal year

Within fifteen days after the adoption of the budget the board of supervisors shall file a copy of the same in the office of the Department of Internal Affairs

The supervisors may by resolution transfer unencumbered moneys from one [fund to another except] road tax account to another but no moneys shall be transferred from the fund allocated for the payment of debts or from any fund raised by a special tax levy for a particular purpose Any such transfer shall be made only during the last nine months of the fiscal year

No work shall be hired to be done no purchases made and no order issued for the payment of any moneys by any agent of the township which will cause the sums appropriated to a specific purpose to be exceeded

Section 2 That said act is hereby amended by adding thereto the following section

Section 902 a The forms for the annual report to the Department of Internal Affairs as required in section five hundred forty-seven of this act and the forms for the annual budget as required in section nine hundred and two shall be prepared by a committee consisting of four representatives from the Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors one representative from the State Department of Highways and the Secretary of Internal Affairs or his agent who shall be a person trained in the field of municipal finance

Such representatives of the Association of Township Supervisors shall be appointed by the president of said organization within sixty days after the effective date of this act As far as possible such representatives shall be chosen to represent townships in the various population groups among the range of townships of the second class The president of said organization shall supply to the Secretary of Internal Affairs the names and addresses of such representatives immediately upon their appointment The appointed by the Secretary of Highways

Said representatives of the townships shall serve without compensation but they shall be reimbursed by the Commonwealth for all necessary expenses incurred in attending meetings of the committee The Committee shall meet at the call of the Secretary of Internal Affairs or his agent who shall serve as Chairman of the Committee

In preparing the uniform forms for both budgets and annual reports the committee shall give careful consideration to the fiscal needs and procedures of townships of the various population groups producing separate forms if necessary to meet the needs of townships of varying sizes In the preparation of forms for financial reports the same shall be so arranged that corresponding information required to be reported to the Department of Highways may be used for the information required to be furnished to the Department of Internal Affairs

It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Internal Affairs or his agent to see to it that the forms required by this act are prepared in cooperation with said committee In the event that said committee should for any reason fail to furnish such cooperation the Secretary of Internal Affairs or his agent shall complete the preparation of the forms After they are prepared he shall issue said forms and distribute them annually as needed to the proper township officers

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor They shall be first put into operation in connection with the preparation of budgets for the fiscal year nineteen hundred thirty-six and the preparation of annual reports of financial transactions for the fiscal year nineteen hundred thirty-five

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE HOUSE BILL NO. 2068

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, House Bill No. 2068, Senate Bill No. 147, Printer's No. 147, on page 47 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2068 (Senate Bill No. 147), entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating subject to certain restrictions limitations and liabilities the granting of pensions by the Commonwealth to certain blind persons creating and imposing duties upon the Board of Blind Pensions and providing penalties providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Welfare the trustees who administer mothers' assistance in the several counties or by other trustees in certain cases authorizing appointment of trustees for the pensions payable to certain individuals authorizing the Department of Welfare to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to the blind

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman who asked to have this bill placed on special order.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman explain the purpose of this bill to the membership of the House?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I am surprised that a member of this House would interrogate a blind man's pension bill, because after all is said and done, we who have eyes should certainly feel for the people who do not. I am surprised that any member of this House would get up to interrogate any man on a blind man's pension bill—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman must avoid personalities.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I am not engaging in personalities. I am telling what I think.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might say, in view of the pressure of the last hour I have been unable to read this bill and I desire to have the purport explained to me, and I feel sure that other members of the House who also have not read it, desire an explanation.

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, owing to the fact that we are trying to get through this calendar and that this is a very important bill, it seems to me that we ought to pass it over. This is a Senate bill. It is on third reading. It can be taken up on Monday, when we will have more time, when there will be an opportunity to discuss it properly.

I, therefore, move that it be placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HARKINS. This bill was prepared as a result of a conference with various members interested in it, and in the interest of the bill, as Chairman of the Committee which had it under consideration, I am agreeable to having it postponed as suggested by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

BILL MADE SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be made a special order of business for Monday, June 17th, at 5 o'clock P. M.

The motion was agreed to

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 712.

An Act to amend section thirteen of the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-five) entitled "An act to provide for the better protection of life and health of the citizens of this Commonwealth by requiring and regulating the examination licensure and registration of persons and registration of corporations engaging in the care preparation and disposition of the bodies of deceased persons and providing penalties" by prohibiting the issuance of licenses to the registration of and the conducting of business by corporations not previously licensed and registered and preserving the rights of certain other corporations

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, next to last line, by striking out after the word "registered" the words "and preserving the rights of certain other corporations."

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 1, by striking out after the word "operation" the following: "Provided however that the provisions of this act shall not be construed to effect the rights existing prior to the effective date hereof of any corporation heretofore incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth or incorporated under the laws of any other State and heretofore authorized to conduct business within this Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMITTEE APPOINTED—RESOLUTION NO. 160

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to Resolution No. 160, the Chair appoints the following committee: Messrs. John E. Brown, Hoopes and Conner.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, on page 24, bills on final passage, House Bill 2110, Printer's No. 1450, was passed over in its order. I will not rise to oppose this bill at this time and if it is desired to place it before the House for final passage, it may be done, and I will withdraw my request to pass it over in its order.

Mr. BARBER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2110, Printer's No. 1450, on page 24 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2110 as follows,

An Act to amend sections one thousand and six and one thousand and thirty-five as amended and section one thousand and sixty-two of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" providing for and regulating methods of making appropriations expenditures contracts and purchases by boroughs and its agents and the making of an annual budget on form prepared by representatives of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs and of the Department of Internal Affairs requiring copy of the annual budget to be filed by council with the Department requiring the auditors or controller to make and file a financial report with the Department and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That sections one thousand and six and one thousand and thirty-five of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. APPROPRIATION BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. MENTZER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2961, Printer's No. 1500, on page 8, of today's calendar appropriation bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2961, as follows:

A Joint Resolution creating a commission to investigate the cause of the movement of the steel industry away from this Commonwealth to devise means to halt the same and to make a general survey of the steel industry and making an appropriation

Whereas, The production sale and export of steel is a pioneer business of this State which grew up with and was largely responsible for the great development of the State and the foundation of its wealth and

Whereas, The steel industry together with its kindred businesses employs hundreds of thousands of men and women and sustains payrolls amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars in each year and

Whereas, The continued development of this great business is of most vital interest to the future of Pennsylvania and

Whereas, There has in recent years been a decided movement of steel plants away from this State to other localities therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a commission is hereby created to consist of seven persons two of whom shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives two by the President pro tempore of the Senate and three by the Governor The commission shall select from its membership a chairman and shall elect a secretary who need not be a member of the commission It shall be the duty of the commission to investigate the cause of the movement of the steel industry away from this Commonwealth to devise means to halt such movement and to prevent further migration and to make a general survey and study of the steel industry of this Commonwealth

Section 2 The members of the commission shall not receive any compensation for their services but shall be reimbursed for all expenses incurred in the performance of their duties The commission shall have power to employ a secretary and such experts clerks and stenographers as may be deemed necessary

The commission shall make a report to the General Assembly not later than February first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven

Section 3 The sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the commission for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and for the payment of expenses of the commission and the compensation and expenses of the secretary experts clerks and stenographers

Payments from said appropriation shall be made on requisition of the chairman of the commission by warrant of the Auditor General on the State Treasury

The commission shall be furnished the necessary stationery and office supplies and have all necessary printing done by the proper departments of the State upon requisition of the chairman of the commission

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. HOLSTROM asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2990, Printer's No. 1498, on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2990, as follows:

An Act regulating the display of the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on motor vehicles and providing penalties

Whereas The Governor has announced the abolition of the present administrative system of issuing motor vehicle license plates to favored persons and that he will permit the issue of such plates only in the democratic way in the order of the receipt of applications and

Whereas It is deemed proper to permit and protect the placing of identifying marks on passenger cars owned by certain officers connected with the three coordinate branches of government and the Pennsylvania National Guard therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter it shall be lawful for any person being within the classes enumerated by this section and being the owner of any passenger motor vehicle to display on the front door one on each side of any such motor vehicle the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania inside a circle not more than five inches in diameter

This section shall be construed to apply to (a) the Governor (b) the Lieutenant Governor (c) the head and deputy of every executive and administrative State department (d) every member of an independent administrative board and commission and the executive secretaries thereof (e) the Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent of the State Police (f) members and officers of the Senate and House of Representatives and of the legislative branch of government (g) judges of courts of record and (h) officers of the National Guard above the rank of major

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any person other than persons coming within the classes enumerated in section one of this act to display the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on any motor vehicle whatever or for any person permitted by this act to display such coat-of-arms to display the same contrary to the provisions of section one of this act or after his or her term of office has expired Any person violating the provisions of this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be imprisoned for a period of ten days Each day a motor vehicle is operated displaying the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth contrary to the provisions of this act shall constitute a separate offense

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2220, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund," providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," by prescribing uniform policy provisions for industrial life insurance as herein defined.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That article eleven of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws three hundred forty-three) entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government providing for the settlement assessment collection and lien of taxes bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth and all agencies thereof of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties affecting every department board commission and officer of the State government every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions every person association and corporation required to pay assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay licenses fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth" is hereby amended by adding thereto sections one thousand one hundred eight and one thousand one hundred nine to read as follows

Section 1108 Payment of Accounts After Settlement Without Prejudice to Right of Resettlement Review and Appeal Whenever any settlement of an account in favor of the Commonwealth for any tax bonus or other claim shall have been made by the Department of Revenue and shall have become valid by approval of the Auditor General or otherwise any person association corporation public officer or other debtor against whom such settlement shall have been made believing himself itself or themselves aggrieved thereby shall have the right at any time thereafter to pay to the Department of Revenue the full amount of such settlement or any part thereof without prejudice to his its or their right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement to the Department of Revenue a petition for review to the Board of Finance and Revenue or an appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County in the manner provided in this act Provided That such payment shall be accompanied by a protest that the whole or any designated part of such payment is not justly and legally due and with the payment of such interest if any as may then be due upon the principal sum Paid

If the whole or any part of such settlement so paid under protest shall be paid within sixty (60) days after the settlement shall have become valid no interest or commission to the Attorney General shall be charged or collected thereon

If such payment shall be made at any time after the expiration of sixty (60) days and within ninety (90) days after the settlement shall have become valid or at any time after ninety (90) days thereafter and while there is pending a petition for resettlement or a petition for review it shall be accompanied by payment of such interest as is due and payable thereon under the provisions of this act

If such payment be made at any time after the Board of Finance and Revenue shall have acted upon a petition for review and within twenty-one (21) days after an appeal has been filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County it shall be accompanied with payment of interest at the rate of six per centum per annum but without any commission to the Attorney General

If such payment be made at any time after twenty-one (21) days after an appeal has been filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County it shall be accompanied with the payment of interest at the rate of six per centum per annum and a commission to the Attorney General at the rate fixed by this act

Whenever the principal amount due upon a resettlement or the principal amount determined to be due upon a petition to the Board of Finance and Revenue is less than the principal amount paid to the Department of Revenue under protest and the person association corporation public officer or other debtor against whom such settlement has been made is satisfied therewith or whenever the principal amount due upon the final judgment entered on any appeal is less than the principal amount paid to the Department of Revenue under protest the Department of Revenue shall enter a credit in the amount of such difference to the account of such person association corporation public officer or other debtor Such credit may be used by the person association corporation public officer or other debtor to whose account it is entered in payment of any tax bonus or other claim which may be or become due from him it or them to the Commonwealth and if all such charges have been fully paid any remaining credit may be assigned to any other person association corporation public officer or other debtor and such assignee may use it in payment of any such obligation to the Commonwealth

Section 1109 Payment Before Settlement Without Prejudice to Right of Resettlement Review or Appeal Any person association or corporation which is required to make to the Department of Revenue a report upon the basis of which any bonus tax or other charge is to be settled or assessed shall have the right prior to such settlement to pay to the Department of Revenue on account thereof any amount which he it or they may elect without prejudice to his its or their right after such settlement shall have been made to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement to the Department of Revenue a petition for review to the Board of Finance and Revenue or an appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County in like manner as if such payment had not been made

If the amount finally determined to be due shall be less than the amount paid the difference may be used by such person association or corporation in payment of any tax bonus or other claim which may be or become due from him it or them to the Commonwealth and if all such charges have been fully paid any remaining credit may be assigned to any other person association or corporation and such assignee may use it in payment of any such obligation to the Commonwealth

Section 2 That section one thousand two hundred and two of said act as amended by section one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred eighteen) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1202 Procedure for the Collection of Transfer Inheritance Taxes on Transfers from Estates of Nonresident Decedents The Department of Revenue shall exercise the following powers and perform the following duties heretofore exercised and performed by the Auditor General in connection with the collection of transfer inheritance taxes on transfers from estates of nonresident decedents

(a) Whenever property within this Commonwealth is transferred from a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealth at the time of death the Department of Revenue whenever occasion may require on the application of any interested party or upon its own motion shall appoint an appraiser to appraise the value of such property if subject to transfer inheritance tax Every such appraiser shall forthwith give notice by mail to such person as the Department of Revenue shall direct of the time and place when and where he will appraise such property He shall at such time and place make a fair conscionable appraisement of said property and assess and fix the cash value of all annuities on life-estates growing out of said estates upon which annuities and life-estates the tax imposed by this act shall be immediately payable out of the estate and he shall make report thereof and of such value in writing to the Department of Revenue which report shall be filed in the office of the department and the department shall immediately give notice thereof by mail to all parties known by it to be interested therein

(b) Whenever the interests of the Commonwealth may require the Department of Revenue is authorized to appoint such additional appraisers or employ such investigators or experts as it may deem best to make appraisements of or investigations in regard to the property of any nonresident decedent subject to transfer inheritance tax The compensation of all such persons so employed by the department shall be fixed by the Secretary of Revenue with the approval of the Governor as in other cases

(c) Any person not satisfied with the appraisement made by an appraiser appointed by the Department of Revenue may appeal within thirty days to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County on paying or giving security to pay all costs together with whatever tax shall be fixed by the court Upon such appeal the court may determine all questions of valuation and the liability of the appraised estate for such tax subject to the right of appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court

Any person not satisfied with such appraisement shall have the right at any time thereafter to pay the full amount of the tax assessed thereon or any part thereof without prejudice to his right to file and prosecute an appeal therefrom Provided That such payment shall be accompanied with a protest that the whole or any designated part thereof is not justly and legally due and with the payment of such interest if any as may then be due upon the principal sum paid Whenever the whole or any part of such tax shall have been so paid under protest before the filing of an appeal the appellant shall be required to give security only for the payment of all costs and such additional tax as shall be fixed by the court

Whenever the amount of tax determined by the final judgment entered upon any such appeal shall be less than the principal sum paid under protest the Department of Revenue shall enter a credit in the amount of such difference to the account of the appellant Such credit may be used by the appellant in payment of any other tax claim or charge which may be due or become due from him to the Commonwealth and if all such charges have been fully paid any remaining credit may be assigned to any other person association or corporation and such assignee may use it in payment of any such obligation to the Commonwealth

(d) The Department of Revenue shall enter in a public record the returns made by all appraisers appointed by it to appraise the property of nonresident decedents within this Commonwealth subject to transfer inheritance taxes opening an account in favor of the Commonwealth against each such decedent's estate The Department of Revenue may give certificates of payment of said tax from said record and upon payment thereof shall give a receipt therefor to the party paying the same

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1755, entitled:

An Act to amend section two and section four hundred and eleven of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws fifteen one thousand nine hundred thirty-three one thousand nine hundred thirty-four) entitled "An act to regulate and restrain the sale importation and use of certain alcoholic beverages conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board the Department of Public Instruction other officers of the State government courts and district attorneys authorizing the establishment and operation of State stores for the sale of such beverages not for consumption on the premises and the granting of licenses subject to local option to sell such beverages for consumption on the premises forbidding importation or bringing of such beverages into the State except as herein provided prohibiting certain sales or practices in connections with and transactions in such beverages by licensees and others making disposition of the receipts from State stores and of license fees and imposing penalties" better defining the word "club" and permitting sales by clubs on Sundays and election days

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend as follows, Section 2, page 3, line 17, by striking out after the word "and" the balance of the sentence, and all of line 18, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "whose net receipts from alcoholic beverages shall not be more than fifty percent of the gross receipts of the Club.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2043, as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. TROUT asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 6, Printer's No. 1522, on page 28 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 6 as follows:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of the act approved the twentieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 521), entitled, "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal," limiting the compensation of registers of wills in the collection of transfer inheritance taxes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That section twenty-one of the act approved the twentieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 521), entitled, "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 21. The registers of wills upon their filing with the Auditor General the bond hereinafter required shall be the agents of the Commonwealth for the collection of the said tax in the case of resident decedents. For services rendered in collecting and paying over the same they shall be allowed to retain for their own use upon the gross amount collected during any year five per centum upon the tax collected if such tax shall amount to a sum of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars or less than three per centum on the amounts collected in excess of fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars and not exceeding one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars and not over two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars and one-half of one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars and not over one million ($1,000,000) dollars and one-quarter of one per centum on the amounts collected in excess of one million ($1,000,000) dollars, provided that the compensation of the register of wills as agent of the Commonwealth in the collection of said taxes shall not in any year exceed the total sum of seven thousand dollars ($7,000)

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. ATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1554, Printer's No. 1417, on page 55 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1554, entitled:

An Act relating to landlord and tenant and amending revising changing and consolidating the law relating thereto

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman, from Armstrong, if he will not withdraw that motion. The bill was passed over. It cannot be reached until Monday. The situation is this: This is a landlord and tenant code. I realize it is important but the bill was introduced at the request of the Bar Association of Pennsylvania. The preparation of a code was participated in by Mr. Fertig of the Reference Bureau. I tried to reach him on the telephone earlier, but I found he was engaged in a meeting of the Retirement Board. If it goes back to the Committee on Judiciary General, it will be unlikely that it will be reached before Tuesday, then it would be reported out and there would be no chance of its being passed, while, if it is allowed to go over until Monday, if there are serious objections, they can be taken care of, and if there are minor objections they can be ironed out, we can then amend it and have a chance to send it to the Senate. Under the circumstances and because of the amount of work which Mr. Fertig and some of the members of the bar have put into this, in view of those facts I think that we ought not to send this bill back to committee but ought to pass it over.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, this bill was sponsored by the Bar Association. I find several things in the bill that I object to very much especially at this time and I would like to have it go back to the Judiciary General Committee, where we can take it up.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. CANNON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2253, Printer's No. 1251, on page 63, of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. CANNON.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 2253, entitled:

An Act requiring the Commonwealth political subdivisions persons firms and corporations to stipulate in specifications upon which contracts for the construction alteration or repairs of any work or improvement are entered into the minimum wages to be paid to laborers and mechanics and providing for the stipulation of penalties in such contracts where such minimum wage stipulations are violated and for the recovery of such penalties and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CANNON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 6, by inserting after the word "improvement" the following: "and which wage or wages shall be sufficient to secure domestic happiness and provide an American standard of living."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, on page 35 of today's calendar, Senate Bill No. 1296, is a bill that makes operative in the city of Scranton, the Huffman-Rankin law passed earlier in this session. The taxpayers of Scranton are asking for the passage of this bill so that they can get the benefit of the act. Notwithstanding the fact that we made a motion and passed it unanimously that we only act on House Bills, I ask permission to call this bill up so that the people in Scranton who are withholding payment of their taxes will get the benefit of its intent.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. COLEMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2870, Senate Bill No. 1296, on page 35, of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2870 (Senate Bill No. 1296), as follows:

An Act to amend the title and to reenact and amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Act Number fifty-two) entitled "An act authorizing the abatement of certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes" by correcting the title extending the time for the payment of taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five in certain cases in order to receive the benefits of said act excluding certain taxes from the provisions of the act and fixing the dates when taxes shall be deemed delinquent

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the title and act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Act Number fifty-two) entitled "An act authorizing the abatement of certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes" are hereby amended and reenacted to read as follows

An Act [authorizing the abatement of] Abating certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties and interest imposed on delinquent county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years assessed against any real estate shall be abated by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided

In order to receive the benefits of this act twenty per centum of the delinquent taxes due for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and for all previous years shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and the final twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine And provided [further] That the respective current taxes for the years during such installment periods shall be paid before they become delinquent Provided further That where any tax become delinquent and if such current taxes are not paid before they become delinquent then any penalties and interest abated on any instalment of delinquent taxes theretofore paid shall be added to the remaining instalments of unpaid delinquent taxes Provided further That where any tax for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five became delinquent prior to the effective date of the act to which this is an amendment or becomes delinquent at any time within thirty days after the effective date of the act to which this is an amendment such tax and any penalties due thereon shall be paid at any time on or before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five in order to receive the benefits of this act

If any taxpayer availing himself of the provisions of this act shall fail to pay any installment of taxes as hereinbefore provided for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years as hereinbefore provided then the penalties and interest due on such unpaid installment or installments shall not be abated

Any taxpayer may anticipate the payment of such delinquent taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and previous years at any time on or before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and receive the benefit of this act and in such cases payment of current taxes shall not be required

This act shall be construed to apply to all taxes whether or not liens for such taxes have been returned for nonpayment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county or where real property has been sold to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and the period of redemption has not expired but this act shall not be construed to apply to cases where real property has been sold other than to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and where the period of redemption has not expired

The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any grantee transferee mortgagee or other party in interest in the real estate against which the above mentioned taxes have been assessed and levied

For the purposes of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2270.

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1530), entitled "An act relating to the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp, and the establishment of a reservoir for the flood control of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers; confirming and continuing certain powers and duties on the Department of Forests and Waters in relation to the establishment and maintenance of such reservoir; providing for the acquisition of necessary lands therefor, and the necessary agreements and releases relating thereto, and the disposition of surplus land and materials," conferring additional powers and duties on the Water and Power Resources Board.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2900, Senate Bill No. 1346, Printer's No. 639, on page 43 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2900 (Senate Bill No. 1346), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Act number seventy-five) (Pamphlet Laws) entitled "An act providing for the abatement under certain circumstances of tax penalties and interest on certain city taxes in cities of the first class and on certain school taxes in school districts of the first class" by changing the date on which the instalment payments provided therein shall commence permitting taxpayers to anticipate the payment of delinquent taxes if current and prior taxes are paid and relieving real estate from the payment of certain costs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Act number seventy-five) (Pamphlet Laws) entitled "An act providing for the abatement under certain circumstances of tax penalties and interest on certain city taxes in cities of the first class and on certain school taxes in school districts of the first class" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties and interest imposed on delinquent city or school taxes in cities of the first class and in school districts of the first class for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and for all previous tax years and the penalties imposed on such taxes for the tax year of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four shall be abated by the council of such city or by the board of public education of such school district as the case may be if the following provisions are complied with

(a) That all of the said respective delinquent taxes are paid in four equal semi-annual instalments beginning [June] August first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and that

(b) The respective current taxes for the years during such instalment period shall be paid before they become delinquent

"Section 2 In case any taxpayer shall default in the payment of any instalment of taxes or in the payment of current taxes, as required in section one of this act, the penalties and interest, or penalties as the case may be, on the instalments of such delinquent taxes remaining shall not be abated but shall remain due and payable as provided by existing law.

At any time during the instalment period, any taxpayer may pay the entire amount of, or the balance due on, delinquent taxes, whereupon penalties, interest and all costs on delinquent taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and prior years and penalties and all costs on delinquent taxes for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four shall be abated and all liens filed for such delinquent taxes satisfied of record; provided, however, taxes for the then current year and all prior years are paid.

Section 3. The abatement of penalties and interest on such taxes shall be made whether or not liens for such taxes have been filed in the office of the prothonotary or proceedings for the collection of such taxes shall have been instituted in any court of such county, and the taxpayer and the real estate shall not [become] be liable for the payment of any costs incurred in filing such liens or in prosecuting such proceedings."

Section 2. This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Legislative Journal.

Session 1935. 131st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 18. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1935 No. 77

SENATE

MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1935

The Senate met at 3 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord God, at the beginning of another week, which may be the final week of this Regular Session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the year 1935, we approach Thy presence, seeking Thy guidance and help. We thus seek Thee because we need Thee. We need Thee every hour, but at such a time as this our need is most urgent indeed.

There still remains problems to be solved and issues to be decided. May these men who are responsible for the proper settlement of these vital questions approach their tasks prayerfully, seriously and in the fear of God.

Bless our Governor and both Houses of our Legislature. Make the ultimate result of their labors a blessing to our people and an honor to Thy great name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE PITTSBURGH RIPPER BILL

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution No. 1, Printer's No. 580.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, June 3, 1935.

Whereas There was introduced into the General Assembly a bill commonly known as the Pittsburgh Ripper Bill that if enacted into law will abolish the office of Mayor in the City of Pittsburgh and

Whereas The real purpose of this bill seems to be to remove the Honorable William McNair from the office of Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh by legislative authority nothwithstanding that he could be removed by appropriate legal proceedings if found guilty of malfeasance in office or that he had been elected to the office of Mayor at the preceding election by a large majority of the votes cast or that a newspaper poll taken after the introduction into the General Assembly of the above mentioned bill indicated that a large majority of the voters were still desirous of having him as their chief executive and

Whereas The real objection to having the said William McNair serve as Mayor for the full term to which he had been elected seems to be that his independence in the administration of his official duties especially his dispensing of political patronage is not satisfactory to the Democratic organization of that City and

Whereas Various newspapers circulating in Pennsylvania have published news items and have given considerable editorial space to the above mentioned bill generally agreeing that all the Democratic Senators will support the bill and inferring if not actually alleging that in order to secure the votes of seven Republican Senators necessary to have the bill pass that parties having at their disposal political patronage were offering Republican Senators jobs or positions for their friends or constituents in return for votes to have the said bill reported out of committee and for final passage in the Senate and

Whereas This seems to be a serious reflection on the honesty and integrity of members of the Senate therefore be it

Resolved That the President pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a committee consisting of three Senators to investigate the charges made by various newspapers as to the methods used to secure the passage of said bill and of all lobbying done in the interest of this bill or of any offer made to any member of the General Assembly for his or her support in favor of said bill and to all other matters in connection therewith The said committee to make a report of its findings to the Senate for such action as may seem desirable And be it further

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subponeas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary

Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subponeas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, if there is to be an investigation of lobbying in the Senate I propose that we have a real investigation of lobbying:

Mr. President, I offer the following amendment:

Amend page 2, paragraph 3, by striking out all of lines 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: Resolved That the President pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a committee consisting of three Senators, two of whom shall be Republicans and one of whom shall be a Democrat, to investigate the charges made by various newspapers as well as the numerous rumors as to the methods used to secure the passage or defeat of said bill, the Chain Store Tax Bill, the Full Crew Bill, the Short Train Bill, the Utility Tax Bill, the Graduated Income Tax Bill, and the Gasoline Tax Bill and of all lobbying done in the interest of the passage or defeat of any or all of said bills or of any offer made to any member of the General Assembly for his or her support for the passage or defeat of any or all of said bills and to all other matters in connection therewith. The said committee to make a written report of its findings to the Senate for such action as the Senate deems desirable. And be it further

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I second the amendment.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I object to these amendments for this reason: The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, says he wants the matters investigated that he has indicated. If he does want them investigated he can introduce another resolution; I object to the insertion of these amendments in this resolution, because this refers to a particular matter and, I think, should be kept separate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this amendment is germane to the original resolution.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I fully agree with the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor. I would vote for a separate resolution of the kind proposed in the amendments by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis; I do not think they ought to be inserted in the original resolution because it would cause confusion, it would only confuse the issue. You cannot investigate all of these things at the one time; but I propose to go to the bottom of the investigation of this matter of the Pittsburgh Ripper. It is a vital thing to the people of Pittsburgh, and should not be confused with any other issue. If the Senator from Allegheny, Mr McGinnis, will prepare a separate resolution, he will have my full cooperation and support on the passage of it; because I believe that any bill here that has the support of anyone whose methods are improper or illegal—the illegal methods should be investigated. But this resolution should be acted on separately and distinctly. It is of vital importance. I do not think that the people outside of Pittsburgh realize just how important this is; and I would suggest to the members of the Senate that they vote down these amendments, vote for the resolution as originally presented, and then request the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, to prepare another resolution for the investigation into any matters he wants investigated. Now, let us not confuse this issue; let us do one thing at a time. Let us investigate this matter, and then, if there is another bill—if it is chain stores—make that the subject of another resolution, and go into it separately.

And I suggest, also, that these investigations need not end when this session ends, but can continue on after the session; and let the resolution read that they shall continue after we adjourn here if there is any question on which we cannot do a proper job in the short time remaining.

Now I suggest that we vote down these amendments, and vote for the resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what assurrance do we have that if the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, withdraws the amendments, and introduces a resolution, that that resolution will be brought on the floor of this Senate?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, is the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, asking me that question?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I take it, in respect to the last retort, it was not the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, who suggested the introduction of a new resolution I think the question is proper.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, my answer is the same as this one to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis: I promise to support such a resolution. In answer to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, as far as I am concerned I will support any resolution that asks for an inquiry into any matter in which the honesty and integrity of any of the members of the Senate is at stake; and if this committee is authorized—and I am a member of the committee—I promise you I will be glad to receive any information whatsoever that will throw any light on this matter, and let the chips fall where they may.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I ask same question of the Senator from Pittsburgh, Mr. Harris?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, to begin with I would say to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that I am a resident of Grafton, Pennsylvania, and not of Pittsburgh.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what interest, then, has the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, in Mr. McNair's ripper?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, seven wards of my district are in the City of Pittsburgh, and I represent those people as well as the people outside.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what assurance have we that when the new resolution is adopted the committee will report it to this floor so we may vote for it?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will ask the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, to repeat his question.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what assurance have we in this Senate that after the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, introduces a resolution it will be reported to the floor and we can vote on it?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, if he will take his blue book and find the chairman of the committee to which this will go—we do not know yet where it will go to—and make a canvass of the members of the committee and find a majority of the members say they will support the resolution, then he will get his answer; but if he asks me if I can assure him that it will come out, I will certainly have to brand that as a very foolish question.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, if the resolution is not reported out in seasonable time will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, then vote for the discharge of the committee?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, having had plenty of practice at that—four times last week—I say to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, I certainly will do that.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, if he will do the same thing?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, we now have a resolution in there, I believe, introduced to investigate the charges made by the Governor as to lobbying on the chain store tax. I assure the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, I will vote for that resolution as well as for any resolution to discharge a committee from further consideration of a resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the question is whether the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, will vote to discharge the committee if the committee does not report the resolution out in reasonable time, so it can be adopted by this Senate.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I will say to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that when I came to the Senate I made no promise to any person at all. I refused to answer any questionnaire, and I came down here as an absolutely free agent.

I might further say to him that I will continue to act absolutely as a free agent; I will make no promises to him about any matter whatsoever.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, do I understand, then, that the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, did not make a promise to vote for the resolution?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, which resolution is the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, talking about?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, Senator McGinnis' resolution, that the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, suggested he introduce.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, that is a promise made right here in the open, and I told him I would vote for that, as I will vote for any other proper resolution that comes before this Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, if I thought this written resolution was offered in good faith, and was not political, I would have no confusion about it; but here is a resolution about lobbying with regard to one bill, and I am sure every Senator will agree with me there has been a great deal more lobbying on this floor against this bill than for it; and it strikes me rather strangely that Senators on the other side, who have been here for some time, get all stirred up about lobbying. If they wanted to break up lobbying in this Chamber, I am sure they would have started earlier in the session of the Legislature, because we know that this present Chamber, as well as the other side of the house, has been infested with lobbyists—and not from ordinary people but from the powers that be; and here comes along a little innocent bill, that affects only the City of Pittsburgh, and the Senators on the other side seem to get very much aroused about what might happen. Therefore, a resolution is offered to investigate only one side of the lobbying. My amendment proposes that the other side of lobbying, on the other bills, be investigated. While we are started on the subject of lobbying let us not camouflage, let us do a real job; let us clean all the lobbyists out of the Chamber and stop it on all bills. That is the purpose of this amendment, and I ask for a roll call on the amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McGINNIS and Mr. LAW, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Aron,	Mallery,	Reed,	Rupp,
Baumer,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Sones,
Cavalcante,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Thompson,
Frey,	Miller,	Roberts,	(Centre)
Huffman,	Rankin,	Rodgers,	Trainer,

Chapman,	Homsher,	Prince,	Thompson,
Clark,	Howell,	Pytko,	(Westmoreland)
Coyne,	Hunsicker,	Reed,	Woodward,
Ealy,	Kahle,	(Dauphin)

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, speaking on the resolution as it is now before the Senate, I am afraid that if I am to be given just a limited power and must ignore the lobbying activities of the chain stores, the utilities, the railroads—all the other interests that have spent so much time in the past six months in the Hall of this Senate; if I have to limit my activities to the investigation of one very meager lobby, I am very much afraid I must vote against the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McGINNIS and Mr. FREY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—31

Aron,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Rodgers,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Norton,	Salus,
Bean,	Harris,	Owlett,	Shapiro,
Bennett,	Harvey,	Pierson,	Staudenmeier,

SENATE BILLS ON THIRD READING GIIVEN PREFERENCE

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in the consideration of bills on third reading today I move that preference be given to Senate Bills in their order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 180, entitled

An Act making it unlawful for any water company to discontinue the supply of water for fire protection purposes providing for the collection of water rates from cities boroughs and towns and townships and prescribing penalties and providing for enforcement by the Public Service Commission

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. BEAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title by inserting in the first line after the word 'unlawfufl" the words "under certain conditions"; and in line 1 of the title add the words "to any municipality"; the title will then read: "Making it unlawful under certain conditions for any water company to discontinue to any municipality the supply of water for fire protection purposes, providing for the collection of water rates from cities, boroughs, towns and townships, and prescribing penalties"; also amend section 1, line 11, by adding the words: "; without first having secured the approval of the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania evidenced by its Certificate of Public Convenience authorizing discontinuance of such service"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is informed that Senate Bill No. 707, on third reading entitled:

An Act to provide for and regulate the annual licensing of persons copartnerships associations and corporations doing any outdoor advertising by means of billboards signs or structures and the issuing of permits for the erection use and maintenance thereof levying an excise tax for the use of the Commonwealth prescribing the location in which said billboards signs and structures may be located and providing penalties is being reprinted to correct typographical errors and will be here later in the day. The bill will therefore go over in its order.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1142, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment in counties of the first class of different rates of taxation on land and the improvements thereon by means of separate assessments of the land values and the values of improvements on or in the land and a sliding scale for apportioning the percentages of the total amount of revenue from taxes upon real property to be borne by unimproved land and improvements on or in the land from the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven to the year one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight and thereafter be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Government.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, what is the purpose of having this bill recommitted?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am moving to recommit the bill for the purpose of further study. That bill upsets the system of taxation in Philadelphia; it changes our whole method of taxing, that we have used for years, and makes compulsory a system of taxation which should never be imposed on a community without regard to their ability to take care of the indebtedness. We would never be able to cover our existing indebtedness, no matter what the indebtedness was.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this is similar to the law we have in Pittsburgh, known as the Graded Tax Bill. It was passed in 1913, and is a graded tax on land, increasing the taxation on land values. So, since 1925, in Pittsburgh, the tax on land or land values has been twice the tax on buildings or improvements.

This bill provides a similar change in the taxation of Philadelphia; it provides for it gradually each year until the year 1948. I am frank to say that this bill is based on the Single Tax, but I do not think that we ought to be afraid of that—just because it is based on the Single Tax theory of taxation.

I am sure that every Senator on this floor realizes that during the past several months we have been dealing with taxation, and I am sure that every Senator reluctantly taxed every industry and every business that was taxed. Of course, some people say it does not make a bit of difference whether we tax land or whether we tax buildings or industry; but to my mind, Mr. President, it makes all the difference in the world, because if you increase taxes on land it will get cheaper, increase the taxes on anything else under the sun and it will get dearer. Now, who shall be taxed? Increase the tax on land and you will drive it into use; increase the tax on anything made by hand—I do not care what it is—and you will drive it out of use. At one time in France they taxed houses according to the number of windows, and they built houses in France without a single window. You increase the tax on every lot in Harrisburg tonight, and I will guarantee the price will go down tomorrow morning; but if you increase the tax on anything in Harrisburg made by hand—a suit of clothes, for instance—and I will guarantee the price will go up tomorrow morning.

Increase the taxation on land and you do not change the quantity one iota; increase the taxes on anything else under the sun, that is made by hand, and you decrease the quanity and deny those things to human beings. In Pennsylvania and in every other State in this Union if you rob a chicken coop you are fined once for it; but if you build a chicken coop in Pennsylvania you are fined every year for it. If you have a lot in the heart of our cities that may be worth millions of dollars, covered with tin cans—an eyesore—you pay very little tax; whereas the next lot to it may have a skyscraper on it, and the man who put up that skyscraper is fined heavily every year for it; and I say, Mr. President, it is better in every city to have skyscrapers, to have decent buildings on which there are no taxes, than to have vacant lots covered with tin cans.

In the City of Pittsburgh, for instance, I will give you one occupant, at Kaufmann's Corner. Kaufmann's genius in business rendered that lot so valuable that he paid a thousand dollars a day on that lot. They put up their own store; they employed five thousand clerks; and yet the owner of the land does not turn his hand, though he draws a thousand dollars a day from that business. Under this bill most of that thousand dollars a day would go into the public treasury of the City of Pittsburgh.

Now, of course, you raise your hands and say, "But this is Single Tax!" but I want to say to you that Henry George wrote "Progress and Poverty" about fifty years ago and today "Progress and Poverty" has a wider circulation than any book on the globe except the Bible; it is published in every town. So he must have said something; it surely was not all clap-trap. And I am sure the law we have in Pittsburgh, known as the "Graded Tax Law," is one of the best laws the city has ever had. They tried, for the first few sessions after the Act was passed, to come down here and have it repealed; but since that time they have ceased their efforts, and today in Pittsburgh—the Senators from Pittsburgh will bear me out—that law worked out most satisfactorily. It has turned the Schenley Farms, where cows used to graze, into an improved district. Land values, that the people themselves created, forced the owners of those farms in the City of Pittsburgh to turn them into buildings for human dwellings—instead of leaving the land as pasture for a few cows.

And so, Mr. President, I am sure that if this bill were to be passed for the City of Philadelphia it would compel every vacant lot in the City of Philadelphia to be built up and used for the purpose it was intended to be used for. The idea of holding lots out of use, away from humanity, so that the increase of population will increase the value, is wrong. Did you know that if you take the census of every city in the United States every ten years you will find that every baby is born—

The PRESIDENT. Let us have order down in the rear end of the Senate Chamber, please.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, if you follow the census of every city in the United States you will find the population increase every ten years, in the centers of population—you will find that for every baby born the owner of the land has increased about a thousand dollars, I do not know what the ratio is in Philadelphia, but in Pittsburgh, for all our skyscrapers, for all our magnificent buildings, for all our wealth that is on top of the ground, the wealth in the ground itself is as much as all the wealth on top of it.

And so we in Pittsburgh do not fine those people, for building a home, more than 50%. To my mind it would be better not to fine them at all. But in Pittsburgh we are wise enough not to fine a man 100% for building a home; we fine him only 50%. We do fine a man having a piece of land, a valuable site, a home site, a business site, held out of use, because he is withholding from humanity the use of that land.

Henry George said, at the conclusion of "Progress and Poverty", "The truth I have tried to make clear will not find easy acceptance. If that could be, it would have been accepted long ago. If that could be it would unquestionably have been obscured. But it will find friends, —those who will toil for it, fight for it, if need be die for it. This is the power of truth."

Mr. WOODWARD. What I cannot understand is why a Senator from a second class county is legislating for us in a first class county. We are very happy in our backward method of assessing land values and improvements thereon; and while I have great respect for the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, it seems to me it is out of place for him, coming from a second class county, to instruct us, coming from a first class county.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I cannot believe that the City of Philadelphia is satisfied with its present condition, its present taxation methods. I am sure, if you could travel to the City of Philadelphia, you would be ashamed of the slums, of the tumble-down shacks that are not fit for human beings to live in; and I cannot believe that Philadelphia is still contented, even though it is corrupt.

And I will guarantee the good Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, that if this bill is passed, by 1948 there will not be a slum down there.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to inquire a little further, if not directly from the Senator who just spoke, and wonder why, if Henry George, who lived in hope and died in despair why, if he is taking up the cudgels for Henry George, the gentleman does not make it why he picks on Philadelphia, both in tax measures and in words in the Senate, calling it corrupt—without anything to back up such a statement—I do not know.

I oppose this bill because, as I say, it will upset our system of taxation, and prevent us from acquiring the money to run our city government. This bill provides that in counties of the first class the value of each piece of land shall, for the purpose of this law, be deemed to be that which it would have if it were wholly unimproved. And it then proceeds to set up a method of taxation not from the land at a certain value but to receive from the properties 60% of the revenue from the value of the land and 40% from the improvements. There are some properties in Philadelphia of which the land is worth five times as much as the buildings; other properties where the buildings are worth ten times the value of the land.

In Philadelphia we assess the land at so much per square foot, depending on the neighborhood and the replacement value of the buildings. We do it on the basis of what the whole piece of property is worth. This might be all right in a small city like Pittsburgh, where the property, where they can afford to fool around with their system of taxation; and, coming, as it does, from the gentleman from Pittsburgh, furthering the theory of a man whom they have been trying to oust from the office of Mayor of Pittsburgh, I am surprised. I am informed that this is one of Mayor McNair's pet theories—the Single Tax; and this is one of the reasons, as I understand it, that they want to oust him; and after the gentleman has so far forgotten himself as to want to delve into for another argument to oust Mayor McNair.

I suggest, Mr. President, that this bill all the delegates on this side of the house are opposed to this bill, because we think it is an unscientific method of taxation, in spite of Henry George and his strenous constituents.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I would just like to say that Philadelphia is very much in favor of this bill. On my desk, this morning, I have about 300 telegrams for the bill, and one in particular is from Dr. McCallum of the Presbyterian Church at 39th and Walnut Streets, who says, "Right in front of our church now a beautiful property has been torn down, and they have a junk yard there."

I think perhaps it is ignorance on Dr. Woodward's part, or Senator Shapiro's; and that perhaps they do not understand the conditions in Philadelphia; but today we are very much opposed to tearing down properties in Philadelphia and having the ground used as a junk yard or for some other purpose; and I do hope that the good Senators from Philadelphia will change their minds once in a while, and let us have their vote "aye" from every Senator in this Chamber. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will please understand that the motion before the Senate is a motion to recommit.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesch, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, it would be useless to answer the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, because he has got his mind, perhaps, made up.

The PRESIDENT. That settles that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the purpose of the record I would like to state—

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, let me tell you this is a recommit, and I would ask the Senators to vote "no".

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the purpose of the record I merely wish to state that I desire to inquire of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, whether the charge of ignorance he has made against me is one that is specific or general.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, seriously on this bill,—this bill is no different from the Pittsburgh graded tax bill—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has been lenient with both sides with regard to the discussion on this matter, but let the Chair call to your attention that you are not discussing the motion before the Senate. The motion is to recommit.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McCREESH and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1425, on third reading, entitled:

An Act giving owners the right to elect to pay delinquent taxes on seated lands for one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and prior years in instalments abating penalties and interest on taxes for such years upon the payment of such instalments together with the taxes for current years and in certain instances of accrued costs extending the period for redemption of lands sold to counties where it has not already expired providing for sales of lands already advertised for sale for delinquency in payment of taxes providing for sales of land as to which the owner has not performed the requirements of the act after an election and for the sale of lands as to which no election has been made by the owner and repealing inconsistent laws be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, this bill is essential for the clarification of Senate Bill No. 141, which is sort of a moratorium on tax sales, Senator Huffman's bill, which was passed in the early part of the session. The bill is No. 1425. It amends this whole system and makes it workable particularly in up-state counties, where it will not be workable at all. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, appears to resent to much Senators from other districts interfering with affairs in Philadelphia, and I would just like to call his attention to the fact, nor the other bills similar to this, have any effect on the disposition of land on tax sales in Philadelphia, where they work under an entirely different set of Acts of Assembly and do not have County Treasurer sales at all. It is going to be pretty nearly impossible next year to know exactly what to do in tax sales in many of the up-state counties unless this legislation is passed, and I earnestly request the Senators in this body to pass this Act, because it will throw the disposition of lands on tax sales into very much of a confusion unless a clarifying act such as this is passed. This bill has been drafted by some of the men who know as much, if not more, about disposition of properties on county treasurers' sales than anyone in the State; it has been carefully considered by lawyers of the bar in a number of the counties in the central part of the State and by some of the Judges in the central part of the State, and it is they who are asking for this bill to clarify the situation which is created by the legislation which is before this House, and which has recently passed this House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my reason for recommitting this bill is for the purpose of making as clear as possible that it does not affect Philadelphia, because we have a separate tax bill applying to Philadelphia. The bill applying to Philadelphia is Senate Bill No. 616. I am not sure from the reading of this bill whether it relates merely to those properties which have been sold for delinquent taxes. If my friend, the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will say that he has read the bill and he is satisfied that it applies only to properties which have been sold, then it is no concern of ours at all. That is the only thing that was bothering me.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I do not intend to be very familiar with the laws governing taxation in Philadelphia, but I do not believe that they have any such thing as county treasurers' sales for taxes in Philadelphia.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). I shall be very glad, sir.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, whether this bill merely affects properties which have already been sold for taxes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, this bill is intended to cover property listed which is now in the county treasurers' hands, and does not apply to Philadelphia County. I want to call the attention of the Senators to section two of the bill:

"In all cases when taxes levied upon seated lands for the years 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934, or any of them, shall be delinquent.

It is because of that phrase, I thought it applied to all delinquent taxes.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I can assure the Senator from Philadelphia that this bill is not intended to in any way affect the situation in Philadelphia County. I hesitate to ask that the bill go over in its order on account of the very shortness of legislative days that are left, but I can assure the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that if he will withdraw his objections, the bill will be so amended in the House that it will not concern the sales of real estate in Philadelphia.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, for the benefit of the Senate, I would say that this bill was in Committee on Judiciary General and the bill was recommended very highly by some lawyers from all over the State and also some Judges, and it was the opinion of the committee when this bill was considered that it did not affect the city of Philadelphia, and it was a very necessary measure and would clarify the situation which has arisen. I hope the bill will pass.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I withdraw the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Howell, withdraw his second.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. The motion has been withdrawn.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1425, entitled:

An Act giving owners the right to elect to pay delinquent taxes on seated lands for one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and prior years in instalments abating penalties and interest on taxes for such years upon the payment of such instalments together with the taxes for current years and in certain instances of accrued costs extending the period for redemption of lands sold to counties where it has not already expired providing for sales of lands already advertised for sale for delinquency in payment of taxes providing for sales of land as to which the owner has not performed the requirements of the act after an election and for the sale of lands as to which no election has been made by the owner and repealing inconsistent laws

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1459, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to re-enact and amend the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" is amended by extending said act to members and employes of volunteer fire companies increasing compensation rates and benefits increasing medical and hospital benefits making changes in the definition of "wages" providing compensation for accidents arising out of and in the course of employment regulating proof in hernia cases further defining dependency as to widows extending the time for the commencement of proceedings to recover compensation in certain cases providing for autopsies in cases of death from injury further regulating the review modification reinstatement suspension and termination of original and supplemental agreements and awards requiring employers to pay the compensation of physicians surgeons and experts appointed by the board or referees to make examinations providing that final receipts for compensation shall be conclusive after two years further defining the jurisdiction and powers of the referees board and courts of common pleas and repealing section four hundred and twenty-six of said act go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I have been requested by several people to have this bill to go over in its order, and if there is no objection I will comply with their request, to give them an opportunity to amend the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1472, on third reading, entitled:

An Act defining the powers of persons partnerships associations or corporations operating cemeteries and burial grounds to act and make regulations governing their conduct and operations and prohibiting certain acts and conferring upon common pleas courts jurisdiction to restrain the violation of this act go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1510, entitled:

An Act to safeguard human health and life by providing for the issuance of permits to, and regulation of persons and entities selling milk and milk products; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Secretary of Health, the Advisory Health Board, and otherwise providing for the administration of the act; and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, whether he has prepared the amendments to this bill that he spoke about at the time we were discussing it last Wednesday.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, no, I have not.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will be very frank with the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, and I respectfully request the members of the Senate to vote this bill down on account of the reason advanced when it was under discussion last Wednesday.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I was going to ask that this bill go over in its order until later in the day.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I will agree to that, providing that the bill is not called up in my absence. It has been very difficult here this past week to attend to business, and my thought is that the amendments were to be offered.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, that is the idea.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, then I will agree that this bill shall go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1599, entitled:

An Act providing for the purchase and for the distribution of vitamin products as defined in this act to certain pupils in the public schools conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Health the Department of Public Instruction the Department of Property and Supplies school districts teachers and medical inspectors of schools and making an appropriation

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, page 2, line 15, by inserting after the letter "(a)" the following: "cod liver oil or"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1599, be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, this is a bill that was originated by the Department, and it is a bill to protect the children of our cities. We are spending millions of dollars for milk, and we have been giving them milk, bread and potatoes, but that does not supply the needs of the children. An investigation has been made and it has been determined that the children are falling short in the vitamins that they need. You read what was going on in the investigation in different States today. In Chicago it shows about sixty per cent of the children are underdeveloped along that line. Now this bill is to take care of that. It is to furnish to the school children vitamens to protect that needed condition that now exists and I cannot see why anyone would reject it and would put anybody in a condition that will surely in a little while result in malnutrition, ricketts, and so forth, simply because he objects to a small appropration. That is all it calls for. There is no catch, it is merely supplying the children's needs that their little bodies deserve, and we should see to our children now, and not let them grow up and in after years be undeveloped. I would like the Senate to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, when this bill was considered by the Committee on Education on the first occasion, those who were present were unanimous in saying that this bill should not be reported out. Its presence on the calendar today is explained by the fact, the Chairman tells me, that there was another meeting, which I did not attend. We were opposed to this bill and I am opposed to this bill for the reason that if we do not stop somewhere, this educational system of ours will take over the whole management of the children right in our homes. Senator Trainer has now offered an amendment of cod liver oil to those patent medicines which are going to be furnished. Somebody else will offer an amendment for bananas, and it seems to me ridiculous, and I do not think we should pass any bills in this Senate to say whether vitamen A or vitamen B should be furnished to the school children. These are matter that should be taken care of at home, and are, in a great measure, by the emergency relief, which has used up so many millions of dollars, that is the reason this bill should go back to committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply wish to reinforce what my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, says, that this bill is doing a good thing in a bad way. It is an emotional bill. This can be taken care of in a much better way than that. Therefore, I think it ought to be sent back to committee.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this bill was up in committee twice. Several doctors appeared at both hearings. It was thoroughly discussed, and to send the bill back to committee at this stage of the game, it seems to me merely a step to kill it, and so I want to warn the Senators that in returning this bill to committee at this period of the Sessions, probably means that the bill is dead. The doctors that appeared, disinterested doctors that appeared before our committee, all stated that our children were not getting the proper vitamens. With a few thousand dollars invested now in buying these vitamens for these children, when we are spending hundreds and hundreds of millions for the grown-ups, it would be much better if we would spend a few thousand dollars to buy these vitamens for these children, and this thing ought to be decided on this floor, not back in committee. It is on the floor now, it is late in the Session, and let the Senators on this floor decide whether these children should these vitamens or not.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, know how much money was donated in this bill for vitamens, and, now, cod liver oil.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, six hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is a bill in the Senate Committee on Appropriations now asking for a million and a half dollars to furnish milk to these school children, and that was turned down because there was not enough money in the educational fund to pay for it. Now this bill asks for an appropriation of $600,000 to serve vitamens A and B and cod liver oil to the children.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, this bill has the medical profession back of it. They have studied this question and it is a serious question in Pennsylvania, a most serious question. To raise $100,000 or $300,000, or $600,000 for the children of this State, it seems to me we ought to be able to do it. We are raising hundreds and hundreds of millions for other purposes, and it seems to me we ought to be able to raise this comparatively small amount to give the proper vitamens to the children that are suffering during this depression.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, because I want to have the public know how I vote on this bill, I ask for a roll call on the motion to recommit.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will point out that the bill has passed third reading, and the motion now before the Senate is to recommit to the Committee on Education.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, this bill, so far as milk is concerned, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, told you that there is an appropriation asked for to furnish the milk. We do not dispute but that the children are getting enough milk, but they are not getting the needed viamens their bodies should have, the vitamens that are derived from the various fish oils. I am in their homes and I see what they are like. I am treating them at the present time for malnutrition, and this is for their good. It is not, as he says, a million; it is a small appropriation, when we are spending hundreds of millions of dollars for adults, and many times, it seems ridiculous, but to take our children, the little infants, helpless, into this world and then let them suffer and go through life with their wrists turned and their joints twisted, and ricketts, it is highly necessary that we should furnish these vitamens to them.

And the question recurs,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—11

Batchelor,	Ealy,	Owlett,	Shapiro,
Bean,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Woodward,
Buckman,	Hunsicker,	Salus,

NAYS—38

Aron,	Harvey,	Prince,	Rupp,
Baumer,	Howell,	Pytko,	Sones,
Bennett,	Huffman,	Rankin,	Sordoni,
Cavalcante,	Kahle,	Reed,	Staudenmeier,
Chapman,	Law,	(Dauphin)	Thompson,
Clark,	Mallery,	Reed,	(Centre)
Coyne,	McClure,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Frey,	McCreesh,	Rice,	(Westmoreland)
Gelder,	McGinnis,	Roberts,	Trainer,
Graff,	Miller,	Rodgers,	Ziesenheim,
Harris,	Norton,

RECESS

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until nine o'clock this evening.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I desire to call the attention of the members of the Senate to the fact that this is the so-called "Billboard" bill, a copy of which is on your desks, and I might say that this bill as reported out of committee has been amended in some manner, as you will observe by reading the bill, that it is practically meaningless. This bill as it was originally presented provded for the so-called boards, and as it has since been amended, this part has been eliminated from the bill.

On page 2, the bill states: "The governmental agency hereinafter referred to is hereby created in order to regulate and control advertising and display signs and to preserve the amenities of localities to promote general welfare and preserve public safety especially in the particulars hereinafter recited."

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. The Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Rupp, is out of order. The motion is to recommit, and he cannot discuss the bill at this time.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I beg to differ with the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris. I made no motion.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Lehigh has not asked for a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator is very properly discussing the bill, there is no motion to recommit it.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I desire to call the attention of the Senate to page 2 of the bill, which provides "the governmental agency hereinafter referred to is hereby created in order to regulate and control advertising and display signs," and section 5, page 3, the amendments presented by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris—that section was entirely eliminated, thereby eliminating the so-called Board for the control of outdoor advertising. I might further call the attention of the Senators to the fact that on page 3 of this Act, it "shall not apply to outdoor advertising structures within the corporate limits of any city, town or borough."

I might also call your attention that the whole scheme of this bill is clearly to establish another bureaucracy. It provides for certain licensing fees for outdoor advertising. The fee in turn is to be used for the expenses of another Bureau. The real purpose of the bill is to eliminate the large billboards that we see on our highways that are so-called "eye sores," whereas, in my estimation, the most objectionable board advertising on our highways that are so-called "eye sores" are the small tin signs erected by irresponsible people, merchants who scatter their advertising on our highways without any effort to maintain them in any kind of a presentable condition. This bill does not attempt to regulate more than the large billboard advertising, and I think most of you gentlemen will agree with me that they are not as objectionable as are the small signs that litter our highway.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, in view of the way in which the bill has been amended, I move that it be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, when I made my remarks a few moments ago, I anticipated the action of the Senator from Lehigh. I just want to say that the most enthusiastic supporter of this bill, when it was originally presented, was the gentleman from Lehigh. It was referred to the committee, had a public hearing and later on the proponents of the bill modified it considerably to try to satisfy the opponents. On last Thursday morning, at the request of the opponents of the bill, I delayed action on it to give them time to make whatever amendments they desired to make. They prepared the amendments and it was necessary them to reconsider the action by which bill had passed second reading. I very courteously, I think, permitted them to reconsider the bill without opposition and allowed them to resent the amendments that they desired. Everything the opponents of this bill desired was done for them. They were not questioned in the least, every amendment that they wanted was prsented here on the floor last Thursday, and we now find that they are dissatisfied with their own amendments. Now the motion is to recommit. This is not a motion to recommit, it is a motion to kill, and when you "aye" on this motion, when you vote to recommit it, you do it with the knowledge that it kills your bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 1527

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1527 passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 2 by striking out lines 1 to 9, inclusive; amend page 2, line 10 by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "4" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "3"; amend page 3, line 6 by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "5" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "4"; amend page 4, line 7 by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "6" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "5"; amend page 4, line 9 by striking out after the word "Section" the numeral "7" and inserting in lieu thereof the numeral "6"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

SPECIAL ORDER ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The PRESIDENT. The hour of 10:30 having arrived, the special order on third reading and final passage of Senate Bill No. 1428.

Agreeably to order,

Section 2 This act shall become effective the first day of the month succeeding its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I assume that everyone knows that this is a bill which originally imposed a one-cent gasoline tax, which has been amended to increase the tax to two cents. Because of the fact that I am going to vote "aye" on this bill, I should like to explain my reasons, and at the same time in connection with this bill, call attention to a few facts that I think should be understood in order to be able to vote properly on this bill.

Mr. President, when we came here we were met with budget requirements of $203,000,000., and after many weeks of struggle, our Finance Committee said they came to the conclusion that the budget was high, and that $203,000,000. was not necessary. If we analyze the figures of the Finance Committee, we find that what has developed here is that $180,000,000. of this $203,000,000. is conceded to be necessary by everybody. In other words, our Finance Committee first came to the conclusion that in his estimate of the expected additional moneys, the Governor was asking $23,000,000. more than necessary. The position of the Finance Committee as to the difference is first, that the requested sum of $203,000,000. contains a provision for $15,000,000. payment of funds necessary to cover the relief requirements up until the beginning of this fiscal year, and inasmuch as the Government of the United States is taking care of that for half that period of time, there is only $7,500,000. necessary, thereby reducing the budget requirements by that amount. Secondly, that there has been an under estimate of the expected normal receipts of $16,000,000., so that we all agree that at least $180,000,000. are necessary.

The Finance Committee has come to the conclusion that at least $60,000,000. must be provided for this year's revenue. It is obvious, therefore, that we have to pay $60,000,000. this year, and any other additional funds that may be necessary to be met by reasons of unusual expenditures. It also follows that on one thing we had agreed, and that is that $60,000,000. is necessary in addition to the normal expenses. That is established by the fact that we have agreed to provide by additional taxation $120,000,000., sixty million of which is for relief and sixty million for additional revenue. If you take the budget and analyze some of these figures, you may find something that will make you ask yourselves the question, 'what are we trying to do and where are we going?' The $83,000,000., additional expenses that the Governor said would be incurred this year, are made up of two amounts, one is for $49,800,000. and the other is $33.00,000. The $49,000,000. is made up of an item of $11,900,000. deficits already appropriated in the previous session of this legislature, $5,800,000 for impoverished school districts, $15,000,000, as I pointed out, for relief, $3,200,000 appropriated in the previous session of the Legislature, for the blind. Those sums make up $36,000,000. There was also $13,800,000. which had been borrowed from special funds and have not been returned. That totals $49,000,000. plus. Then the second of $33,000,000 is made up as follows: $20,000,000. for old age pensions, $3,115,000. for the blind and $10,000,000. plus, for additional debt service, total $33,000,000., and that makes up $83,000,000. that the Governor said would be the additional expenses for this biennium. If we take off $23,000,000., which is the amount by which the Finance Committee has reduced the sum, we have $60,000,000. as the amount we all agree is necessary. If you examine those figures, you will find one thing is certain, and I have spoken before of these figures for the biennium—that this year we will need one-half of the amount necessary for old age pensions, or $10,000,000., we need one-half of the debt service money, or $5,000,000., and one-half of the blind pensions, or $1,567,500. In other words, we need this fiscal year, that is, up to May 31, 1936, $16,500,000, which we have obligated ourselves to pay to the blind, old age, and for debt service which we have created heretofore In addition to that we have already in the General Appropriations included $3,500,000. for educational institutions, which was appropriated last year, which appropriation has lapsed. We need $3,500,000. to keep our hospitals open to carry out our appropriation of the last legislature. That gives us $7,000,000. plus $16,000,000., or $23,000,000., and $60,000,000. for relief, or a total of $83,000,000. absolutely necessary for the fiscal year.

Now we passed tax bills here for $57,200,000. for relief for this year and $60,000,000. for next year. Not all of those taxes will be collected this year, and half of them will get some money in. The documentary tax, which if it remains in its present form, is supposed to yield $2,400,000, and will approximately give us $200,000.. a month. The cigaret tax, which is supposed to yield five million dollars, will give us probably $400,000 a month. The gas tax as proposed originally at 1% would yield $11,000,000. this year, and will give us approximately $900,000. per month, a total of $1,500,000. per month. I understand from those who sponsored Senate Bills No. 1601 and No. 1602, that are on the calendar today, that these bills, by allowing discounts will accelerate tax payments to an amount of $15,000,000. If you add that $1,200,000. per month to the $1,500,000., we have a total of $2,500,000 as the limit that we can expect every month, $500,000. short of the monthly amount necessary to comply with the arrangement or request, or demand, whichever you call it. of Mr. Hopkins, whose name has been so much misunderstood here on the floor of this Senate, and no money for old-age pension, no money for blind, and no money for debt service.

Now, that is our situation. I am reminded that my friend, the Senator from Montgomery County, some weeks ago, in a very able and fine address here, used as an illustration of the Governor's attitude the fact that he had money in one pocket which would be sufficient to carry him through, and needed money in the other pocket, but would not transfer it from one pocket to another. I would revise that illustration and apply it to our situation today, in this way, that we have said to the Governor, "we would like you to take charge of our business, we have $120,000,000. in the safe, and when we are going to Europe or whenever we may go after we leave this Senate session, you take care of it and use that money." Then we politely walk off without giving him the combination to the safe, and he will not be able to use any of that money. Certainly not more than $2,500,000. has been provided for a budget which requires $7,000,000. per month for the next twelve months, or $84,000,000., and the only reason I am voting for this tax is because we are faced with those facts. I take no particular delight in helping to impose taxes on anybody. They are unpopular amongst all groups which they particularly affect, and they are certainly not going to help anyone politically, and I say right here, that I am not interested in the political aspect of the situation at all; I am anxious to end this program and end it satisfactorily and leave it, but so far as I am concerned, I do not propose to run away from the job, notwithstanding the unpopularity of this gas tax. I think the only thing that we can do is to take steps to accelerate cash income as quickly as possible, so as to enable the government to carry on. I am reminded, when I think of the telegrams I have received telling me how unpopular I will be for voting for the two-cent tax, of the position the gas companies took. I do not criticize them—I merely make a statement of the fact that when this tax was proposed at one cent, after having defeated it when it was two cents per gallon originally, the companies nonchalantly, without a word, murmur, or ripple of protest from anyone, increased the price of gasoline one cent per gallon, and that answers the question which troubled me. When I voted on this tax originally, I voted 'no' on the two-cent tax because I feel the man who can use a car for pleasure can afford to pay the two cents for the needy people of the State, and the man who uses a machine for business ought to be glad he has a job, and he too can afford to pay the two cents. I am considering the people who have no jobs.

I was concerned about the fact that it might place Pennsylvania in an unfair disadvantage in competition with the surrounding States. If the companies are not afraid to increase the price of gasoline, and do not feel worried about unfavorable competition, then I think I need have no concern on the subject, and I ask the members of this Senate to consider when they are voting "aye" or "no" on this bill, that when they vote "no"—if the majority vote is "no"—they are again confronted with and open up the problem as to what is going to be done to solve the financial situation of this State, but when they pass the two-cent tax, they not only accelerate the income of money by $900,000, a month, and end the whole problem, but they provide immediate funds for the old age pensions, for the blind pensions, and they do another thing—they enable us to eliminate what I term "nuisance" taxes which materially affect the business interests of this State, which we need as much as possible, more now than ever. We can get rid of the tax on checks and the mercantile tax, which was defeated last week.

It is for these reasons, Mr. President, and because I feel that it is the only way out, as I have indicated today, that I propose to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I am sure that the President has been able to analyze hte figures, and if he does, he understands the tax situation of Pennsylvania thoroughly. Last week Senator Owlett introduced bills which passed here finally today, making it possible for corporations to anticipate taxes due the Commonwealth. Tonight I have just received a statement from the Governor's office, in which he in another way has attempted to do exactly that which is provided in the Owlett bills. These bills provide a so-called "tax anticipation." The bill provides for the issuance of notes against taxes due the Commonwealth in the next two years. It is quite a lengthy article and cites court proceedings to justify the issuance of these notes for the Commonwealth for the next two years; therefore, the question of the blind and the aged and the crippled, and so forth, does not enter into this question at all, as Senator Shapiro brings it out, because now there are two plans before this General Assembly, one as suggested by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and one as suggested by the Governor himself.

It was agreed in the Governor's office a month or two ago, that $120,000,000, of new taxes would be necessary, and that amount we agreed to levy at this Session; that was the agreement with the Governor, and I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, on just one question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, did I understand the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, to say that $180,000,000. in new taxes were necessary at this time?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I said $63,000,000, had been agreed upon by the Committee on Finance, of which the Senator from Delaware is Chairman, was necessary. I said that the Administration and the Finance Committee were in agreement on the tax program to this extent, that there was at least $180,000,000 necessary, while the Governor said $203,000,000 was necessary.

I want to call your attention to the fact that I am assuming that you are dealing with a two-year plan for relief of $120,000,000, but if you reduce the relief to a one-year plan you take $60,000,000 off the Governor's budget requirements and reduce it from $203,000,000 to $143,000,000, and when you agree to give the Governor $120,000,000 and he wants $143,000,000, I make the statement that establishes the fact that the difference between your Committee's figures and the figures of the Governor amounts to only $23,000,000.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia insist that the Governor and the Senate Committee agree that $120,000,000 revenue is all that is necessary?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is correct. I also say that assuming what you say is correct and that we take your figures and not the Governor's, $120,000,000 is required, $60,000,000 for relief and $60,000,000 for additional expenses. Your tax bills have only provided $57,400,000 and you are still short $2,600,000 for this year, or $5,200,000 for the two years for relief.

I secondly make the statement that even if you have provided taxation in full it will not come in this year, namely $83,000,000, which is necessary and must be paid out this year, and which has not been provided for by your plan.

You have provided the tax laws but not the actual cash for the time it will be needed.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Philadelphia understand that an additional $60,000,000 will have to be levied to take care of the second year of the biennium?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, from the gentleman's remarks when he first got up, it is evident he did not understand my statement of the tax situation, because I did not say there was another $60,000,000 necessary to be raised from taxation. You have only provided taxes for one year, and the $60,000,000 for the second year that you are talking about is eliminated only temporarily, because no one knows what will be the requirements for next year.

Mr. President, I might further say that so far as the statement about the Governor's plans to borrow on notes is concerned, I am familiar with that situation and it does not affect my statement at all, because that follows the Borough system where Boroughs have been given the privilege under our system to borrow money against anticipated revenues. It apparently is in the mind of the Attorney General that the State should have the same right; that is true, but it can only be permitted and lawful when the budget is balanced, and the point I am trying to make for the benefit of my fellow members of the Senate is this, that this budget is not balanced by $11,000,000, because we have defeated one tax of $5,000,000, which is the mercantile tax, and it takes that out of the budget income, and we have not yet passed the check tax, so that before you can talk about the "note" plan suggested by the Governor, you will have to balance your budget, which has not yet been done by the Finance Committee.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I just want to call the attention of the Senator to the fact that I do not think the time has expired within which the check tax can be revived. I am very glad the Senator has qualified his remarks.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like it to be distinctly understood that I made no qualification of my remarks. I stand upon the original remarks that I made, and I say that because it is my belief, no matter how honestly, the Chairman of the Finance Committee has failed to understand the true situation. I do not argue and have not argued that $80,000,000 additional taxes are necessary. I say that with all the taxes the Finance Committee proposes there would be $57,400,000 realized, and that the budget would be $2,600,000 short per annum. But I say what the Finance Committee fails to understand is that while they have imposed taxes they have created no immediate revenue.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, with regard to this bill boosting the gasoline tax two cents a gallon, this will boost the gasoline tax to five cents State, and one cent Federal—or a total of six cents a gallon. This means that the average car owner who consumes sixty gallons of gasoline a month will have to pay a total gasoline tax of $43.20 a year. Every time you ask the man at the pump to put in ten gallons you pay sixty cents tax. There are some 1,750,000 cars registered in Pennsylvania, and there are perhaps two drivers for every car.

I will direct attention to the fact that the tax will discriminate not only against Pennsylvania, but that it will inflict serious injury on the Pennsylvania producers and refiners. This means that our State tax will be one cent higher than it will be in adjoining States of New York, New Jersey and Ohio, and that to save one cent a gallon a vast amount of gasoline will be imported by large consumers from those adjoining States.

Motoring is no longer a luxury; to the vast majority of car owners it is an everyday necessity. This is simply piling up the tax on a commodity of general use—and one already taxed beyond all bounds of reason and endurance. I ask the Senate to vote down this tax.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, at the risk of prolonging this discussion, I feel I cannot let go unchallenged one statement made by my friend the Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro. In the first place, I want to call the Senate's attention to the fact that this bill attempts to place and does place an additional two cents per gallon tax for two years, which would produce additional revenue of $22,000,000 a year, or $44,000,000 for the two years; and if there was not the additional amendment provided by this bill, putting on two cents for two years, it would produce $22,000,000 for the biennium. This is offered by Mr. Shapiro as a substitution for what? Twenty-two million dollars of taxes is offered as a substitution for the check tax of $6,000,000, and the mercantile tax of $3,000,000.

Now, I submit to this Senate that it has not been disputed by anyone that when we levy $120,000,000 of extra taxes for the next two years we have balanced our budget, as was said by the Chairman of the Committee on Finance. The proposal of the Administration this evening, of a Tax anticipation Note Bill, plus the two bills passed by the Senate today, contemplates that they will bring in during the first year of the biennium the taxes that are levied for the second year—one way or the other.

Now, if it does we have got the cash available to take care of our needs, when we levy $120,000,000 of new taxes; and I submit that it is not necessary for this Senate to impose on the people of Pennsylvania $22,000,000 of extra taxes when our budget is balanced by the levying of $9,000,000. In other words, they are asking us tonight to impose a tax that I am told is the highest tax of any State east of the Mississippi River on gasoline, to be paid by the car owners of this State—taxes of $22,000,000 when we need only $9,000,000 by the accepted figures of all the parties that have settled this.

Now, the Committee on Finance has not had the benefit of Mr. Shapiro's figures, but we have gone into this matter very carefully; and I am sorry he has not had the benefit of the discussions that have taken place in the Committee on Finance. But I just say to this Senate we do not need an extra cent of gasoline tax for two years; and I, for one, am opposed to levying taxes we do not need, and putting that burden on the already over-burdened people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have no concern about prolonging this discussion because I think it is a very important matter, and I am very glad to answer objections that have been made as to what I have said.

I have not heard any answer to the question as to where the money is going to come from immediately, by saying first to Senator Owlett that the Check tax and the mercantile tax were each supposed to procure $3,000,000 per year. That is $6,000,000 a year, or, for the two years, $12,000,000. There is a deficit of two million three hundred or four thousand dollars, which has not been provided for by the Committee on Finance, which we have agreed with the Governor we would find before we adjourned. That is another $4,600,000.

So, I think this $16,000,000, and the rest of the money should be used to pay Old Age Pensions and the Blind. I have not yet heard an answer as to where all this money we have been talking about is going to come from in the first year.

As to the gasoline tax, everybody is set to vote for a one cent gas tax; so the figures of $50.00 a year, paid by the motor driver or car owner, means $50.00 instead of $40.00. That is not so much to worry about when you consider the purchasing value of the money.

The second is: Where are all these howls about the proportion of the tax in regard to price? When we come to the cigarette tax we find that out of 12 cents six cents is paid to the Federal Government, and after this the State Government proposes an additional two cents; so that today when a man pays 14 cents for a package of cigarettes eight cents of that price goes for taxes. I do not hear any howling and crying about that, and I think that if there is any question as to which is a luxury, gas or cigarettes, there will be very little dispute about that, it will be conceded that gasoline is more of a luxury than cigarettes are.

I do not want to put these taxes on, and I want to say to all these members of the Committee on Finance who say they did not have the benefit of my figures. I did not gather these figures out of the air; they were in two books furnished us two months ago by the Administration. It is so plain in there that anyone that runs may read.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do not like to repeat, but I explained to the Senator from Philadelphia that that immediate money can be raised in two ways; either by the bills passed today, of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, or by the Governor's own plan, which he has given tonight to the newspapers. If you will bear with me just a minute, I am going to read the last sentence in the first paragraph of the memorandum made up by the Governor, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, or Senate Bill 1626: "The purpose of this bill is to provide for the escheat to the Commonwealth of unclaimed dividends, profits, debts and interest on debts of associations and corporations whose dividends, profits, debts and interest are past due and payable for more than three years, but which remain unclaimed for the want of a rightful owner. This legislation is necessary because of the fact that while the dividends, profits, debts and interest of certain classes of corporations are at present escheatable to the Commonwealth, no provision has been made for the escheat of moneys held by other corporations and associations which constitute more than a majority of those doing business in Pennsylvania.'

I think the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, ought to realize where the immediate money is coming from.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is out of order, for the reason that a Senator may not speak more than twice on one bill.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order, in so far as that particular phase is concerned, is well taken, but the Chair understands that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, desires to interrogate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, say whether he agrees that it is correct that $83,000,000 must be provided in this first year of the biennium?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I could not follow the figures as given by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McClure, who is the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, and cannot follow my figures, state whether or not he agrees that the $60,000,000 is necessary and is the correct amount necessary for the first twelve months for relief.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, state whether or not, according to his information from the budget, $10,000,000 is necessary for this year's Old Age Pensions?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, from the budget, state whether or not $1,567,000 is necessary for the Blind for this year?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is approximately correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, state whether it is true, from the budget, that only $5,000,000 is due the first year for it?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, state whether those four sums: $60.000,000, $10,000,000, $5,000,000 and $1,500,000 amount to $76,500,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I cannot add as fast as can the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, assuming that is correct, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, tell me how much is anticipated to be secured by the two bills, Nos. 1601 and 1602, that the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has put on the calendar?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Committee on Finance estimated that at least $20,000,000 would be immediately received by the Commonwealth, which are the figures of the Department of Revenue, if I understood the Senator correctly, he estimated that sum at $40,000,000. The Governor's plan calls for $50,000,000.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand the figures of the Committee on Finance also call for $50,000,000, to be accelerated by the passage of these two bills, the bills introduced by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, yes, at least that much. It is estimated by the Department of Revenue at $40,000,000.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, also tell me where it is expected the remaining $60,000,000—or, $50,000,000—is coming from this year?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, from tax money.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, tell me from what tax measure it is proposed to get it?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I cannot tell at this time without figures.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, is familiar with the list of taxes representing that?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I am familiar with the list, but I did not bring it with me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, has stated that my statement of $80,000,000 that is necessary is incorrect. Will the Senator from Delaware point out wherein my figures, when they will not be more than $30,000,000 produced this year, are incorrect?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I have made no analysis of those figures; but I think the bills introduced by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, as I have explained before, will more than take care of that situation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, also realize that in addition to that he is relying upon the Governor's new suggested plan? I understand that also is in his plan—that the balance will be raised by the new suggestion of loans from funds.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I have not studied his whole plan as yet; and I cannot say that it will be passed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, well then, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, tell me—there is only $30,000,000 which he has suggested as available? I am still looking for information: where is the rest of the cash coming from? I am not on the Committee on Finance. The Senator from Delaware said I did not hear the figures. I would like to hear them now. Where is this money coming from?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I have stated to the Senate that the funds will come from the Owlett bills when finally passed by the House and signed by the Governor.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, we have recommended—or will have when we complete our program—$120,000,000 in new taxes. Is that not correct?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no, that is not correct. If the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, completes his program he will have $120,000,000 less $5,400,000, which will leave $114,600,000.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, half of that will come in the first year of the biennium, and the other half in the second year.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, point out where I might reverse the situation? That is what I have been trying to find out for the last two months. Where is it?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I thought the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, did not understand that; and that is why I am interrogating him. Under the tax program, Mr. President, the past, and when it is completed, my understanding is that $60,000,000 comes in the first year of the biennium and $60,000,000 in the second year. Under the bills that we have passed part of the second year's $60,000,000 comes in the first year. We say at least $20,000,000—making the total $80,000,000—will come in the first year. The Department of Revenue says it will be $40,000,000 more of the second year's taxes coming in the first year, which will make the total $100,000,000 the first year. There is where we get the cash.

Apparently the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, does not understand that while part of the taxes, whenever levied, will amount to $120,000,000, they do not come in the monthly; they will come in during the first and second years of the biennium. In other words, a large part of the first $60,000,000 will not come in until toward the close of the first year of the biennium. Apparently he has not taken that into consideration in his examination of the members of the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, very gladly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, tell us which of the taxes will come in before the end of the first year of this biennium?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, half of all of them.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, which of them?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, half of all of them. Which do you refer to?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, give me a single tax outside of the cigarette tax?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the corporation net income tax is levied on the corporate net income of corporations of this State for the year 1935, and they file their reports in March, 1936; and the tax, as estimated by the Department of Revenue, could be collected before the end of the first year of the biennium, which does not expire until July.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, admit that the corporation net income tax returns will not be made until March or April; and that the taxes under them are not due for sixty days thereafter—not twelve months, but eleven months? Will the Senator from Tioga admit that?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will admit that half—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, now, wlil the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, add another—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, just a minute—I will admit that half the taxes, of the new taxes levied—that part of them will not come in until toward the end of the first year of the biennium; but the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, apparently does not understand that the first year of the biennium does not end until the first day of July.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not understand it. Instead of saying twelve months he might have said eleven months, if he saw fit; but can he point out any other tax, outside of the one I have mentioned, which will come in before March or April or May?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not say April or May; I said the first year of the biennium. Does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, know when the fiscal year ends?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would say it ends on the thirty-first day of May.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if the taxes come in in April and May, will they not come in during the first year of the biennium?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am trying to ask the questions.—I will answer—cannot be used to pay the Blind or the Aged, who want their money in January, February and March of 1936. I understand that, and I would like to learn of any tax, from the Committee on Finance, or from anyone in this Senate, if there can be pointed out a single tax—gasoline tax, escheat tax, documentary tax—that will produce any money before February, March or April, by which time the blind will be hungry and the Old Age will be dead.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1600, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eleven of the act approved the seventeenth day of February one thousand nine hundred and six (P. L. 45) entitled "An act to regulate the deposits of State funds to prescribe the method of selecting State depositories to limit the amount of State deposits to provide for the security of such deposits to fix the rate of interest thereon to provide for the publication of monthly statements of money in the general and sinking funds to declare it a misdemeanor to give or take anything of value for obtaining the same and prescribing penalties for violations of this act" by further regulating the publication of statements issued by the State Treasurer from time to time concerning the moneys in the State Treasury.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, page 3, line 1, by striking out the word "one" and inserting in lieu thereof: "two."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1600, be recomitted to the Committee on State Government for further study.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin. Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, state whether the purpose of recommitting is to kill the bill.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, the bill did not have very thorough consideration at the hands of the committee, and I do not hesitate to say that it will be studied; but I question very much whether it will be re-reported.

An the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REED (Dauphin) and Mr. HOWELL and were as follows, viz:

Aron,	Ealy,	McClure,	Sordoni
Batchelor,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Bean,	Graff,	Pierson,	Thompson,

Kahle,	Pytko,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1605, entitled:

An Act to further amend section sixteen of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 468), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats; principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State Highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State Highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State Highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State Highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township, or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions, providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aided highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State Highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," by excluding diversion of traffic as an element of damage.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1621, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (P. L. 229) entitled "An act relative to the liens of the Commonwealth against unpatented lands providing for their adjustment and for the granting of patents" by exempting the Commonwealth and any department board or commission thereof from the payment of certain patent fees.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. Presidet, I ask unanimous consent to amend sec. 1, page 1, line 9, by striking out the words "twenty-eighth day;" amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 10, by striking out the entire line; amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by striking out the words "five hundred seventy-one)" and insert in lieu thereof: "thirtieth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 868);" amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 26, by striking out the following "[to];" amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 26, by removing the underscoring from the word "of."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1622, entitled:

An Act to amend the title of and the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 301) entitled "An act providing for the acquisition construction improvement operation and maintenance of bridges over rivers and navigable waters within the Commonwealth authorizing the issuance of bridge revenue bonds free from taxation and payable solely from bridge earnings to pay the cost of such bridges and improvements thereof providing for the collection of bridge tolls for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance operation and repair of the bridges constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances prescribing conditions upon which such bridges shall become free bridges conferring powers and imposing duties on the State Bridge Commission providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act and providing for condemnation" by extending the provisions thereof to tunnels for highway purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1626, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the escheat of certain dividends profits debts and interest on debts of associations and corporations doing business within this Commonwealth not engaged in the business of receiving deposits of money securities or other property for safe-keeping except building and loan associations and fiduciaries with interest actually accrued thereon to the date of the decree for the escheat of the same as well as the interest thereon accrued between the fixing of the amount of such property by the award of any court and the actual distribution thereof and providing for the payment of fees and the procedure in the discovery and collection thereof and in connection therewith.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not know what the purpose of this bill was, but its effect is that if there is a debt due by a corporation or individual for more than three years both the debt and the interest become escheated to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I would further state, if the proponents of the bill do not object to it, I suggest that the bill be permitted to go over in its order or be referred back to the committee.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it is rather late in the session. This bill was given to me by one of the Department of Revenue and Finance. I have not had a chance to study the bill in all its details, but the purpose of this bill is to provide for escheats to the Commonwealth of all dividends or profits declared by any association or corporation not engaged in the business of receiving deposits of money, securities or other property for safekeeping, doing business in Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call attention to the fact that aside from the question as to whether or not such a bill would be a wise law, as I read the bill—and I confess it had to be read hurriedly, because these are the bills that have been introduced within the last few days—section two of the Act does not make any provision for the debt being unclaimed, but later it states "After any debt or debts, or interest on any debt or debts, owed by any association or corporation not engaged in the business of receiving deposits of money securities or other property for safe-keeping, shall have been and remained due and unpaid for three successive year, such debt or debts, and such interest on any debt or debts, shall be escheatable to the Commonwealth." There does not seem to be any provision as to whether the debt shall be claimed or unclaimed. It would seem to me to be a harsh law, to say the debt is escheated before the Statute of Limitations has run against the right to collect the debt.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. Presinet, I should like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if it is not a fact that in all these escheat measures if the lawful owner comes forward that money may be obtained from the State Treasury.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that may be true, but I doubt very much that the State should say to me that they should have the money first and have my friendly cooperation over three years, then come back and try to get it back from the State. I do not think that is a fair law.

In other words, this bill provides that even before the Statute of Limitations has run, if I am willing to allow the corporation to continue to pay me the debt, five years from now the State can take the money. I do not think that is a proper piece of legislation under any circumstances.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will agree to have it go over in its order, but I will call it up again tonight.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1518, on third reading.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1518, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred and nine (P. L. 159) entitled "An act prohibiting the buying having or receiving of stolen property in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and providing for the punishment thereof" by extending said act to cases where the defendant had reasonable cause to know such property was stolen or feloniously taken.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend title, page 1, last line of title, by inserting after the word "taken" the following: "and refuses on demand to return the same to the lawful owner: also Section 1, page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "taken" the following: "and having refused on demand to return such property to the lawful owner."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Miller, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, several weeks ago I was asked to recommit a bill to the Committee on Law and Order for the purpose of further study and for amendments to be offered. The agreement was made that if I would recommit the bill, which was my own bill, that I would be assured that that bill would be put out on the floor for a vote. I recommitted the bill, we had a public hearing; and I want to say that there was one member of that committee present at the public hearing, and that was the chairman. Nobody gave the bill any consideration except outside opponents. Every amendment that was offered was gone over and talked over, and finally put in the bill. There has been none offered by any of the members of this Senate except the chairman of that committee.

Now, we have heard a lot during this session about people giving their word and sticking to it, and I want to say right here and now that since I have sat in this Senate if I gave my word I stuck to it, and I expect the men that gave me their word to stick to theirs.

Mr. President, I now move that the Committee on Law and Order be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 1040, so that the same can be returned to the Senate floor for second reading and constitutional consideration by this body.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I think one of the hardest jobs I have ever had in my five years in this Senate has been the endeavor to get the Committee on Law and Order together. What the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Miller, says is true. When there was a public meeting called, and the public meeting was postponed from two o'clock to five o'clock, with some three hundred—or whatever number fills that caucus room—waiting, and they were heard, up until last Wednesday I again tried to get the Committee on Law and Order together. The committee finally came to a meeting and the bill, Senate Bill No. 1040, was discussed and turned over to a sub-committee; and I have been at the sub-committee since to make a report to the general committee, and I understand by the chairman of the sub-committee that just as soon as the Senate recessed tonight the sub-committee would make a report; that we could take that bill up with the general committee. And that is the position I want to put myself in as chairman of the Committee on Law and Order—that it has been through no fault of mine, no lack of effort on my part to try and get the bill out; and I think if the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Miller, will withdraw the motion and give the sub-committee an opportunity to speak tonight, which the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Bean, has promised to do, that we may be able to give you an answer in the morning.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, for two weeks, as the chairman of the committee has stated, we have been trying to get this committee together, trying to get some report on the bill. The only objections I find are that some of the members of the committee object to the Governor's appointing the board. I want to state that, right at the present time the Governor appoints the Liquor Control Board, whether they like it or not. Now, if that is the objection, I would like to hear further on it.

I am willing to withdraw my motion if the committee will meet and do justice to this bill. Tonight there were two House Bills on Liquor Control that were not heard of when my bill was on the floor of this Senate, and yet they were re-reported out tonight for second reading, and mine is left in the discard. I cannot help what committee they came from; I had a promise that my bill would be reported out, and it has not been.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, since the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, states that it is true this bill was sent back with the understanding that it would be reported out again—that it was sent back for discussion and amendment, have any amendments been offered?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, yes, the amendments are now in the hands of the sub-committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, was it understood that at the time those amendments were offered the bill would be reported out?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, no.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not understand the position of the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Miller. Does he insist on the motion or is it withdrawn?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, if the committee will meet tonight and do justice to this bill, that it may be reported out for second reading, I will withdraw my motion; if not, I will let it stand as is.

The PRESIDENT. Can anybody give the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Miller, that information?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, as far as I am concerned the committee will meet, and if you care to take a recess just at this time, I have done all I could to get the bill out, and I want to say to you, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think it is the best bill of the three that have been introduced into this Senate; I think it is a bill worthy of consideration; it has the endorsement of people that have already been opposed to the business.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MILLER and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

Baumer,	Law,	Reed,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Staudenmeier,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Thompson,
Harris,	Miller,	Roberts,	(Centre)

Buckman,	Harvey,	Pierson,	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Homsher,	Reed,	Woodward,
Clark,	Howell,	(Dauphin)

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I wish to call up at this time, Senate Bill No. 1181 (House Bill No. 926), entitled:

An Act to amend section five hundred and eighteen of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-three) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for County purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" by abolishing the payment of taxes into court on appeals from assessments providing for the payment of taxes under protest and restricting the expenditure of such tax moneys regulating the refunding of taxes after the disposition of appeals conferring powers upon courts of common pleas and providing for the depositing of funds heretfore paid into court

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1181 (House Bill No. 926), as follows:

An Act to amend section five hundred and eighteen of the act aproved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-three) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" by abolishing the payment of taxes into court on appeals from assessments providing for the payment of taxes under protest and restricting the expenditure of such tax moneys regulating the refunding of taxes after the disposition of appeals conferring powers upon courts of common pleas and providing for the disposition of funds heretofore paid into court

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section five hundred and eighteen of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-three) entitled "An act relating to taxation designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for all local purposes providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of persons property and subjects of taxation for county purposes and for the use of those municipal and quasi-municipal corporations which levy their taxes on county assessments and valuations amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto and repealing existing laws" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 518 Appeal to Court from Assessments Collection Pending Appeal [Payment Into Court] Any owner of real estate or taxable property in this Commonwealth who may feel aggrieved by the last or any future assessment or valuation of his real estate or taxable property may appeal from the decision of the county commissioners acting as a board of revision or the board of revision of taxes or the board for the assessment and revision of taxes as the case may be to the court of common pleas of the county within which such property is situated and for that purpose may present to said court or file in the prothonotary's office within sixty days after the county commissioners acting as a board of revision or the board of revision of taxes or the board for the assessment and revision of taxes as the case may be have held the appeals provided for by this or any other act of Assembly and acted on the said assessments and valuations a petition signed by him his agent or attorney setting forth the facts of the case and thereupon the court shall proceed at the earliest convenient time to be by them appointed of which notice shall be given to the county commissioners acting as a board of revision or the board of revision of taxes or the board for the assessment and revision of taxes as the case may be to hear the said appeal and the proofs in the case and to make such orders and decrees touching the matter complained of as to the judges of said court may see just and equitable having due regard to the valuation and assessment made of other real estate in such county or city the costs of the appeal and hearing to be apportioned or paid as the court may direct Provided however That the appeal shall not prevent the collection of the taxes complained of but in case the same shall be reduced then the excess shall be returned to the person or persons who shall have paid the same and provided further That the appellant may pay the amount of the tax alleged to be due by reason of the assessment appealed from [into the court to which such appeal is taken] [whereupon said court shall allocate and pay over to the proper uthorities such amount of said tax] to the tax collector under protest in writing in which case when the tax is paid over to the taxing district it shall be the duty of the tax collector to notify the taxing district of such payment under protest by delivering to it the protest in writing Whereupon the taxing district shall be required to segregate twenty-five per centum (25%) of the amount of the tax paid over and shall deposit the same in a separate account in the depository in which the funds of the taxing district are deposited and shall not be permitted to expend any portion of such segregated amount unless it shall first petition the court alleging that such segregated amount is unjustly withheld Thereupon the court shall have power to order the use by the taxing district of such portion of such segregated amount as shall appear to said court to be reasonably free from dispute and the remainder of the segregated amount [paid in] shall be held [by the court] segregated by the taxing district pending the final disposition of the appeal the amount found to be due the appellant as a refund shall also be a legal set off or credit against any future taxes assessed against the appellant by the same taxing district and where a taxing district alleges that it is unable to thus credit all of such refund in one year the court upon application of either party shall determine over what period of time such refund shall be made and shall fix the amount thereof which shall be credited in any year or years

Section 3 Where under the provisions of the existing law any appellant has heretofore paid any tax into court pending the disposition of an appeal the court shall upon application of the taxing district order the payment to the tax district of the total amoun of such fund and twenty-five per centum (25%) thereof shall be segregated and deposited by the taxing district in like manner and subject to like proceedings as hereinbefore required in the case of payments by appellants under protest

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend sec. 1, page 5, line 2, by inserting after the word "years" the following: "This proviso shall be construed to apply to all refunds that are now due or may hereafter become due as the result of appeals from assessments that have not been finally determined or adjusted at the time this act takes effect, regardless whether there has been a payment of any moneys into court or to the tax collector under written protest."; amend sec. 3, page 5, line 9, by striking out the word "tax" and insert in lieu thereof "taxing".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I call up at this time. Senate Bill No. 1537 (House Bill No. 1703), entitled:

An Act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1537 (House Bill No. 1703), as follows:

An Act relating to motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto on Sunday prohibiting motion picture exhibitions and sound motion picture exhibitions and orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection incidental thereto on Sunday during certain hours and also during other hours unless the electors of a municipality approve thereof regulating the employment of persons in conducting such exhibitions on Sunday providing for referendums to ascertain the will of the electors and providing penalties and repealing inconsistent laws

Section 4 Returns and Computation of Votes The votes cast on such question shall be counted by the election officers and returns thereof made by them and by election officers where voting machines are used to the prothonotary of the county who shall lay the same before the return board for computation at the same time and in the same manner as other returns Such election shall be governed by the election laws of the Commonwealth and all penalties provided by said laws shall apply to such elections The return board shall compute the said returns by municipalities and certify the results of the vote cast on the question to the acting chief executive officer of each municipality within the county

If at the election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (1935) as herein provided a majority of the electors in any municipality voting at said election vote in favor of motion picture exhibitions on Sunday after the hour of two o'clock post meridian then upon the certification of such election return to the acting chief executive officer of such municipality as is provided in this section it shall thereafter be lawful to conduct stage manage operate or engage in motion picture exhibitions from and after the hours of two o'clock post meridian on Sunday

The right to conduct stage manage operate or engage in such motion picture exhibitions shall be subject only to those rules and regulations which govern motion picture exhibitions on days of the week other than Sunday

If the vote of the electors in the municipality was not in favor of motion picture exhibitions then it shall be unlawful to conduct stage manage operate or engage in such motion picture exhibitions to which an admission charge is made or is incidental after two o'clock post meridian on Sunday

Section 5 Further Referendums In any municipality the will of the electors with respect to the conducting staging and exhibiting of motion pictures and sound motion pictures on Sunday may after the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (1935) but not oftener than once in five years be ascertained and the question as provided in Section 3 of this act shall be submitted to the electors of any municipality upon demand in writing of petitioners equal to at least five per centum (5%) of the highest vote cast for any office in the municipality at the last preceding general or municipal election Such petition shall be filed with the corporate authorities at least sixty (60) days before the day of any general or municipal election at which the question is to be submitted and if the petition is signed by the requisite number of petitioners it shall thereupon be certified to the county commissioners who shall cause such question to be submitted in the same manner as is provided in this act for the election in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (1935)

If a majority of the voters in any municipality in which are permitted motion picture exhibitions from and after two o'clock post meridian on Sunday to which an admission charge is made or is incidental are not in favor of the continuance of such exhibitions then upon the certification of such election return to the acting chief executive officer of such municipality as is provided in Section four of this act it shall thereafter be unlawful to conduct stage manage operate or engage in such exhibitions after two o'clock post meridian on Sunday but if a majority of the electors in any such municipality which has not hitherto permitted such motion picture exhibitions after two o'clock post meridian on Sunday are in favor of such exhibitions then upon the certification of such fact to the acting chief executive officer of such municipality as is provided in Section 4 of this act such exhibitions shall thereafter be lawful

Section 6 Intent of Act It is the intent of this act to provide a method whereby the will of the electors of each municipality with respect to motion picture exhibitions together with orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto after two o'clock post meridian on Sunday may be ascertained

Section 7 It shall be unlawful at any motion picture exhibition conducted or operated under the provisions of this act to provide for any form of entertainment except the exhibition of motion pictures and sound motion pictures and any orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto and any person or any member or agent of any co-partnership or association or any member or officer of any corporation who shall provide or furnish or assist in providing or furnishing any other form of entertainment in such motion pitcure exhibitions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in the proper court shall be punished by a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) Each Sunday's providing furnishing conducting staging managing operating or engaging in furnishing any form of entertainment forbidden under this act shall constitute a separate offense hereunder

Section 8 Constitutionality The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein

Section 9 Repeal Section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand seven hundred and ninety-four (Three Smith Laws one hundred seventy-seven) entitled "An act for the prevention of vice and immorality and of unlawful gaming and to restrain disorderly sports and dissipation" be and the same is hereby repealed insofar as it prohibits motion picture exhibitions and any orchestral or other instrumental musical or mechanical musical accompaniment prelude playing or selection in connection with or incidental thereto All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

Section 10 Effective Date This act shall be effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object until I hear the amendments read.

The amendment was read for the information of the Senate, as follows:

Amend section 2, page 3, line 22, by striking out the words "not exceeding" and insert in lieu thereof "of."

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like the sponsor of the amendment to tell us what it means; we have only heard what was read.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, the bill states that if any person, co-partnership, association or corporation violates any of the provisions of this section, he or they shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceedings be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars. I am given to understand that in this City of Purity and Brotherly Love that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has told us about today they usually fine them down to two dollars. This is to strike out the words "not exceeding." I want to vote for this bill but also would like to see some teeth in it that would keep this law in such form that it means something and therefore have offered this amendment so that they shall be fined fifty dollars.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object to the amendment on the ground that there is a more important subject than this question as to whether a man shall be fined forty-nine dollars or fifty dollars. I do not know whether my city is called the City of Brotherly Love, but I suggest that my friend the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rankin, come down there and live and he will find out something about brotherly love and about moving pictures, too.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, with regard to finding violators of the present Act I want to assure the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rankin, that the law is complied with one hundred per cent; that there are no movies on Sunday in the City of Philadelphia, so that nobody gets fined because nobody gets arrested.

The President. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed second reading.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I think that this amendment is really essential to the bill it will be so easy to obviate the provisions of the bill unless there are some fines imposed in this bill which makes it possible to enforce the terms of the Act. Under the terms of the Act as they exist at present a fine of five cents can be imposed, and it would penalize the districts which have really voted for legitimate Sunday movies if the bill passes; and I say that I think this amendment is a very important factor in this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I view with suspicion an amendment of this kind, and the careful concern that my friend on the other side has as to whether or not a Sunday movie law will be violated all over the State of Pennsylvania, and close at hand to those in the City of Brotherly Love, moving picture shows are held every Sunday, in many cities they are seen every Sunday, and I have not heard a word of protest from the other side. Now, when there is a bill to permit movies to be held on Sunday, when this bill comes in to permit movies to be held on Sunday, there is a great hue and cry about the fact that a judge might fine somebody two dollars instead of fifty dollars. They can well afford to let that judge take care of himself. If there is a violation and he fines them two dollars, he will have enough to worry about without concerning himself about whether the Senate votes two dollars or fifty dollars.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, thirty-two Senators voted in the affirmative, and seven in the negative; whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the title was agreed to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

The tenth, ninth, eighth, seventh, sixth, fifth, fourth and third sections of the bill were separately reconsidered.

Mr. THOMPSON Centre). Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the second section was agreed to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I move to amend section 2, page 3, line 22, by striking out the words "not exceeding" and insert in lieu thereof "of."

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The first section of the bill was read and agreed to.

The title of the bill was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, before agreeing to this bill on second reading, the amendments having been agreed to, there is one other typographical error, and I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for one half hour, until amendment can be made—I will withdraw that motion, and ask unanimous consent that the bill go over in its order for one half hour.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I call up at this time, Senate Bill No. 1552 (House Bill No. 1123), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the purpose of maintaining the public roads and improving and replacing bridges thereon through the Cornplanter Indian Reservation in Elk Township Warren County Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Section 1, page 1, line 5, by striking out the figure "($1,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "four hundred and seventy-two dollars and seventy-five cents ($1,472.75)".

The PRESIDENT. Is there objections? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILLS ON SECOND READING

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bills in their order on second reading.

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective as to all tax levies made by all school districts for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each year thereafter and as to payments made by the Commonwealth to school districts of the first class during and after the month of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six as to payments made to school districts of the second and third class during and after the month of September one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and as to payments made to school districts of the fourth class during and after the month of August one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I want to say that I see no reason why this bill should be recommitted, because to recommit it at this time is simply to kill the bill. There will be ample opportunity to study it by the time it is on the third reading calendar, and I hope the motion will be voted down.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am not drawing lances with the Senator from Dauphin, but not long ago he saw fit to move to recommit a bill for the specific purpose for which he says this bill is to be recommitted. I do not think it is anything outrageous at all.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, twenty Senators voted in the affirmative and twenty-one in the negative; whereupon the question was decided in the negative.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1625, as follows:

An Act requiring the compensation of all deputy sheriffs to be paid by the counties in which they are employed prohibiting all contracts and agreements for the payment thereof by any person copartnership association or corporation except by reimbursing the county and fixing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the compensation of all deputy sheriffs appointed or employed in any county of this Commonwealth shall be paid only by such county and in the amount and in manner now or hereafter fixed by law Provided That any person copartnership association or corporation may reimburse any county for the fees compensation or expenses or any part thereof of any deputy sheriff

Section 2 Any person who shall enter into any agreement or contract in violation of the provisions of this act or who shall undertake to pay any part of the compensation of any deputy sheriff except by reimbursing the county therefor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or shall undergo an imprisonment of not more than six months or both

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1625, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. HUNSICKER. Mr. President, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, some years ago there was elected—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, there is a motion before the house, and a question of personal privilege is out of order at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not know yet what the Senator is going to talk about.

Mr. BUCKMAN. There is a motion before the house, and therefor there can be no question of personal privilege before this motion is considered.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Is it the purpose of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, to speak on the motion to recommit?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, on the motion to recommit.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, does not need personal privilege, then.

Mr. PRESIDENT. No. The Senator from Fayette, Mr Cavalcante, will proceed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, some years ago there was elected in Westmoreland County a sheriff who, after his election, proceeded to—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, at this late hour I object. I object because we are not interested in the romance and history of Westmoreland County on a motion to recommit.

The PRESIDENT. The objection is overruled. In the opinion of the Chair it is not well taken.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his point of order.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, my point of order is on the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. In the opinion of the Chair, the point of order is not well taken. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will proceed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I forget where I was.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, began by saying "Some years ago a sheriff was elected in Westmoreland County." Now, I hope he does not come back with the constable.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this sheriff, while in office, proceeded to appoint many persons as deputies for the companies that were having some trouble with their employees. Now, the system under which that sheriff appointed the deputies was that the company—the sheriff appointed the deputy and the company paid the sheriff, I think, $13.50 a day for every deputy appointed.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object; I am interested now.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is discussing the merits of the bill, which is not in order; this is on a motion to recommit the bill. The merits of the bill are not in order at this time, nor the sheriff of Westmoreland County or any other county.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will confine himself to the motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, very well. And the sheriff collected his $13.50 for each deputy, but when he paid the deputy he only paid him $5.00 a day; and that made a net profit of about $8.50 a day on each deputy sheriff.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a ruling on my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will confine himself to the motion before the house.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am trying to tell the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, why this bill should not be recommitted to committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is going to New York by way of San Francisco, and I object.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think I am speaking on the question before the house. And the gentleman, the sheriff from Westmoreland County,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there was a motion made that Senate bills on second reading be given preference and considered in order. The proper bill to be considered at this time is Senate Bill No. 1624.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 1624 has already been considered. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will proceed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this sheriff was finally—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I insist on my point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, well, anyway, it ended up that the sheriff got into the workhouse. This motion to recommit this bill is a motion—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I insist on a ruling on my point of order. The proper bill to be considered at this time is Senate Bill No. 1624, which has not been acted upon.

The PRESIDENT. In the judgment of the Chair Senate Bill No. 1624 was passed on second reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it was never called; I am satisfied of it.

The PRESIDENT. No, Senate Bill No. 1624 was passed, Senator; you are now getting action on the previous bill, considering the motion to recommit. That is where the confusion happens.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understood that the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, moved to recommit Senate Bill No. 1530 after it was passed on second reading.

The PRESIDENT. Yes. The record indicates that Senate Bill No. 1624 passed second reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion and shall be glad to hear the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, would tell me where I left off.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette left off where he—

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the sheriff found himself in the workhouse—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object; the Senator from Fayette left off with $8.50 profit.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, well, he made $8.50 profit on every deputy, and he made so many of them that somebody got jealous, and saw that he got into the workhouse for getting too many of those $8.50's.

Now then, Mr. President, this motion to recommit, on the floor now, is a motion to recommit a bill to eliminate that sort of practice; and I recommend this bill to that committee,—I am not going to oppose the motion to recommit, because, as I have stated on this floor on two different occasions, when I make a promise I intend to keep it. The motion is made, but this motion is to recommit the bill to correct that practice that I have just stated that the sheriff of Westmoreland County engaged in, and found himself in the workhouse.

Mr. President, I shall be very glad to second the motion of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, myself, so that this bill may go back for amendment; but I do wish that the amendments that are made do not emasculate the bill, do not make it useless, but will be made with a view of correcting the practice that I have just illustrated.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, before the motion is put may I inquire if this bill passed second reading?

The PRESIDENT. No, not yet.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will ask, if possible, that my motion be suspended until after the bill passes second reading.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1625, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1624 was introduced with the understanding that after second reading it would be referred back to the Committee on Education.

Mr. President, I now move that Senate Bill No. 1624, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

(6) The time when the articles of merger or consolidation will be delivered to the Department of State

Section 1406 Approval of Articles of Merger or Consolidation by Department of Banking A The Department of Banking shall immediately upon the receipt from the Department of State of the articles of merger or articles of consolidation conduct such examination as it may deem necessary to ascertain from the best sources of information at its command

(1) Whether the name of the surviving or new incorporated institution is likely to mislead the public as to its character or purpose

(2) Whether the consolidation or merger is made for legitimate purposes

(3) Whether the interests of the depositors or other creditors and in the case of a bank a bank and trust company or trust company the shareholders are adequately protected

(4) Whether the surviving or new incorporated institution meets all the requirements of this act and violates none of its prohibitions applicable to a bank bank and trust company trust company or a savings bank as the case may be incorporated under this act

(5) Whether where a national banking association is one of the parties of the merger or consolidation it has complied with the requirements of the laws of the United States

B (1) Excepting in the case of articles the effect of which is to establish a branch bank branch office agency sub-office sub-agency or branch place of business in any city borough or other community other than the city of the first class or the second class in which the principal place of business of the institution is located or the city or borough in which the principal place of business of the incorporated institution is located and in which the institution was authorized by law to establish a branch bank branch office agency sub-office sub-agency or branch place of business on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five within thirty days after the receipt of the articles of merger or articles of consolidation from the Department of State the Department of Banking shall upon the basis of the facts disclosed by the investigation provided for by this section either approve or disapprove such articles

(2) In the case of articles the effect of which is to establish a branch bank branch office agency sub-office sub-agency or branch place of business in any city borough or other community other than city borough or other community in which the principal place of business of the incorporated institutions is located the Department of Banking shall within sixty days after the receipt of the articles from the Department of State upon the basis of the facts disclosed by the investigation provided for by this section either approve or disapprove such articles The Department of Banking may in its sole discretion disapprove articles the effect of which is to establish a branch bank branch office agency sub-office sub-agency or branch place of business in any county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the incorporated institution is located if it shall appear as a result of the investigation or hearing required by this section that an incorporated institution having its principal place of business in the county in which such proposed branch bank branch office agency sub-office sub-agency or branch place of business is to be located has in good faith notified the Department of Banking of its intention to establish a branch bank branch office agency sub-office subagency or branch place of business in accordance with the provisions of this act in the same place in which such proposed branch bank branch office agency sub-office subagency or branch place of business is to be located

If it shall approve such articles it shall forward them to the Banking Board for review The Banking Board shall after such investigation or hearing as it may deem advisable either approve or disapprove the action of the Department of Banking in respect to the establishment of a branch bank branch office agency sub-office sub-agency or branch place of business and shall return the articles to the Department of Banking with notice of its decision and in the case of disapproval with a statement in detail of its reasons for doing so The decision of the Banking Board shall be binding upon the Department of Banking Immediately upon receipt of the articles from the Banking Board the Department of Banking shall on the basis of the decision of the Banking Board either approve or disapprove them in the same manner as is provided by this section in the case of articles of merger or articles of consolidation generally It shall immediately notify the Department of State in writing of its action If it shall approve the articles of merger or articles of consolidation it shall sign its approval thereon and shall return them to the Department of State

C If the Department of Banking disapproves the articles of merger or the articles of consolidation it shall return them to the Department of State stating in detail its reasons for doing so The Department of State shall immediately give notice to the corporations desiring to merge or consolidate of the action of the Department of Banking and of the reasons therefor as stated to it by that department The decision of the Department of Banking shall be conclusive and not subject to review

Section 2 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Banking.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, may I be permitted to speak on the question of recommitting, at this time, and on the merits of the bill?

The PRESIDENT. Well, the motion should be discussed along the line of whether you favor the recommitting of the bill or not; the merits of the bill are not in question.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I sincerely trust that the members of the Senate will vote this motion down, and I would like to give my reasons for so doing, after they vote the motion down, on the merits of the bill.

The PRESIDENT. You may state your reasons why you think the motion should be voted down.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, on the effective date of the present Pennsylvania Banking Code, July 3, 1933, there were seven communities in Pennsylvania in which branch banking was permitted by virtue of the fact that in 1927 National Banks also had branches or the authority to establish branches in those communities. The seven communities are Altoona, Chester, Johnstown, McKees Rocks, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Reading.

During the special session of the 1933 branch banking law was amended to permit the establishment of branches in first and second class cities and in first class townships contiguous to first class cities.

The salient provisions of House Bill No. 2139 with respect to branch banking are as follows:

A. No change is to be made in the authority for establishing branches as it existed prior to the introduction of House Bill No. 2139.

B. Branches would be permitted under the following terms and conditions by the enactment of this bill:

1. In any community in which the principal place of business of an institution is located, and

2. In any community in the same county or contiguous county if that community is without banking facilities other than an institution which is to be merged and is to result in the branch.

C. Definite prohibitions are imposed upon the establishment of branches by an institution if branches have been established by its affiliates.

D. An institution which desires to establish a branch must have a capital and surplus equal to that which would be required if the principal place of business and all the branches were separate institutions. One exception is made in favor of small communities of less than 3,000 population, in which case but one-half of the required capital and surplus must be computed for the branch in such a community.

E. The application to establish a branch must be first approved by the Department of Banking after careful investigation to determine the necessity therefor and the convenience to the public.

F. If a branch is to be established in any community where there was no authority for a branch to be established in January of this year, the application for permission to establish such a branch must be approved by the Banking Board. This Board is to be composed of nine members, one of which is to be the Secretary of Banking, two of which will be appointed by the Governor at large, and the remaining six to be appointed by the Governor from a list of nominations submitted by the Pennsylvania Bankers Association.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, this is a very important piece of legislation, and I trust the Senate will vote against the motion to recommit.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, to go over in its order last Wednesday and all satisfied—the banking department and the banks and others in the community; and I am going to vote "aye".

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator fro Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I shall be very glad indeed to do so.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what is the purpose of recommitting the bill at this time?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, to afford it decent interment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not think this bill ought to be interred. Does the Senator from Bucks, Mr Buckman, know that there was a meeting this afternoon of all the people who have a real interest in this bill; that the matter was thoroughly discussed—its merits and demerits—and not a single objection was made in the public hearing to the bill?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I know nothing of that sort; and I do not see how such a meeting could have been held without every banking interest in the State of Pennsylvania being heard from. I do know that this is a branch banking bill, and the subject of branch banking has been coming up for the last fifteen or twenty years. This is just like the camel sticking his head under the tent. Beside that, it is a form of legislation that should not pass; the laws should be made by this Legislature. By a decision, of nine to nothing, of the Supreme Court of the United States it was ruled that laws cannot be made by commissions. If we are to have branch banking, let us be men enough to pass the law here, and not pass the buck to a commission no matter who composes the commission; let us not have laws passed by any commission. In the communities adjacent to Philadelphia, under this bill, the small banks would be swallowed up by the big banks in Philadelphia.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I shall be glad to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, know that his objection to laws being made by the Department could also be applied to any law; and, further, that no banking law would be likely to pass without the approval of the Banking Department?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am entirely familiar with that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, also familiar with the fact that this is not a branch banking bill at all, but merely permits banks to be established where no banking facilities exist?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I understand that is the wording of the bill, but I do not understand what is meant by the word "community"—it says in the community where there is already a bank. What you mean by "community" I do not know. We have political subdivisions—counties, cities, boroughs, townships, and so forth, but I do not know what is meant by "community".

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if we properly define the word "community" will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, be satisfied with the bill?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am not satisified with any bill which will permit the big banks in Philadelphia to come out and swallow up our small banks in Bucks County.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I have a great deal of confidence in my colleague, the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, as a Senator and as a lawyer, but I certainly would not take his judgment on a question of banking in preference to the judgment of the bankers of this State and the Banking Commissioner of the State of Pennsylvania. The bankers of this State, at a recent convention in Scranton, endorsed this bill.

Personally, I have no particular interest in it, except that I am convinced it is proper legislation. I understand Senator Buckman's objections, but I think he is entirely out of order in them and they are not valid; and I hope the Senators will vote down the motion to recommit, and pass the bill on third reading immediately thereafter.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I did not want to discuss the demerits of this bill at this time, but I do want to say that the statements read by my colleague, the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, as prepared by the Department of Banking of Pennsylvania, is one of the best arguments to be used for the recommitment of this bill. And I also want to make the statement that the Bankers Convention held at Scranton last week this bill was not endorsed; there is a mistaken idea about that. Also, I attended, today, the public hearing that has been referred to, and will say that it was arranged principally by the Department of Banking, and the bankers of this State were not invited to attend that meeting.

I hope this bill will be recommitted. This it a bill that is aimed at draining money out of the country districts into the large cities, and every country member of this Senate opposes this bill.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I want to correct a point of order of the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor: That meeting today was not held at the suggestion of the Department of Banking, but at the suggestion of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, who had certain questions he wanted answered. Those questions were answered to the satisfaction of those he was particularly interested in, and he is informed of the provisions of this bill.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I would just like to say, in reply, that at the time the Banking Department sent out the invitation for the members of the Senate to attend that meeting and the amendments had already been agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for thirteen Senators voted in the affirmative and thirty-two in the negative; whereupon the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I believe it would be in order now to say something about the bill. I do not know how many members of this Senate read that bill, but I think it is the most jumbled-up bill of any bill in these large files that we have here on our desks. It has been amended, reamended, the amendments stricken out and new amendments inserted until I am sure it would take the proverbial Philadelphia lawyer to understand what is in it, and I feel sure no two would agree on it. I am sure very few know what the bill means other than that it is a bill for branch banking.

This is not a new bill; it was before us two years ago, and at that time the Pennsylvania Banking Department moved heaven and earth to get the bill out, and they had a sort of whispering campaign then the same as now—that if the bill be not passed something awful would happen in Pennsylvania. We were not frightened about that at that time, and, as far as I am concerned, I am not frightened at this time; and I want to say that I resent any departments coming in here and urging any bill. That is our business. It is all right for them to come in here and answer questions and furnish information, but for them to come out here representing I don't know who, and acting as proponents of a bill, I think, is absolutely something that they should not do.

I have in my hand here a paper that was sent out during the morning. It says at the top of it "unmasked". This is a paper that reflects upon some twenty-eight members of this Senate, and especially upon my colleague, the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, calling attention to a certain group of people to remember with bills when we need any favors from them, because we have been acting in opposition to the bill they sponsored. Well, that is not so bad, but the thing that is bad is this: That this statement that is made against the certain member of this Senate is sent out here in an envelope of the Department of Property and Supplies, and the postage is paid by the State of Pennsylvania. In other words, it is a department here that uses the stamps of the state of Pennsylvania to send out propaganda here against members of this Senate; and I resent that, and I think that we have a Governor over there who is fair, and somebody ought to be called on to the carpet before them and discharged,—I think there is lots of ground for discharging him.

I also resent the fact that the Department of Banking comes here as active proponents of this bill. Now, let us see what this bill does. This bill, or a companion bill that goes with it, creates a banking board. Well, who is on that banking board? Well, the Secretary of Banking is on it; then the Governor appoints two members of that board; then they have a certain group of bankers that appoints the rest of the members of that board, or, at least, they suggest a certain number of names from which the Governor can select the appointees to that board. In other words, you have a certain group of bankers that selects the members, the majority of the members on that board.

Now, is this Senate going to turn over, as the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, has well said—are we going to authorize this board to say where we are going to have branch banks in Pennsylvania, and who shall have those branch banks? Well, they are not going to say so with my consent; but if this bill becomes a law they can be as autocratic as possible. If a branch bank is proposed for a certain county, they would say to the banker in that county, "Ah, you want to put a bank in there, in this particular district?' And the banker will say, "No, we do not need a bank there." "Well, then, we will let somebody else put a bank in there." In other words, then, the authority to establish a bank in a certain community rests with them, even though that community does not want the competition of a branch bank.

Then, in his bill, as the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, has called attention, there is authority given to establish a branch bank in the city, borough or other community is without banking facilities. You will note that the word "township" has been very carefully taken out of the bill, and instead of the word "township" it says "other community". That appears in several places in this bill. Why? Why in the world was the word "township" taken out of there? .Why does it not say "in all political subdivisions without banking facilities"? Did they have some mysterious reason for the word "township" to be taken out and the words "other community" inserted therein? Well, I think we have a right to look with suspicion upon that.

Now, what does the word "community" mean? Well, I do not know; you have no legal definition of it, as far as I can find out, but Webster's new International Dictionary says this: It is "society at large"; "a Commonwealth, or State"; "the public, or people in general".

Why, it seems to me the purpose in putting that word "community" in there, and having the word "township" taken out is that this bill covers the whole State of Pennsylvania; it does, at least, if you take Webster's new International Dictionary for your guide—you cannot help but take it that that is the meaning of that word "community".

Now. there has been a lot said here about this banker's convention that was held at Scranton the other day and the action they took. They sent out a circular, and said that in view of this legislation pending here they wanted to know what the member bankers, of the Bankers' Association, thought of that; and the referendum they sent out produced these results: To the question as to whether they wanted State-wide branch banking, there were three bankers who said they did and 484 said they did not. Now, that is almost one hundred per cent objection of the bankers in Pennsylvania to branch banks; and at this meeting we had this afternoon downstairs, that I was privileged to attend, a statement was read there by the chairman of, I believe, the proponents of the bill, in which they call attention to the fact that you have branch banking in certain districts in Pennsylvania today, as the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, has read.

Why is it that this bill does not include Pittsburgh and Philadelphia? This banking board is not going to have anything whatever to say as to whether they have branch banks in Philadelphia or Pittsburgh; those cities are exempted from the provisions of this bill; also, the cities of Chester, Johnstown, Reading Altoona, New Castle and McKees Rocks. Why should these particular places be exempt from the provisions of this bill?

Mr. President, in my opinion this is the worst bill—I wanted to use the words of my friend, the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, "The most vicious bill", which he used in connection with the Stream Pollution Bill—so, I want to say, in my opinion this is the worst bill, and one that effects—and it is one that affects this State more than any other one bill that has been in this session of the Legislature; and I know that every country member would consider, regardless of politics, whether he wants to turn the banking privilege of his community over to the big city banks; and I hope the Senate will vote this bill down.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Secretary of the State Banking Association, about which association my friend the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, spoke, stated, at a meeting today, in The Forum that the banks were one hundred per cent for this bill. That is the Bankers' Association.

The reason for the use of the words "other community" in place of the word "township" is that there are some unincorporated political subdivisions which are not townships; for instance, Upper Darby, Delaware County, is unincorporated, and therefore is not included. The reason Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are not included is because under this bill it is not intended to give Pittsburgh and Philadelphia the right to have branch banks because they have banking facilities. This is to give such privilege to the city, borough or other community which is without banking facilities. With regard to the branch banking board, that the Senator spoke about, that bill passed last week and has nothing to do with this bill. So far as appeals are concerned this bill fills the place of the present laws.

If the banking department says no other people may be affected by the opening of the new bank, they have the right to appeal under this bill, if the banking department says "no" to the opening of a branch bank, there is no appeal; but if the banking department says "yes" and the board says "yes," it is the same as existing law with regard to new banks being opened.

Therefore, I cannot see any reason or basis for refusing this bill to become a law. It is not a branch banking bill; we passed the branch banking bill in the 1933 session; and I am glad to have this bill. Vast districts in 1929 were left without banking facilities. There are some banks which require additional capital, and those banks must also be taken over or be allowed to go by the board, and that community will be without banking facilities.

I think the banking department has a perfect right to indicate the kind of bill they will approve; and, not only that, but to sponsor legislation that will create conditions or improve conditions necessary to facilitate banking and protect the public; and I do not think they need make any apology for any piece of legislation put in here, because the Secretary of Banking is the responsible person, and he is being called names which should not have been called. I do not think that every Senator here should have to follow up the needs of every department; and when they come in legitimately and advise a piece of legislation that they feel is necessary, I do not think they should be criticised. I think the bill should be passed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in order that I may determine how to vote on this bill, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia has stated that this bill would permit Philadelphia banks to establish branch banks in chosen counties. Does this bill permit Philadelphia banks to establish branch banks in Fayette County?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the word "chosen" means that, yes. If Fayette County is chosen to represent Philadelphia County, I am a little bit worried; if it is not chosen, I am not.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the way they have been stretching things in this Senate, and been quibbling, I do not know how far the word "chosen" may reach.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no matter how far we may stretch that in our imagination, it will not get to Fayette.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Then, Mr. President, that is a good bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this is too serious a matter to make it a matter of levity. I consider this one of the most serious bills, from the standpoint of the counties, we have had this session. While I do not think the word "chosen" means that a bank in Philadelphia may establish one in Fayette County, I do think that a bank in Pittsburgh may do that very thing.

I want to say this: There was something said about this bill being advocated and sponsored by the Banking Department. I do not object to any department recommending to this Legislature the passage of certain bills, or recommending that they be not passed; we are glad anytime, to have advice on any bill affecting any department of our State; but I do object to them coming over here and lobbying for this bill or that bill. Is is our function, under the Constitution, to pass the laws of this Commonwealth; and it is the duty of this department, and every other department, to carry out and enforce the laws we pass. It is not their duty to come over here and engage in this very much criticized pastime of lobbying.

I consider this a very serious bill. I consider this bill drawn in such a way that nobody can tell what it means. The word "chosen," referring to the counties that are chosen, does not necessarily mean "contiguous;" so it may take in, as far as Philadelphia is concerned more counties than the County of Delaware, the County of Bucks and the County of Montgomery; and, as far as Pittsburgh is concerned it may take in a great many of the counties in the western part of the State; and if we are going to have this bill, and have branch banking established, they are going to come back here in a session or two and make it extend throughout our State.

Now why do we object to branch banking? Up until our banks failed a couple years ago we were all proud of our little community banks. They were officered and named with directors by local business people who knew our communities and knew our merchants and knew our citizens who were entitled to credit and not remitted to credit, and they served a wonderful purpose in building up our communities, if you want to use that word, and our towns and townships, but if you are going to have the big banks in Philadelphia come out into Bucks County and Delaware County and Montgomery, there will be few banks left, and no—and if the loans of our merchants are passed upon by the board sitting around a big table in heavily cushioned chairs in Philadelphia, there will be very little hope of getting any loans or help from these big institutions. If there is anything sinister back of this thing, or anything rotten, I think it the duty of the department to come and tell us what it is, and we may meet the situation in another way, but if they come to us and say we must pass a branch banking bill, or, if we do not, something terrible is going to happen, I think it is beyond the authority of that department.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I can pay tribute to the age and the good intentions of my colleague the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman; but Senator Buckman is not a banker—

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am vice-president of a bank.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, he admitted to me a little while ago that he knew very little about banking. I am very willing to agree with him. I also do not doubt the sincerity of the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, but urge the Senator not to confuse two issues. The Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, referred to an article which purported to unmask the Senators who voted against the Stream Pollution Bill. Personally, I think the Senators who voted against this Stream Pollution Bill—or, as I referred to it, "The Industrial Dissolution Bill" did Pennsylvania a very great service. But I hope that you will not confuse it with the Department of Banking. I have no desire or intention of defending the Department of Banking. Of course, I am whole-heartedly in favor of the activity they have shown here and the help they have given me as chairman of the Committee on Banking. I have found them intelligent, sincere, honest and keenly anxious to cooperate with the banking fraternity in this State.

This bill, gentlemen, is a very proper piece of legislation. I am exceedingly sorry that the gentleman on my right, the Senator from Beaver, Mr. Batchelor, does not understand the provisions of this bill; and I am sorry the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, does not understand it; but I hope that without further discussion the vote may be taken and we can go on to some other business, and I hope the members of this Senate will vote for this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to call the attention of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman—who said this is a serious bill—to the fact that this bill does not use the word "adjacent." On page 7, line 18, carrying over to line 19, he will find the word "contiguous," and it reads "Within any county contiguous to the county in which its principal place of business is located."

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I dislike to prolong this discussion tonight, and I doubt if anything I can say here will change the vote on this bill. I notice the vote to recommit, on the other side of this chamber, was almost a solid vote; and I suppose that is because the Department of Banking is in favor of this bill. I have listened to what the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, has said concerning this bill, and I agree with him entirely. This is a most important piece of legislation.

I represent the County of Delaware, which is adjacent to the largest city in Pennsylvania. I was informed not more than a month ago, by the president of the largest bank in Delaware County, that if this bill passed he would proceed to Philadelphia and offer the stock of that company to a Philadelphia bank. That is the position which we face in Delaware County, being so close to the city of Philadelphia.

We must remember that credit is the lifeblood of business. I doubt that there are many men here who have not at different times appealed to a bank for credit. Think for a minute, gentlemen, the position that you are going to be in if branch banks become general throughout Pennsylvania: who is going to pass on your loan? Is it going to be a neighbor or a man with whom you are acquainted, or is it going to be some banker, as has been said many times here who is in Wall Street or who represents Wall Street?

This is a serious problem. We are not only legislating for today and tomorrow, but, if branch banks continue to increase in Pennsylvania—as they will under this bill—it will be only a matter of a few years until branch banks will cover Pennsylvania; and then I suppose those who will sit here will realize that they have developed another chain; and opposition will then rise to that chain and they will probably want to tax them five or ten thousand dollars a year, to put them out of business. Why not stop where we are? Why not stop where we are and think, and think most that we do not know who of us is going to be the next one to require credit? It is better to appeal to your neighbor, who knows you know your circumstances, knows your credit standing, than to appeal entirely to strangers.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I call up Senate Bill No. 1169 (House Bill No. 1473), entitled:

An Act imposing an income tax for school purposes on residents of Pennsylvania including fiduciaries and on income of non-residents derived from property or business in Pennsylvania defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof providing for the assessment collection and lien of said tax and for the disposition of proceeds thereof providing for administration and enforcement of the act by the Department of Revenue conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons partnerships associations corporations school districts State officers employes and departments imposing penalties and appropriating the revenues derived from said tax

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1169 (House Bill No. 1473), as follows:

An Act imposing an income tax for school purposes on residents of Pennsylvania including fiduciaries and on income of non-residents derived from property or business in Pennsylvania defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof providing for the assessment collection and lien of said tax and for the disposition of proceeds thereof providing for administration and enforcement of the act by the Department of Revenue conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons partnerships associations corporations school districts State officers employes and departments imposing penalties and appropriating the revenues derived from said tax

Section 803 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this Senate some two weeks ago, passed a bill appropriating money for the salaries of all teachers in the lower grades, money sufficient to take care of these salaries; and we passed it as a tax relief measure—as a relief measure from real estate taxation. This bill is an income tax bill, and has been amended to provide for a flat income tax of two per cent, with a thousand dollars exemption for single persons and fifteen hundred dollars exemption for those who are married.

This bill, it is estimated, will produce $38,000,000 a year, and will provide the funds to take care of the pay for the elementary school teachers.

Now, Mr. President, we are all, in this Senate, committed to relief from real estate taxation. There was early, in the Senate, proposed a plan which would have taken from fifty to sixty per cent. of the taxes off real estate. This plan could not be carried out because the House did not introduce such a bill. This bill will pay about thirty per cent. of the cost of real estate taxes for schools in Pennsylvania, and relieve real estate from taxation to that amount.

The Administration has proposed a graduated income tax bill, the constitutionality of which, it is claimed by the Attorney-General, is so doubtful that they do not care to accept it for general revenue purposes. I say, Mr. President, if a bill is of such doubtful constitutionality that it cannot be relied upon for general fund purposes, certainly the people of this State, whom we have promised to relieve from excessive real estate taxation, should not be fooled by the passage of such a bill.

Personally, I think a graduated income tax is constitutional; but it is a grave question; and in view of the fact that the Attorney General of this State, and many other lawyers, insist that it is not, I do not think this Senate should adjourn without passing a bill that will provide some revenue that will afford relief from real estate taxation. That is provided for in this bill, and I ask the Senate to pass the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1169 (House Bill No. 1473), was ordered to be transcribed for third reading.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer. Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, explain the reason for moving to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed second reading?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, to bring this bill back into a position where amendments may be offered that will restore it to its original position as a graded income tax bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator if that is the purpose of the amendments he proposes to offer?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, the purpose of the amendments is to restore this bill back to what it was; and what it was originally was a graded income tax bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask the Senate to vote down this motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed second reading.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for twenty-six Senators voted in the affirmative and twenty-one in the negative; whereupon the question was determined in the affirmative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the title was agreed to.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the first section was agreed to.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move to amend page 1, line 1 of the title by striking out after the word "graduated" and before the word "income" the word [an] and inserting lieu thereof the words "a graduated"; amend page 4, section 201 by striking out at the end of line 8 after the word "imposed" the following: [during the years one thousand nine hundred]; amend page 4, section 201 by striking out line 9; amend page 4, section 201 by striking out at the beginning of line 10 before the word "upon" the word [seven]; amend page 4, section 201 by striking out at the end of line 14 after the word "act" the following: [rate of two per centum of]; amend page 4, section 201 by striking out line 15 and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "following rates after deducting the exemption provided in this act"; amend page 5, section 201 by inserting between lines 15 and 16 the following: "(1) Two per centum of the amount of net income not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5000.00)"; "(2) Two and one-half per centum of the amount of the net income in excess of five thousand dollars ($5000.00) but not in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00)"; "(3) Three per centum of the amount of net income in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) but not in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00)"; "(4) Four per centum of the amount of net income in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) but not in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00)"; "(5) Five per centum of the amount of net income in excess of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) but not in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00)"; "(6) Six per centum of the amount of net income in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) but not in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00)"; "(7) Eight per centum of the amount of net income in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00)"; amend page 5, section 201, line 17 by striking out after the word "[rates]" and before the word "specified" the word [rate] and inserting in lieu thereof the word "rates"; amend page 18 by striking out lines 8 to 28 inclusive; amend page 19 by striking out lines 1 to 25 inclusive; amend section 307, page 20, line 22, by striking out at the end of the line

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, tell the Senate how much the graded income tax is estimated to yield for the relief of real estate?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I believe the figures are $30,000,000 for the biennium.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, $30,000,000 for the biennium, or $15,000,000 a year?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, so that, the tax passed for the relief of real estate will raise $15,000,000 a year, whereas the flat tax will raise $38,000,000 per year?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to say I do not know on what the figures are based, on which the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, determines the $38,000,000.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the estimates given me are that the flat tax will raise $38,000,000 a year. I ask the Senate to vote down these amendments, and in support of that I would like permission to read a letter from the secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange:

"The Pennsylvania State Grange for about twenty years has advocated an amendment to our State Constitution which will permit the levying of graduated income taxes. Each year for the last four years, at its annual sessions, the State Grange has approved the principle of a graduated income tax for Pennsylvania and has advocated that until such time such a law could be constitutionally enacted, there be enacted a flat income tax law of two per cent on all incomes with proper exemptions.

"The State Grange in its resolutions has always favored the imposition of income taxes for school purposes, believing that this is the fairest method of raising funds to maintain our present school system.

"We will appreciate any efforts that you may make to obtain the enactment, in this session, of a two per cent. flat income tax law for school purposes."

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, very gladly.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, say that it is not true that some of the estimates given for a flat tax say that it will only yield eleven million dollars a year?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the information I have is that the best estimate of taxable income for Pennsylvania for 1935, with exemption of $1000 for single persons, $1500 for married persons, and an allowance of $400 for each dependent, is $2,000,000,000. This would mean $40,000,000 income with a two per cent. tax.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga what is the source of this best information he has.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, these are figures compiled by an organization known as the Real Estate Taxpayers' League. I believe it is in Luzerne County. It worked out these figures. I do not have the names of the individual organizations included in the League.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, from whom did the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, receive the information?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I received the information from the Secretary of this Luzerne County organization.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, further if he made any check on who the organization are, and how their figures are compiled.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am told they obtained their figures from the latest United States Treasury reports, the property owners' assessments of Luzerne County, W. D. Perryman, Manager, who, I understand, got his figures out of the books of the taxpayers' organization of the State; and the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, states it is the best.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would also like to ask if it is affiliated with the Taxpayers' League which has been very much interested in tax legislation for the relief of real estate?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not understand.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I asked if the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, knew whether this organization is affiliated with the Taxpayers' League and other organizations that have been working for the relief of taxation on real estate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, yes, I believe it is directly affiliated.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman further if he has not stated repeatedly that he believed a graded income tax was constitutional.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that is my opinion, but unfortunately that opinion is not shared by many other lawyers, including the Attorney-General of the State.

My position, I wish to state again, Mr. President, is this: We have been told that the constitutionality of the graded income tax is so doubtful that it cannot be relied upon for revenue purposes, general revenue purposes, of the State. I say, Mr. President, that if any tax law is so doubtful it is not good for a revenue measure for general State funds. We should not fool the landowners of Pennsylvania and hold up a false promise of relief from real estate taxation. Let us pass a law that will really get some relief.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, further. I would like to ask him if it is not true that the constitutional objection would also go to the exemptions of $1000 and $1500 which are in the bill as it now exists; and if it is not true that if the bill is unconstitutional as a graded income tax bill it will also be unconstitutional as a flat income tax bill with exemptions.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not so understand, as the same rate of tax is being levied on all classes of property under this law; under the graded income tax law it is not the same rate.

Mr. President, I want to state, with regard to this, that I believe a few years ago, when we had the question of the inheritance tax up that the courts went into the question and took the position that the exemptions made the Act unconstitutional.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in view of that fact, if the gentlemen of the majority will tell me when they are going to recess to, I will tell him I will bring the amendments up immediately after that.

The PRESIDENT. The record indicates that the amendments did not pass second reading.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, they were adopted however.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the amendments were not adopted.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, raised the question just as I was about to put them.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The amendments are withdrawn and the parliamentary status of the bill now is that it is on second reading. The amendments are withdrawn.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1169 (House Bill No. 1473) go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SPECIAL ORDER ON HOUSE BILL NO. 2831 (SENATE BILL NO. 39)

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the special order on third reading and final passage on House Bill No. 2831, Senate Bill No. 39, fixed for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2831, (Senate Bill No. 39), as follows:

An Act for the protection of the health safety and welfare of women and minors in any occupation trade or industry except domestic service in private homes newspaper boys and farm labor and newspaper boys by regulating under the police power of the Commonwealth the minimum fair wage standards which shall be paid to such women and minors employed in trade and industries providing for wage boards to recommend the minimum fair wage standard for women and minors in any occupation defining the powers of and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry and the wage boards imposing certain duties on employers of women and minors and requiring certain records to be kept and information to be furnished by them prohibiting contracts for and payment of less than the minimum wage standards and providing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the employment of women and minors in trade and industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at wages unreasonably low and not fairly commensurate with the value of the services rendered is a matter of grave and vital public concern for the following reasons

(a) Many women and minors employed for gain in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are not as a class upon a level of equality in bargaining with their employers in regard to minimum fair wage standards and "freedom of contract" as applied to their relations with their employers is illusory

(b) Since a very large percentage of such workers are obliged from their week to week wages to support themselves and others who are dependent upon them in whole or in part they are by reason of their necessitous circumstances forced to accept whatever wages are offered them

(c) Judged by any reasonable standard wages are in many cases fixed by chance and caprice and the wages accepted are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of the service rendered

(d) Women and minors employed for gain are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the standards such as existed tend to be set by the least conscionable employers

(e) In the absence of any effective minimum fair wage rates for women and minors the constant lowering of wages by unscrupulous employers constitutes a serious form of unfair competition against other employers reduces the purchasing power of the workers and threatens the stability of industry

In view of the foregoing it is hereby declared that the evils of oppressive unreasonable and unfair wages, as they affect women and minors employed in this Commonwealth are such as to render imperative the exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of industry and of the women and minors employed therein and of the public interest of the community at large in their health and well-being and in the prevention of the deterioration of the race

Section 2 The following terms shall be construed to have the following meaning except in those instances where the context clearly indicates otherwise

(a) "Secretary" shall mean the Secretary of Labor and Industry

(b) "Wage board" shall mean a board created as provided in section five of the act

(c) "Woman" shall mean a female of twenty-one years or over

(d) "Minor" shall mean a person of either sex under the age of twenty-one years

(k) "Department" shall mean the Department of Labor and Industry of this Commonwealth

Section 3 It is hereby declared to be against the public policy of the Commonwealth for any employer to employ a woman or a minor in any occupation heretofore defined in this act in this Commonwealth at an oppressive and unreasonable wage Any contract agreement or understanding for or in relation to such employment at an oppressive and unreasonable wage shall be null and void

Section 4 The department shall have full power and authority and its duty shall be

(a) To investigate and ascertain the wages of women and minors employed in any occupation in the Commonwealth

(b) To enter the place of business or employment of any employer of women and minors in any occupation for the purpose of examining and inspecting any and all books registers payrolls and other records of any employer of women or minors that in any way appertain to or have a bearing upon the question of wages of any such women or minors and for the purpose of ascertaining whether the orders of the department issued under this act have been and are being complied with

(c) Whenever deemed necessary to require from such employer full and correct statements in writing of the wages paid to all women and minors in his employment and

(d) To carry out the provisions of this act

Section 5 The department either upon its own initiative or upon the petition of fifty or more residents of the Commonwealth shall have power to make an investigation of the wages being paid to women or minors in any occupation or occupations to ascertain whether any substantial number of women or minors in such occupation are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages If on the basis of information in the possession of the secretary with or without a special investigation the department is of the opinion that any substantial number of women or minors in any occupation or occupations are receiving oppressive and unreasonable wages the department shall appoint a wage board to report upon the establishment of minimum fair wage rates for such women or minors in such occupation or occupations

Section 6 (a) A wage board shall be composed of not more than three representatives of the employers in any occupation or occupations an equal number of representatives of the employes in such occupation or occupations and of not more than three disinterested persons representing the public one of whom shall be designated as chairman Members of a wage board shall be citizens of Pennsylvania The representatives of the employers and employes shall be selected by the department so far as practicable from nominations submitted by employers and employes in such occupation or occupations Two-thirds of the members of such wage board shall constitute a quorum and the report of such wage board shall require a vote of not less than a majority of all its members Members of a wage board shall serve without pay but shall be reimbursed for all necessary traveling expenses The department shall make and establish from time to time rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act governing the selection of wage boards and their mode of procedure

(b) A wage board shall have power to administer oaths and to require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all books records and other evidence relative to any matters under investigation Such subpoenas shall be signed and issued by the chairman of the wage board and shall be served and have the same effect as if issued out of the court A wage board shall have power to cause depositions of witnesses residing within or without the Commonwealth to be taken in the manner prescribed for like depositions in civil actions

(c) The department shall present to a wage board promptly upon its organization all the evidence and information in the possession of the department relating to the wages of women and minor workers in the occupation or occupations for which the wage board was appointed and all other information which the department deems relevant to the establishment of a minimum fair wage for such women and minors and shall cause to be brought before the committee any witnesses whom it deems material A wage board may summon other witnesses or call upon the department to furnish additional information to aid it in its deliberations

All witnesses subpoenaed by the wage board shall be entitled to the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil cases In case of failure on the part of any person to comply with any subpoena of the wage board or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated before any wage board it shall be the duty of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County on the application of a member of the wage board to compel obedience in the same manner that such obedience would be compelled by contempt proceedings or otherwise in a proceeding pending before said court

(d) Within sixty days of its organization a wage board shall submit to the department a report including its recommendations as to minimum fair wage standards for the women or minors in the occupation or occupations the wage standards of which the wage board was appointed to investigate If its report is not submitted within such time the department may constitute a new wage board

(e) A wage board may recommend minimum fair wage rates varying with localities if in the judgment of the wage board conditions make such local differentiation proper and do not effect an unreasonable discrimination against any locality

(f) A wage board may recommend a suitable scale of rates for learners and apprentices in any occupation or occupations which scale of learners' and 'apprentices' rates may be less than the regular minimum fair wage rates recommended for experienced women or minor workers in such occupation or occupations

Section 7 Upon receiving a report from a wage board the department shall within ten days either accept or reject such report If the report is rejected the department shall resubmit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board together with a statement of the reasons for the resubmission If the report is accepted the department shall cause it to be published together with such proposed administrative regulations as the department deems appropriate to supplement the report of the wage board and to safeguard the minimum fair wage standards to be established and notice shall be given of a public hearing to be held by the department not sooner than fifteen nor more than thirty days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to the recommendations contained in such report or in such proposed regulations may be heard

Section 8 Within ten days after such hearing the department shall approve or disapprove the report of the wage board If the report is disapproved the department may resubmit the matter to the same wage board or to a new wage board If the report is approved the department shall make a directory order which shall define minimum fair wage rates in the occupation or occupations as recommended in the report of the wage board and which shall include such proposed administrative regulations as the department may deem appropriate to implement the report of the wage board and to safeguard the established minimum fair wage standards Such administrative regulations may include among other things regulations defining and governing learners and apprentices their rates number proportion or length of service piece rates or their relations to time rates overtime or part-time rates bonuses or special pay for special or extra work deductions for board lodging apparel or other items or services supplied by the employer and other special conditions or circumstances In view of the diversities and complexities of different occupations and the dangers of evasion and nullification the department may provide in such regulations without departing from the basic minimum rates recommended by the wage board such modifications or reductions of or additions to such rates in or for such special cases or classes of cases as those herein enumerated as the department may find appropriate to safeguard the basic minimum rates established

Section 9 The department may cause to be issued to a woman or minor including a learner or apprentice whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury a special license authorizing employment in an occupation and at such wages less than the minimum fair wage rates established for such occupation and for such period of time as shall be fixed by the department and stated in the license

Section 10 If the department has reason to believe that any employer is not observing the provisions of any directory order made by it under this act the department may on fifteen days' notice summon such employer to appear before it to show cause why the name of such employer should not be published as having failed to observe the provisions of such order If after such hearing the department shall find that such employer is guilty of nonobservance the department may cause to be published in a newspaper or newspapers circulating within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or in such other manner as the department may deem appropriate the name of any such employer or employers as having failed in the respects stated to observe the provisions of the directory order of the department Neither the secretary nor any authorized representative of the department nor any newspaper publisher proprietor editor nor employe thereof shall be liable to an action for damages for publishing the name of any employer as provided for in this act unless guilty of some wilful misrepresentation

Section 11 If at any time after a directory minimum fair wage order has been in effect for two months the department is of the opinion that the persistent nonobservance of such order by one or more employers is a threat to the maintenance of fair minimum wage standards in any occupation or occupations the department may give notice of its intention to make such order mandatory and of a public hearing to be held not sooner than fifteen nor more than thirty days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to the proposed mandatory order may be heard by the department After such hearing if the department adheres to its opinion the department may make the previous directory order or any part thereof mandatory and so publish it

Section 12 At any time after a minimum fair wage order has been in effect for one year or more whether during such period it has been directory or mandatory the department may on its own initiative and shall on petition of fifty or more residents of the Commonwealth reconsider the minimum fair wage rates set therein and reconvene the same wage board or appoint a new wage board to recommend whether or not the rate or rates contained in such order should be modified The report of such wage board shall be dealt with in the manner heretofore prescribed in this act Provided That if the order under reconsideration has heretofore been made mandatory in whole or in part by the department then the department in making any new order or confirming any old order shall have power to declare to what extent such order shall be directory and to what extent mandatory

Section 13 The department may at any time and from time to time propose such modifications of or additions to any administrative regulations included in any directory or mandatory order of the department without reference to a wage board as the department may deem appropriate to effectuate the purposes of this act provided such proposed modification or additions could legally have been included in the original order In such event notice shall be given of a public hearing to be held by the department not less than fifteen days after such publication at which all persons in favor of or opposed to such proposed modifications or additions may be heard After such hearing the department may make an order putting into effect such proposed modifications of or additions to the administrative regulations as it deems appropriate If the order of which the administrative regulations form a part has theretofore been made mandatory in whole or in part by the department then the department in making any new order shall have the power to declare to what extent such order shall be directory and to what extent mandatory

Section 14 All questions of fact arising under this act except as otherwise provided shall be decided by the department and there shall be no appeal from its decision on any such question of fact but there shall be a right of review by the courts from any ruling or holding on a question of law included or embodied in any decision or order of the department

Section 15 Every employer of women and minor workers shall keep a true and accurate record of the hours worked by each the wages paid by him to each and shall furnish to the department upon demand a sworn statement of the same Such records shall be open to inspection by the secretary or any authorized representative of the department at any reasonable time Every employer subject to a minimum fair wage order whether directory or mandatory shall keep a copy of such order posted in a conspicuous place in every room in which women or minors are employed Employers shall be furnished copies of orders by the department on request without charge

Section 16 (a) Any employer and his agent or any officer or agent of any corporation who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employe because such employe has served or is about to serve on a wage board or has testified or is about to testify before any wage board or in any other investigation or proceeding under or related to this act or because such employer believes that said employe may serve on any wage board or may testify before any wage board or in any investigation or proceeding under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200)

(b) Any employer or the officer or agent of any corporation who pays or agrees to pay to any woman or minor employe less than the rates applicable to such woman or minor under a mandatory minimum fair wage order shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than two hundred dollars ($200) or to undergo imprisonment of not less than ten nor more than ninety days or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court and each week in any day of which such employe is paid less than the rate applicable to him under a mandatory minimum fair wage order and each employe so paid less shall constitute a separate offense

(c) Any employer or the officer or agent of any corporation who shall fail to keep the records required under this act or to furnish such records to the secretary or any authorized representative of the department upon request shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) and each day of such failure to keep records requested under this act or to furnish the same to the secretary or any authorized representative of the department shall constitute a separate offense

Section 17 If any woman or minor worker is paid by his employer less than the minimum fair wage to which he is entitled under or by virtue of a mandatory order he may recover in a civil action the full amount of such minimum wage less any amount actually paid to him by the employer together with costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court Any agreement between him and his employer to work for less than such mandatory minimum fair wage shall be no defense to such action At the request of any woman or minor worker paid less than the minimum wage to which he was entitled under a mandatory order the secretary in his discretion may take an assignment of such wage claim in trust for the assigning employe and may bring any legal action necessary to collect such claim and the employer shall be required to pay the costs and such reasonable attorney's fees as may be allowed by the court

Section 18 If any provisions of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid the remainder of the act and the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby

Section 19 This act shall take effect thirty days after its enactment into law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 4, line 11, by striking out beginning with the word "but" the remainder of the line and on line 12, strike out the word "homes" at the beginning of the line.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and consent is not given.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I consider this one of the most important bills that has been presented in this House during this session.

I read here in Section 1-b, on page 2, "since a very large percentage of such workers are obliged from their week to week wages to support themselves and others who are dependent upon them in whole or in part, they are, by reason of their necessitious circumstances forced to accept whatever wages are offered them.

c "Judged by any reasonable standard wages are in many cases fixed by chance and caprice and the wages accepted are often found to bear no relation to the fair value of the service rendered.

d "Women and minors employed for gain are peculiarly subject to the overreaching of inefficient harsh or ignorant employers and under unregulated competition where no adequate machinery exists for the effective regulation and maintenance of minimum fair wage standards the standards such as exist tend to be set by the least conscionable employers."

The reason I made the motion to reconsider was to offer these amendments. The amendments take out of the bill the exception of the class of workers that are least protected.

This bill in the language I have just read seems to be fair, but in keeping with the bill, they have eliminated those people who need the protection most, and that is the domestic servants. The domestic servants of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are subjected to all kinds of ignorant employers, such as are referred to here, and they are making conditions that are absolutely deplorable. In the city of Philadelphia domestic servants are working for from four to eight dollars a week, and I say that any man, that any woman in this House who can vote for a bill that would eliminate that type of employee certainly must not have a heart in their body.

I ask that the House vote to reconsider the vote.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the question now before the House is the same question that arose on the Haluska bill: Whether or not domestic servants should be included within the minimum hours bill that was before the House at that time.

I ask the members to vote for this motion to reconsider, so that the Salus bill can at least be put in the same class as the bill that passed this House.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the bill of Senator Salus that was sent over here from the Senate and was amended here to conform slightly to the bill that was sent from this House over to the Senate.

The amendments which are put here only change those which take the case from a court to a board of nine to be appointed by the Department of Labor and Industry, and if you are going to put the amendments in here now to include domestic help, the Senate will not go along with it. They sent the Haluska bill back after taking the domestics out of it.

I ask the members of the House to vote down this motion.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, when he said that the Senate would not go along is in error. I have conferred with quite a number of the Senators and they tell me that they are perfectly willing to go along. They also stated to me that the labor unions and the labor people throughout Pennsylvania have persistently asked for the same thing for their members, but as regards these people who are not organized, it seems to me that the labor unions are not interested in them.

I do not feel that is fair to say what the Senate would do without giving them a chance. The Republican majority in the Senate is perfectly willing—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the proposed or prospective amendments are not before the House. They have not been offered and are not properly a matter of debate.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The question before the House is the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed third reading.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REYNOLDS and Mr. SOWERS.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

NAYS—4

Altenburg,	Conner,	Jackson,	Reynolds,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

HONORABLE GEORGE E. ALTER INTRODUCED.

The SPEAKER. It is a great pleasure to have with us one of the most distinguished citizens of Pennsylvania and a former Speaker of this House.

The Chair takes pleasure in asking the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Zappala, to escort to the Chair the gentleman referred to, a former Representative, George E. Atler of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and a former Speaker of this House.

Ladies and Gentleman former Speaker Alter of Pittsburgh will now greet you.

REMARKS BY HONORABLE GEO. E. ALTER.

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is always a pleasure to me to look in upon this House sometime during its biennial session, because it brings to mind very pleasant thoughts—not always so pleasant perhaps, but I did spend at this desk very happy times and also some very anxious moments.

I recall that as the time of the House was near to expiration, as the time was growing shorter and shorter and members had bills which they were rather anxious about, as to whether they should be reached before adjournment, at least to me when I was a member down on the floor, it was never a very great delight to have former members called up here to make a speech, occupying time which might otherwise have gone to my bill and other bills. Therefore, I will say very little, but I do want to express my greetings and good wishes to the members of the House.

As I say, it is always a pleasure to look in upon the House, to bring back the old recollections that grow more and more precious as time goes by, but in pursuance of my thought that the members on the floor are reluctant to take up too much time with former members and their reminescents, I think I shall merely on this occasion take the time to say that I greet you most cordially; that I hope you may go home feeling that you have done your part. I hope you may go home in good health and with clear consciences.

I thank you ladies and gentleman, as members of the House.

SPECIAL ORDER ON HOUSE BILL NO. 2928 (SENATE BILL NO. 19)

The SPEAKER. The Chair now lays before the House the special order on third reading and final passage on House Bill No. 2928, Senate Bill No. 19, fixed for this hour.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2928 (Senate Bill No. 19), as follows:

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. McCreary?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does this bill provide for a division of the tax between the county and the state?

Mr. McCREARY. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Does it increase millage, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, it increases millage in the old bill which stood a record for twenty years, from four to six mills and it gives the county four and returns two to the state.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

STATEMENT BY MR. CAPUTO

Mr. CAPUTO asked and received unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Committee appointed under resolution No. 61 has completed its work and is now ready to report to this House. I am not going to make a long statement at this time as to what we did. However, I wish to make this clear to the members of the House that in view of the fact that there were so many issues involved in this report, and the committee was at no time unanimous in its findings we have deemed it advisable that no minority report be filed but that each member on the Committee may make a statement to that part of the report to which he takes exception

I want to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Committee for their diligent work and cooperation. It was a distinct pleasure and privilege to work with them. I herewith submit the report of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2968, Senate Bill No. 1163, on page 47, of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. STONE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 2968 (Senate Bill No. 1163), entitled:

An Act licensing and regulating the business of financing conditional sale contracts providing for the issuance of licenses by the Secretary of Banking authorizing the Secretary of Banking to make examinations and issue regulations and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Banking for further study.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 329 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. BERNHARD offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, June 17, 1935.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 329, Printer's No. 62, entitled "An act to amend section seven hundred four and seven hundred twenty-five of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred fifty-nine) entitled 'An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' as amended making it unlawful to throw or cast the rays of any headlight spotlight or other artificial light upon a deer bear or elk", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SPECIAL ORDER ON HOUSE BILL No. 2068 (SENATE BILL No. 147).

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, House Bill No. 2068, Senate Bill No. 147, Printer's No. 594, on page 3, of today's calendar, bill on third reading and final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2068 (Senate Bill No. 147), entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating subject to certain restrictions limitations and liabilities the granting of pensons by the Commonwealth to certain blind persons providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Welfare the trustees who administer mothers' assistance in the several counties or by other trustees in certain cases authorizing appointment of trustees for the pensions payable to certain individuals authorizing the Department of Welfare to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to the blind and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask whether there is anybody in the House that can explain the present law and how this bill changes that present law.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Senate Bill 147, amends the present blind pension act. The main provisions which it changes are the following: It provides that a pension may be granted to a blind applicant whose income does not exceed $1200, where the pension of $30 is taken into consideration. In other words, if the grant, plus the present income of the blind applicant is not in excess of $1200, such application would be approved.

It also provides that the applicant may have real property with an assessed valuation which does not exceed $5,000.

It also changes the present law in that it provides that all applicants for blind pensions shall be placed immediately upon the rolls, regardless of whether the appropriation is sufficient to carry them over for the entire biennium.

It also brings into agreement the present act pending in Congress relating to the granting of pensions to the blind. In other words, the present act before Congress will provide for a contribution to the state which grants pensions to the blind. This present bill will bring the law into agreement with the present act pending before Congress.

The present bill originally, as it came from the Senate, also provided for the transfer of the administration of the blind from the present Department of Welfare and various public assistance funds to that of a new Department, but that provision was taken out by the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities here in the House.

I believe this covers the questions, the main changes, in the present law. I am not describing its provisions, but I am only volunteering information requested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wasserman?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WASSERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, do not the changes in this bill then mean that any blind person that has an income of about $900 a year will also receive a blind pension?

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, if this bill were enacted into law, isn't there a likelihood that the poor blind, those that have no income, might be deprived of their pensions during the last year of the biennium?

Mr. WASSERMAN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, those that are poor may suffer the loss of the pension, and those that have an income of $900 would get a pension?

Mr. WASSERMAN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, how much would those get that receive $900 a year.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, they would get $30 a month.

Mr. SOWERS. That is $360 a year, is it not, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. WASSERMAN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, no one would be in favor of a blind man getting as much as possible more than I would, but I do not believe that this House should take a chance of giving a pension to a blind man who has an income of seven or eight hundred dollars, and then the poor blind man who has no income might receive no pension during the last year of the biennium. It seems to me that we ought to protect the poor first before we try to benefit those whose incomes, are five, six, seven, eight or nine hundred dollars a year. I ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are now discussing Senate Bill 147. When it originally came from the Senate it had several contradictory features in it. After considerable study, and a number of interviews with several groups of the blind, who conferred not only with me and other members of the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities, but who finally conferred with representatives of the Department of Welfare, this bill has been amended to eliminate the objections and the objectionable practices that have grown out of the administration of the act which is now the law governing the blind pensions in this state.

The bill originally as it came from the Senate set up a completely new board in a different department, not able to administer the funds, and without the knowledge and the mechanical set-up that the Department of Welfare had. As amended, we retained in the Department of Welfare, under the administration of the Mothers' Assistance Board, the administration of this fund. This bill provides a flat pension, and it further provides in answer to the question, raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, that in case the funds that have been allotted and appropriated do run short that then every blind person who is entitled to the pension will get his share of the fund, so long as there are any funds. At first glance, that may seem not to be the proper type of arrangement to make but if you will recall there are a number of people in the state of Pennsylvania who are eligible to receive not only the blind pension but many others who are eligible to receive Mothers' Assistance funds and are not getting those funds, because their names have not been reached on the waiting list. Today there are a number of blind who unfortunately have not received any moneys at all, and those blind people will never receive their money until another blind person ahead of them on the list dies, so that one from the waiting list can be moved upward. This bill carries with it sufficient safeguard to prevent any impostor from taking advantage of the pension arrangement herein set forth.

Under the Constitutional amendment, which is now a part of our Constitution, the blind have been guaranteed a pension. Under the present system some of the blind folks get as small an amount as four or five dollars a month. On the face of the Constitutional amendment they are supposed to be granted a pension the same as a military pension. They are now asking for what the voters and the citizens of Pennsylvania have guaranteed to them in the past.

In regard to the question of a person who has an income of twelve hundred dollars a year that person, of course, will not receive any allowance for any pension, but if their income is under twelve hundred dollars per year, they would receive an additional allowance in monthly installments large enough to bring their total income, including their blind pension up to twelve hundred dollars a year.

It is well known that a blind person who has an income of only twelve hundred dollars a year cannot support a family. I see in the hall of the House blind gentlemen who I know have families and I know that they are in need of a pension which the Constitution gives them the right to ask for.

I ask the members of the House to vote for this bill because the bill represents a lot of study and because the bill is satisfactory to all of the people who have spoken to the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities with regard to it. I ask all the members to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARKINS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, referring to page four, lines 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20, does not the gentleman think it would be better to amend the twelve hundred dollars and cut it down to six hundred dollars, so that all of the blind will be sure of something for the whole two years?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, in regard to that interrogation I would like to tell the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the various groups and the representatives who contacted the Committee felt that the sum of twelve hundred dollars would not be excessive.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman really believe that the twelve hundred dollar item would only exhaust the fund and add approximately three thousand more applicants to the roll?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I do not believe that that would add three thousand more applicants to the roll.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, how many does the gentleman believe it would add?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the total number that that item would add to the roll cannot at this time be calculated, and to ascertain it I feel that we will have to wait until this act is in operation.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask do not those applicants date their applications back for a whole year and claim for that interval of time?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not quite agree with the gentleman. I do not feel that that is so, and my answer to that question is "no."

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have just talked on the telephone with Dr. Scheehle of the Department of Welfare concerning this measure as it stands. He states that in general the bill is all right with the exception of one thing or one part, which he feels should be somewhat adjusted before the bill is passed, that is on page 8, line 23, where it states as follows: "Should the amount available for blind pensions for any biennium be not sufficient for that biennium then all the blind persons who are eligible under the provisions of this act shall receive the full amount of their pension until the funds available have become exhausted."

I feel that in view of the fact that some of those will be receiving pensions who have side income, while others will be receiving the same pension without any income; that instead of their being paid the full amount until the funds are exhausted, it would be better to have it so worded they could spread out a proportionate amount to be paid when there is a shortage occurring, and with that thought in mind, I am wondering if the gentleman from Allegheny will agree to hold that up until some adjustment can probably be made on that particular technicality.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, in regard to that, I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that this is a Senate bill, that there are numerous amendments that have been made, and that the sponsor of the bill, Senator Reed, has assured me that these amendments, if prepared in the interests of the blind, in all probability, he will be able to concur in them. If not, however, it seems likely that this bill will go to a conference committee, at which any provisions that need to be taken care of, such as the minor suggestion of Mr. Moomaw, can be inserted then. I would say that in regard to the statement made by the Secretary of Welfare, that he participated in the conference from which these amendments came, and I would say if it is to be taken care of, it should be taken care of in conference committee, which seems likely to be necessitated.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not regard this as a party measure, and I merely rise to voice my agreement with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, and I would ask the members of the House for the benefit of the blind to vote in the affirmative on this bill.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the question that was raised by Mr. Moomaw, is a rather important and serious one. I am in favor of the measure in all its respects, with the exception of the provision we find in Section 12 on page 8 as referred to by Mr. Moomaw. This is a very serious matter. Does the House want to place all the blind en masse on the pension roll and have the pensions exhausted, or the grants exhausted within one year?

The question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, as to the number of men that are immediately going on the pension roll was a rather pertinent one. In Philadelphia, for example, we have a waiting list of somewhere in the neighborhood of five hundred, and seven hundred are receiving pensions. You can appreciate immediately what will happen to the funds if used for applicants for blind pensions.

I am in favor of an increased appropriation so that every blind applicant shall receive a pension. I am even in favor of a provision as to the twelve hundred dollars but only when we have provided the necessary funds. Imagine the predicament we will be in when eleven or twelve months after the appropriation has been passed, and all the blind applicants are on the pension roll en masse, and they come clamoring here after the funds have become exhausted!

I believe that the measure is good in every respect except this one provision raised by Mr. Moomaw.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with regard to the remarks made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wasserman, I would like to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that in all likelihood the members of the House will be in special session so that there won't be any opportunity of a catastrophe occurring because of the funds becoming exhausted. In fact, I would like to also call your attention to the fact that the blind person today, to get the pension that he is entitled to under the Constitution must practically be a pauper and be indigent.

In conclusion, I would like again to ask all the members to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—6

Achterman,	Brown, J. E.,	Sproul,
Andrews,	Schwab,	Turner,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

(During the calling of the roll.)

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission of the House to vote "present" on this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be recorded as voting "present".

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parlimentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has the Chair ruled that a member cannot be recorded as "present" but not voting?

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that on a bill, a member cannot be recorded as voting "present", because the Constitution in Article III, Section 4, requires that the votes be taken by "ayes" and "nays".

The Chair will read Article III, Section 4 of the Constitution:

"Every bill shall be read at length on three different days in each House; all amendments made thereto shall be printed for the use of the members before the final vote is taken on the bill, and no bill shall become a law, unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the persons voting for and against the same be entered on the journal; and a majority of the members elected to each House be recorded thereon as voting in its favor."

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a further question of parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parlimentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, cannot a member upon request be recorded as "present" but not voting?

The SPEAKER. A member can answer "present" to his name, and he can be excused from voting by the House, but he cannot be recorded as voting "present".

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not referring to voting "present". I am referring to a formal request to be recorded as being "present" but not voting, which is entirely a different matter.

The SPEAKER. A member can answer "present", but he will not be recorded as voting "present" on the official roll call.

HOUSE BILLS GIVEN PREFERENCE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that all House bills on the third reading and final passage calendars for today and tomorrow be given preference.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2691, as follows:

Section 2408. Procedure for Erection of Buildings and Alterations or Additions to Existing Buildings.—Whenever the General Assembly shall have appropriated money to the Department of Property and Supplies, or to any administrative board or commission, for the erection of new buildings, or sewage or filtration plants, other service systems, or athletic fields, or other structures, or for alterations or additions, or repairs to existing buildings, or to such plants, systems, fields, or structures, to cost more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), the following procedure shall apply, unless the work is to be done by State employes, or by inmates or patients of a State institution or State institutions, or unless the deparment, board, or commission to which the General Assembly has appropriated money for the foregoing purposes is, by this act or by the act making the appropriation, authorized to erect, alter, or enlarge buildings independently of the Department of Property and Supplies, or under a different procedure:

(a) If the appropriation is to a department other than the Department of Property and Supplies, or to a board or commission, such department, board, or commission shall notify the Department of Property and Supplies as soon as it is ready, to have plans and specifications for the work prepared;

(b) Promptly after such notice, in such cases, or promptly after any appropriation made to it becomes available, the Department of Property and Supplies shall select an architect and, if necessary, an engineer, or both, to design the work, and prepare the specifications therefor, but, in the case of building to be done for the use of any other department, or any board or commission (unless the building is on the Capitol grounds), the selection of the architect and engineer, if any, shall be subject to approval by such department, board, or commission, and, in case of departmental administrative boards or commissions, by the departments with which such boards or commissions are respectively connected. Any architect or engineer, so selected and approved shall submit promptly the name or names of his associate architect or engineers to the Department of Property and Supplies for its approval;

(c) The Department of Property and Supplies shall enter into a contract with the architect or engineer which shall provide a date for the completion of the plans and specifications, and that the plans and specifications must meet with the approval of the department, board or commission for which the building is being erected, altered, or enlarged (unless the building is on the Capitol grounds), and, in the case of departmental administrative boards or commissions, of the departments with which such boards or commissions are respectively connected, to the extent of the type and general character of the building, the floor layouts, radiation, natural light, artificial illumination, ventilation, medical equipment or other equipment of a nature peculiar to the building for which the plans and specifications are being prepared, that the plans, drawings and specifications must be approved by the Department of Property and Supplies, that the exterior design of the building must be approved by the State Art Commission, and that the plans and specifications must be approved by the Department of Labor and Industry and the Department of Health, to the extent to which those departments, respectively, have jurisdiction to require the submission to them for approval of certain features of the buildings. Such architect or engineer in preparing plans and specifications, shall consult with the department, board, or commission for which the building is to be erected, altered or enlarged, but the Department of Property and Supplies shall insist upon the prompt completion of the plans and specifications, within the time prescribed in the architect's or engineer's contracts, unless it shall agree to an extension thereof.

Every department, board, or commission, whose approval of plans and specifications is required hereunder, shall, within twenty days after submission thereof by the architect, or engineer, approve or disapprove all sketches, drawings, specifications, and other documents, and shall inform the architect or engineer of decisions in such reasonable time as not to delay him in his work.

(d) Upon the completion of the plans and specifications, and their approval by all necessary State agencies, the Department of Property and Supplies shall invite proposals, by advertisements inserted at least three times in not less than six or more than twelve newspapers of large general circulation in different parts of the Commonwealth. The first and last publications of any such advertisement shall be at least ten days apart, and the department shall not advertise hereunder in more than three newspapers in the same county.

(e) The department may invite proposals, either for completely erecting, altering, or adding to any building, or separately for parts of the work, or both whether it shall invite proposals for part of the work and, if so, for what parts, shall rest within the sole discretion of the department.

(f) All proposals shall be accompanied by certificate or bank checks, in such amounts or percentages of the amounts of the proposals as shall be specified in the advertisement, and shall be publicly opened and tabulated at the time and place specified in the advertisement.

(g) The department shall, as soon as practicable, award the contracts to the lowest responsible qualified bidder, but it shall have the right to reject any or all bids, to waive technical defects and to accept or reject any part of any bid, if in the judgment of the department, the best interests of the Commonwealth shall require it.

(h) No proposal for any contract shall be considered unless accompanied by a certified or bank checks as prescribed by the department at the time of advertising. A bidder who shall have accompanied his proposal with a certified or bank check, as aforesaid, and to whom a contract shall have been awarded, must, within ten days after such award, substitute for said check a surety performance bond for not less than fifty per centum (50%) or more than one hundred per centum (100%) of the bid price of the work, as shall have been prescribed by the department in its invitation for proposals, and additional bond in a sum not less than fifty per centum (50%) and not more than one hundred per centum (100%) of the contract price of the work, as prescribed by the department in its invitation for proposals, conditioned that the contractor will promptly pay for all material furnished and labor supplied or performed in the prosecution of the work, whether or not the material or labor enter into and become component parts of the building. Such additional bond shall be held by the Department of Property and Supplies for the use of every party who, whether as subcontractor or otherwise, has furnished material or supplied or performed labor in the prosecution of the work, as above provided, and who has not been paid therefor; and, among other things, shall provide specifically that any such party may bring a suit thereon, in the name of the Commonwealth, for his their or its own use prosecute the same to final judgment for such sum or sums as may be justly due, and have execution thereon: Provided, however, That the Commonwealth shall not be liable for the payment of any costs or expenses of any such suit. Each surety bond, required hereunder, shall have as surety a surety company authorized to transact business in this Commonwealth, or two individual sureties approved by the Department of Justice.

(i) No contract shall be valid or effective unless a certified copy thereof, detail break-down sheet of the work, and contract price of the work involved, shall have been filed in the offices of the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, and the department, board, or commission for which the work is to be done, promptly after the execution of the contract.

(j) The enforcement of all contracts provided for by this section shall be under the control and supervision of the Department of Property and Supplies. In the event that the Department of Property and Supplies and the contractor cannot agree on any of the general conditions of the contract, and on the specifications, such disagreement shall be subject to decision by the Department of Justice, and its decision shall be final.

(k) The Department of Property and Supplies shall examine all bills on account of the contracts entered into under the provisions of this section, and, if they are correct, the department shall certify that the materials have been furnished, or that the work or labor has been performed in a workmanlike manner and in accordance with the contract, approve the bills, and issue its requisition therefor, or forward its certificate to the proper department, board, or commission, as the case may be.

(l) The Department of Property and Supplies shall have the right to engage the services of any consulting or supervising engineer or engineers, whom it may deem necessary for the proper designing of or inspection or supervision of buildings erected, altered, or enlarged by the department hereunder.

(m) Changes in the plans and specifications, or both, may be made after their approval, only with the consent of all of the departments, boards and commissions whose approval of the original plans or specifications, or both, was necessary hereunder.

(n) If the appropriation is to be a department, other than the Department of Property and Supplies, or to a board or commission, the Department of Property and Supplies shall award and enter into the contract as agent for the department, board, or commission to which the appropriation was made.
